THIS LITTLE GIRL SHOULD SEND HER NAME AT ONCE

Wrote to Santa Claus but Did Not Sign Letter, So Old Santa Does Not Know What to Do.

A little girl has written to "Santa Claus, Timmins, Ont.," as follows:— "Dear Santa Claus: Please bring me a sleeping doll. Please bring me a bag of candy."

Now, good old Santa Claus is not the least bit put out because the little girl left an "e" off her first "please." A little thing like that doesn't worry Santa any. But what does bother him is that the little girl left her name off the letter. Santa has no way of knowing just which particular little girl is anxious for those two things—a sleeping doll and a bag of candy. Santa has asked The Advance to help him out by finding the little girl who wrote the letter. If the little girl will just write to Santa Claus, care of The Porcupine Advance, giving her name and address Santa Claus will see what can be done about it. If this little girl sends her name at once, it is likely that her faith in Santa Claus will be justified.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvie Dunn, of Provost, Alberta, formerly of Schumacher, are visiting friends in the North Land during the Christmas season.

The Temiskaming Telephone Co., with headquarters at New Liskeard, has been given permission by the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board to raise its rates all over the system with the exception of Cobalt and Kirkland Lake. Application for authority to take this step was made by the company following the heavy loss sustained in the fires of Oct. 4th. The company has also asked a loan from the Government, but no definite answer has been made to this request. The new telephone rates are to be $35.00 a year for business and $20.00 a year for residence phones in the territory served by the Temiskaming Telephone Co.

DRURY DISCLAIMS ALL RESPONSIBILITY FOR FIRE

According to a despatch in the Toronto Star, one of Premier Drury's personal organs, the Premier disclaims all responsibility for the recent Temiskaming fire that devastated Haileybury and other settlements. As The Advance has pointed out before, the big problem of to-day is not so much to discover responsibility for the recent fire as to take measures to prevent any further catastrophes of this kind. In attempting to provide means and measures for future protection the Drury Government is evidently doing its level best at the present time, so the Premier and his colleagues may be allowed a little more latitude than otherwise. If the Premier will provide adequate protection for the future, The Advance, for one, will not waste much time in arguments about the past. The North Land does not live in the past. There are many, however, who would question the Premier's attitude as given in the following despatch in The Star last week:—

"Georgetown, Dec. 8.—When reviewing the record of his stewardship as member for Halton county at a large meeting here last night, Premier Drury disclaimed all governmental responsibility for the recent fire in Northern Ontario. That catastrophe was not a fire in government forests, he said. Scarcely a foot of government forest was affected. It was a settlers' fire through a country almost as cleared as Halton county. It had nothing to do with the government administration of the fire protection service."

If Premier Drury and his colleagues follow their present attitude and give the fullest possible measure of protection to the communities of the North, they will apparently have the better side of the argument in the future.

Mr. J. J. McGarry, Travelling Freight and Passenger Agent for this district for the C.P.R., was a visitor last week on business to Timmins.

RADIO, WE WILL GIVE YOU

His exact words. One of our customers came in yesterday and said. "Last evening I gave a radio concert to fifteen of my friends. I tuned in over a dozen different cities, two of which were in Georgia and Texas.

The music was so loud I just laid the phones on a chair and it was very plain all over the room. Everybody was delighted."

The above is typical of the many recommendations our wireless sets receive daily. YOU CAN DO THE SAME
