

TIMMINS WON 8-6

tried one right after which went over Corbould's head. Lafrance started up, but lost to Don, who passed to McGuire but the charmed net guardian was there with the goods again. Fournier checked Fahey and went down alone driving a hard one at Corbould which went into the net. Timmins 3. From the face-off Lafrance tried a rush, but shot wild, Reis duplicating his example immediately after. The play remained near the Falls end, Campbell showing up well, being an insistent back checker. Lafrance broke away, but did not come near the goal. Don succeeded in doing the same thing in a lone rush. Fournier came down right after with one which Corbould sat on to prevent going in. Quesnel started up and sent one in which Scully was lucky to save. McGuire started down, losing to Boueher, who passed to Quesnel, the little chap passing to Chircoski, who sent the disc home. Falls 4. Timmins went hard at it from the face-off, calling Corbould to use all the stunts of a circus acrobat to keep the score as it was. Boueher drew his second penalty at this time. Chircoski missed an open net, Fournier going down and sending Timmins' fourth tally home. When Andy Kyle dropped the disc between Cameron and Lafrance's stick Don was there to catch Cameron's shot and he tried one which Brydge spoiled. Cameron drew the first Timmins penalty at this time, for tripping Brydge, the red haired defence man following him to the cooler right after for duplicating Cameron's misdeed on Behan. The period ended with both Scully and Corbould being called on to make great saves. Timmins 4. Falls 4.

The third period was still in its infancy when Fournier drove one in past Corbould, making Timmins fifth, Boueher going down and not liking the score evened it up. Falls 5.

Right after the face off, McGuire and Behan sent a few nara ones in on Corbould, the play remaining in the Falls end until Brydge broke away only to come to grief against old Spark Plug, who passed to McGuire, who again called on Corbould to save. The play was all down near the Falls end until Boueher broke away, losing to Reis who passed to McGuire who passed to Fournier the big defence man sending one past Corbould which nearly drove a hole in the net. Timmins 6. Immediately after the face off Fournier drew his first penalty for slashing at Lafrance. McGuire shot wild at the face-off, then with Don Campbell played a two man rush which Corbould was proof against. Chircoski drew a penalty at this time for holding Behan. Boueher rushed but lost to Cameron who passed to McGuire, Corbould again saving. A Fluker-Fahey combination brought the puck in the danger zone for the Timmins team. The tri-coloured attackers tried hard to slam one in, but Scully was there, the play being stopped abruptly by the referee when he observed Chircoski giving Reis the butt end. Behan broke away at the face-off, shooting wild. Reis duplicated his efforts right after. McGuire off for tripping Fahey. The Falls were going to even it now, and Fahey, Quesnel and Brydge came down in a great combination which resulted in Fahey sending the pill home for the sixth counter. The play now developed into end-to-end rushes, the checking being close and no combination getting a start. Fournier and Reis went through on one occasion, but got nothing for their try. McGuire was closely checked, and Cameron playing the game of his life, had the Falls team on him at every move. Brydge drew a penalty for tripping Don, and for the two minutes he was off Corbould proved to the assembled fans that he was a good goaltender. Brydge signaled his return to the ice by a rush which went through, Scully stopping the hot one from his stick. The Falls forwards were doing all their shooting from outside the defence, while Timmins forwards several times during this period went through and only for the excellent work of the veteran in the nets, Art Throop's gang of hard working heroes would have been on the reverse end of a larger score than they were. Boueher drew another penalty at this time. The gong rang with Timmins on a desperate offensive. Timmins 6. Falls 6.

The overtime found the fans on their toes. The excitement in the rink was near the breaking point, and every play was eagerly watched by the rabid fans who would stay up to see a match start at 1.15 a.m., and over-time near 3.45. Cameron got away for the first shot, but Corbould saved, Brydge taking the puck, but losing to Behan who was sent to the cooler for tripping the defence man. The play was hard, both teams showing signs of the grueling battle, but both working gamely. Quesnel tried one at Scully but for the thirty minutes of overtime Jim Scully had for a motto, "His ne passeront pas." And they did not pass either. A hard one from Cameron was stopped by Corbould, who again demonstrated his skill one minute after when McGuire and Fournier sent one in. Reis drew a trip to the goal for tripping Brydge. The first ten minutes ended six all.

Once more Freddy Wolno and his gang had the rafters to lift with their energetic boosting of Timmins, and the roof creaked when the hard pressed gold miners appeared on the ice. Reis drew another penalty for tripping Fluker, the only one of this ten minutes. During this time the strain was telling. Who would last out the longest? The Timmins fans proved that the seven men who played all night against eight, were in their minds the ones to win. The checking was close during this time, and the teams went off, the score still even.

The last lap, and excitement high. Whoever lost would, have almost as much credit in losing as the winners. The break came, when big Sparky went down with Doc Behan, passing to Behan, the latter scoring. The roof lifted. Timmins 7. Boueher went off, for tripping Fournier. The play was hard. The Falls made heroic efforts to even but come to grief time and again. Fahey took an offside pass, and then tried to tell the referee that he had a better idea of the play than the gentleman with the bell. But he hadn't; he went to the cooler for his pains. While Fahey was off Reis and Fournier went down the ice, Fournier passing to Reis who put the puck where he had been trying all evening, behind Corbould. The gong rang and the greatest game in the history of North Temiskaming was over.

Timmins 8, Falls 6.

FOLEY-O'BRIEN EXAMINED BY NEW YORK INTERESTS

The workings of the Foley-O'Brien mine at South Porcupine were recently dewatered and there was a report current that the Dome was to examine the property with a view to a deal. This report, however, was denied, the statement being made that adjacent properties would receive attention from the Dome before attention would be given to one as far away from the main workings of the Dome as the Foley-O'Brien. However, there was ample reason for the de-watering of the Foley-O'Brien. Recently two mining engineers from New York representing large interests in that financial centre visited the Camp and made an examination of the Foley-O'Brien. It is understood that the report of these engineers is now being considered by the financial interests concerned.
