

"WHAT YOUR HUSBAND NEEDS"

"One night my husband came home looking so ill and worn out that I thought he would faint. I knew there had been something wrong with him for some time, but I could not get him to tell me what it was. Finally he confessed he was tired and sore all over. I made him go to bed. Next morning he insisted upon going to work although he was anything but well. I knew that his trouble was partly due to worry because for some months before he had been out of work. This put us so heavily in debt that the grocer and butcher refused to give us more credit. It was being out of work that worried my husband. He wouldn't eat because he was afraid there would not be enough food for the children. We were so poor that we had to keep the children from school because they had no clothes. I knew that if I could only get my husband strong and well again everything would be all right. He is a carpenter by trade and when in good health earns good wages and he is always sober and industrious. But I knew that it was impossible for any man to do good work when he was ill and worried. I decided to speak to our old family doctor, who had retired from practice. When I explained how we were situated he gladly offered to do all he could to help us, although he didn't like to interfere with the new doctor's practice. Finally he said, 'What your husband needs is a good tonic and I know of nothing better than Carnol.' I thought that if our old family doctor recommends Carnol it must be all right. On my way home I got a bottle and before the first bottle had been used, my husband was a changed man. After he had taken four bottles his appetite returned, he had more energy, that tired look in his eyes disappeared and what is most important his wages have been more than doubled and he is now superintendent of the wood working shop in which he formerly worked as a carpenter. Thanks to Carnol our troubles are over and we are once more a happy and contented family."

Carnol is sold by your druggist, and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money.

In the death last Thursday of Mr. Dunc. McKinnon from the prevalent fever, Cochrane suffers a great loss. He was widely known and esteemed for his high character, his agreeable manners, his public-spiritedness, and his generous support of all good sports. Scores in Timmins and other towns of the North will mourn with Cochrane in the death of this genuine good fellow. The deceased was a native of Montreal, and was only 37 years of age at the time of his death. He had conducted a men's furnishings store in Cochrane since 1915, being resident in Cochrane for five years previously. He is survived by a widow, his father and mother, and one sister and four brothers. The funeral last Saturday was with K. of C. honours.

KNOCKED OUT AND ROBBED IN DAYLIGHT IN DETROIT

Some days ago Mr. and Mrs. Derway, of Mattagami, and family, were very much worried over the announcement of the strange disappearance of Mr. Barnard Bogue, whose wife was formerly Miss Margaret Derway. Mr. Bogue had been living in Brantford, but was working in Detroit, and word from their daughter informed Mr. and Mrs. Derway that Mr. Bogue had not been seen or heard from since April 7th. As he had been expected home to Brantford, and as he was unusually regular and frequent in his letters home while he was away, much anxiety was caused by the failure to hear from him, and it was feared that serious accident must have happened to him. A friend in Detroit made very thorough inquiry, but could find no trace of him after he had drawn his pay from the firm that employed him. Inquiry at the various hospitals failed to locate the missing man. Later, however, explanation of the disappearance was given by the following despatch:

"Brantford, Ont., April 19.—Barnard Bogue, 18 Grey Street, returned home this morning after having been missing for 11 days. He disappeared in Detroit on April 7th. He stated, from his bed, that on that day he drew his pay from the American Body Company, where he was employed, about 4.30 p.m. He went to his boarding house, dressed and went out. While strolling along Gratiot Avenue some hours later, a man approached him and asked for some money. Bogue, who had a large sum on him at the time, told the man that he did not have any and, turning his back, started to walk off. He had only taken a few steps when something struck him on the back of the head and he collapsed. Some time later he regained consciousness and found that he was in the infirmary of Wayne County Jail, Detroit, where he had been taken by members of the police force, who had found him on the street. The police told him that when picked up he was suffering from a cut on the head and totally unconscious. His pockets had been gone through and nothing remained on his person that would serve to identify him. Not for some days could he tell the police and as soon as he could he left for his home."

Word received here by the family is to the effect that while Mr. Bogue is making good recovery from the injuries received, he is still confined to his home by the effects of the shock sustained, but will likely be fully recovered in the course of a few days.
