MEASLES SPREAD THROUGH DISREGARD OF THE LAW.

Rather than incur the risk of more serious consequences to the town and people, the authorities are going to make rigorous prosecution of those disregarding the rules and regulations in regard to contagious diseases. Recently there have been a large number of cases of measles in town and it is believed that the disregard of the law and in many cases the disregard of common sense and proper regard for others have been the chief factors in causing the undue spread of the disease. There have been cases of children suffering from measles but no doctor being called in attendance, the cases were not reported and there was no quarantine. The infected children as a consequence were not only endangered themselves, but they were also instrumental in spreading the disease. Further, it is understood that in some cases where quarantine was made the regulations have not been properly observed. In some cases, it is said, children were moved from quarantined places and so continued at school, thus enlarging the danger of the spread of the disease.

The law requires the services of a medical attendant for cases of measles. The law is emphatic in requiring the reporting of cases and the quarantine where the disease exists and, of course, the proper observance of any quarantine established. Because of the mild type of the disease, and because it is "only a youngster's ailment," as one man phrased it, there is perhaps a tendency to look too lightly on the spread of the measles. The fact is, however, that the situation may easily be allowed through general carelessness to become serious. Already there are a couple of deaths that may be traced at least indirectly to the spread of measles. Carefulness, regard for the law, and thought for the safety and comfort of others are things always well worth while. If people will not play the game in the matter, the law will have to protect others. The Board of Health and the Police Department do not intend to let the matter get out of hand. The regulations are to be strictly enforced. Quarantine must be observed and all the other rules and regulations obeyed. Those who offend are given due notice that rigorous prosecution is to be the rule. As the Advance suggested last week, carelessness on the part of some people has no doubt aided in the spread of the disease. The authorities do not intend to allow any to get away with any more of this carelessness or disregard for the Health laws.

MCINTYRE WINS FROM DOME AT SOUTH PORCUPINE RINK

Luck was not with the Dome team for its first game in the Mines League series last Saturday, but they had their pluck all right and pluck is better than luck. It was a bitter cold night and the match being scheduled for the open rink at South Porcupine the crowd was naturally small. However, the Dome supporters were there with bells on and cheered their team along. The Dome boys have been somewhat handicapped in the matter of practice as they have not a complete team available on the ground for regular practice, some of the players living at this end of the Camp and so all not being able to get out together. However, they have the right spirit and on Saturday night put up a good game against the speedy McIntyre team. Those who saw the McIntyre in action here last night know it is a fast aggregation. Saturday evening McIntyre won from the Dome with a final score of 7 to 2. The score at the end of the first period was 1-1, and at the end of the second, 3-2. The line-up was as follows:

Dome—Allan Pearce, goal; Bellview and Bowles, defence; Graham, Fell and McCormick, forwards; Haskie and Mason, spares.

McIntyre—W. McIntyre, goal; D. Briden, W. Briden, defence; Duval, Kelly and Parker, forwards; Jones and Snider, spares.

Referee—E. Patterson.

The next big event will be the Porcupine Poultry and Pet Stock Show at Timmins in the New Empire Theatre Basement on Wednesday and Thursday, January 16th and 17th.

PRIZES FOR BEST ESSAYS ON NORTHERN ONTARIO

Ontario Mining Association Offers Two Prizes of $75.00 Each to H. S. Students, to Increase Interest in This Land.

But "A Dome, a McIntyre or a Hollinger May be the Rewards to the Prospecting St. George," says Mr. A. F. Brigham.

In the Annual Financial Survey of The Toronto Globe on Wednesday last week there was an article of much interest from the pen of Mr. A. F. Brigham, General Manager of the Hollinger Consolidated Gold Mines, Limited. Mr. Brigham's article is as follows:

A prominent western mining man recently stated that what Canada needed was mines. This remark is equally true of Ontario and was caustically contrasted with the frequent and reckless reference to our "inexhaustible mineral resources."

The record of the nickel, silver, and gold camps should inspire a healthy confidence, but optimism in the cities will never find mines in the bush.

"Ontario has not had the constant trickle of dust and nuggets that have so effectively kept the imagination of fortune-seekers vitalized in most of the other gold fields of the world; and it must be realized that only by work and work of the most strenuous kind undertaken by men who are physically able and of such dogged and determined habit of mind that they only recognize obstacles and perils when they have been overcome. Moss and muskies, flies and mosquitoes, winter and great distances from civilization are the dragons that guard New Ontario's treasure stores, but a Dome, a McIntyre or Hollinger are the rewards to the prospecting St. George.

"From the Lake of the Woods to and into Quebec and from Hudson to the Georgian Bays, there has been no considerable section of this area that at one time or another has not been discovered, a ledge with gold, copper or silver as an earnest of the fortune that awaits the diligent seeker.

"If we consider these hints together with facts of the established camps, the application of the mathematical conceptions of probability leaves us with no other conclusions that there are many more mines, mines as great and with production possibilities equal to those already developed.

"But they can only be found by looking for them, and when found further work must be done to prove worthiness for only then will capital be confident enough to assume the risks.

It is a fact that in Canada there are many hard-headed business men who are ready to join in the adventure when they can be shown a fighting chance of profit.

Outside capital is equally discriminating and eager. Many press uterances during the year, as usual, consist of the presentation of vicariously assembled misinformation emanating from "our local correspondent," who apparently does not acknowledge the difference between exaggeration and optimism and consequently there has been numerous reports of great finds, and 1923 will soon be history without the record of any definitely important discoveries but interest is growing and 1924 may turn the trick, qu'en sache?"

Very general and sincere sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Lahti, of Dome Mines, in the death of their little daughter on Friday of last week. At the time of death the little girl was only ten years of age. Death was due to bronchial pneumonia.

PAINS ARE NOW GONE

Dreco Speedily Corrects Digestive Troubles That Were Making Life Miserable for Mr. Mould.

Mr. Alfred Mould, of 40 St. Clarins Ave., Toronto, was a victim of chronic constipation and all the distressing symptoms that follow this unhealthy condition of the bowels. Dreco, however, brought immediate relief and toned up his whole system.

"For some time," says Mr. Mould, "I suffered from gas in my stomach, which caused bloating and heartburn. My bowels were terribly constipated and I had to continually take harsh laxatives. Headaches bothered me greatly and I would get up in the mornings, tired and drowsy after a night of restless tossing about in bed. Finally, a pain developed in my right side, just over the appendix and with it came a lump. This was so distressing at times that I could hardly carry on with my work. My appetite became very poor and I could hardly eat a thing, the result that my system became greatly weakened through lack of proper nourishment.

"It was then that I heard about Dreco and decided to try it. I have only taken four bottles, but my pains have disappeared. My bowels act regularly, I have a good appetite and sleep soundly. Dreco has certainly eaten me a whole lot of good."

If you suffer from headaches, stomach pains, sluggishness and are generally out of sorts, Dreco will help you. This fine tonic and corrective relieves constipation, the prime cause of most of these troubles, and strengthens and regulates the liver, kidneys and stomach as well. Dreco is prepared from herbs, roots, bark and leaves and contains no mercury, potassium or habit forming drugs.

Dreco is being especially introduced in Timmins by F. M. Burke. It is also sold in South Porcupine by B. L. Pilsworth, and by a good druggist everywhere.

Yours truly,
B. M. NEILLY,
Sec'y. Ont. Mining Association.

FORMER SOUTH PORCUPINE YOUNG LADY WEDDED IN WEST

The following clipping from The Saskatoon Daily Star of December 26th will be of interest to many friends in this district. Some years ago the bride's family were all residents in South Porcupine. The bride was on the staff of Mr. E. G. Dickson's office for some time and was particularly popular in this district. All here who knew her will extend sincere good wishes. The Saskatoon Daily Star says:

*A very pretty wedding took place at 612 Spadina Crescent, Saskatoon on Christmas day when Mr. Arthur Beaumont, second son of the late Mr. William Beaumont of Ballinrobe, County Mayo, Ireland, was united in marriage to Miss Ida Mae Devine, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Devine of Saskatoon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. A. Donnell (formerly of Haileybury) of St. Thomas' Church.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Ambrose Devine. The attendants were Miss Elizabeth Devine, sister of the bride and Mr. Stanely Turriff of Saskatoon.

The ceremony took place in the drawing room which was prettily decorated in Christmas evergreens.

The bride wore a French gown of shell pink crepe embroidered with crystal beads and carried a large bouquet of bride roses. Pink and white carnations were strewn in her path by little Miss Evelyn Winkles, who was dressed in white georgette. The bridesmaid was dressed in jade green crepe de Chine and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations. Mrs. J. A. Donnell played the wedding march.

According to announcements received over the radio on Saturday night, the temperature at Devonport, Iowa, was twenty-two below zero there, early Saturday morning. In Timmins the thermometer registered twenty-five below the same morning.

After the ceremony the wedding

WARNING RE MEASLES

It has come to the notice of the Board of Health that there are some cases of children in town who have been suffering from Measles, but, there being no doctor in attendance, the cases have not been reported.

Also that children from quarantined houses have been allowed to attend school in some cases, the youngsters being transferred to other homes to deceive the authorities.

This lack of care, and the disregard for the law have been responsible for the spread of the disease in the town at present. In case of a child having measles, doctor should be secured at once, in the interests alike of the child and of the general public. Lack of precaution means the spread of the disease. The Health Laws require the services of a medical attendant and the reporting of all cases of measles, and notice is hereby given that all disregard of the regulations hereafter will be rigorously prosecuted.

M. GREER,
Chief of Police.

DR. H. H. MOORE, M.D.
Medical Health Officer

The next big event will be the Porcupine Poultry and Pet Stock Show at Timmins in the New Empire Theatre Basement on Wednesday and Thursday, January 16th and 17th.
