NATIONAL MINING NUMBER

THE FINANCIAL POST

This big issue, the most complete ever prepared, we believe, is being produced especially to serve those mining leaders who, from all parts of the world, will convene in London, England, this Junea

W. A. Doner, of THE FINANCIAL POST staff, is going to England to see that this issue gets to the mining men and financial men at this Convention.

THE FINANCIAL POST is sparing no effort to make this National Mining Number a complete convincing record. THE POST will spare no expense to ensure this issue getting to those for whom it will be of special value.

Some features of the National Mining issue will be:

Review of developments in the great camps.

Double page maps of the great gold fields and the silver fields. Analysis of position of the mining securities.

D. E. Cushing, mining editor of THE FINANCIAL POST if just back from an inspection of The Pas field. Now he is re-visit+ ing Northern Ontario. Mr. Cushing is arranging articles which will visualize Canada's great mineral resources to these world mining men and to the mining men and investors in Canada and, United States.

The National Mining Number of The Financial Post will bring more capital to Canada and the Porcupine.
