

WHEN BABY LEAVES TOWN

Klim, Powdered Whole Milk, effectively solves the milk supply problem. Klim is pure full cream milk with nothing but the water removed; it keeps sweet and fresh for months and mixed again with water becomes rich country milk ready for immediate use.

Ask your doctor what he thinks of Klim for baby.

The Brave Days of Old, When Rum Was a Quarter a Quart

HUDSON BAY COMPANY RECORDS SHOW PRICES IN 1830-1835. THREE POUNDS OF FLOUR FOR 25 CENTS. SUGAR TEN CENTS PER POUND. CORDUROY VESTS AND TROUSERS AT TWO DOLLARS EACH.

The North Land is usually regarded as a young country, yet its history may be traced back into the dim ages. One noted geologist recently referred to the North Land as three million years old, so "New Ontario" seems to be a misnomer. In any event "New" Ontario is as old as "Old" Ontario, from the geological standpoint. From the viewpoint of what may be termed modern history or the history of civilization (?), the North Land has the advantage of "Old" Ontario. Champlain's voyages of discovery brought him to this district, while he did not visit "Old" Ontario. The Hudson Bay Company centered on this country in the earlier days of the "Gentlemen Adventurers," while Old Ontario had to wait further years before European attention was given to its development. The North Land has a history all right, and so there is much material of interest that may be unearthed in regard to this country. As one sample of this fact, the following editorial article is reproduced from The Northern News, of Cobalt, last week. The editorial deals with some of the dealings of the Hudson Bay Co. employees were Scottish and the other fact that soap cost fifty cents per pound. An old Scot once said that there were only two things the Scottish feared—soap and water. "Seventy-five cents for two days' labour for a youth!" Good night!

The article from The Northern News is as follows:—
"Some interesting sidelights on the dealings of the Hudson Bay Company's agents with the Indians of Northern Ontario nearly a century ago are thrown by the entries in a book of records just recovered from an old desk floating in Paradise Bay, on the Ontario side of Lake Temiskaming, by Mr. A. R. Farrell, of Haileybury, who has a summer home on the shores of the lake. Part of the volume is missing, but apparently the records are those of the agent and his assistants established at a trading post on Lake Temiskaming. The records cover portions of the years 1830-1835 inclusive, and they are in a remarkable state of preservation, neither paper nor ink showing any very great effects of age.

"Most of the entries have reference to payments made in goods to Indians for the long trip to Moose Factory, and James Bay, perhaps in time the terminus of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway. The journey appears to have occupied from two to three months, and the redskins received five pounds—goods to that value, at least—for the voyage. The custom appears to have been to advance a certain quantity of supplies at the Temiskaming post, while the balance was paid over to the Indians at Moose Factory. Powder and shot, ribbons, blankets, tobacco, knives, wearing apparel, corn, flour, and an occasional purchase of rum, are the principal entries, and the values in this far-off days make interesting reading in the light of present-day prices.

"Three pounds of flour cost a quarter, which was also the price of a quart of rum, a pair of moose skin shoes and five plugs of tobacco. A supply of ammunition for the chase meant an outlay of two dollars and a half. Green and red colored cloth came high, costing a dollar and a quarter a yard, while the price of ten cents a pound for sugar will bring back memories of the war period to the present generation. The braves could deck themselves out in corduroy trousers for two dollars and could add a vest for a similar outlay. If they bought ribbons for the squaws at home they were called upon to expend twelve cents a yard for this article of adornment. Three point blankets cost two dollars and a half. A man's calico shirt was valued at a dollar and a half and a scalping knife could be secured for twelve cents. Soap cost fifty cents a pound. One ivory comb was priced at a quarter, and the price for fine blue cloth was two dollars a yard. A bag of corn was entered at about four dollars. For two days' labor a youth was credited with seventy-five cents.
"The entries are all in shillings, and, for purposes of comparison, the prices have been calculated at approximately twenty-five cents to the shilling."

ADVANTAGES OF HAILEYBURY AS BASE FOR AIR SERVICE

"Arrangements have been practically completed for the establishment of a base at Haileybury for the machines of the Laurentide Air Service, operating between the Ronyn goldfields and outside points," says the Haileyburian last week. Continuing a review of the matter The Haileyburian says:—

"For some time it has been evident that to properly take care of the traffic to and from the new camp, a more suitable base than Angliers should be provided for the airplanes. As a large majority of the passengers who take this method of making a quick trip to or from their mining properties find Haileybury the most convenient starting point, and much of the freight handled originates from points in Ontario, it has been decided that the base will be established here. At no point on Lake Temiskaming or any other lake in the immediate district is there to be found such a suitable location for the purpose. There is ample water space for the machines to alight and take off and the wharfage facilities are of the best. All these points have been taken into consideration by the company. It is proposed to build a landing stage to make it more convenient for handling passengers, and the company will be given the use of the winter market for an office. Mr. Wilshire, managing director of the Laurentide Air Service was in Haileybury this week and met members of the town council and the board of trade, with the result that a decision was arrived at to establish the base here.

An army surgeon was examining a cow-puncher recruit.
"Ever had any accidents?"
"No."
"What's that bandage on your hand?"
"Rattlesnake bite."
"Don't you call that an accident?"
"Naw; the dam' thing did it on purpose."

- this much solid rock

ACTUAL THICKNESS

SOLID Gypsum Rock in sheets 3-8 inch thick and in the same convenient lengths of ordinary wallboard—that's what "Gyproc" is. Think of the extraordinary advantages Gyproc wallboard has over other wallboards—its wonderful fireproof qualities; its perfect insulating properties; the convenience of application; its low cost.

Is it any wonder that so many people are using it now instead of flimsy inflammable paper or fibre boards? Gyproc Wallboard will not shrink, crack, warp or burn. It can be cut, sawed and applied just the same as ordinary wallboard and costs no more. Just the material for new work, remodeling or repair work. Write for Gyproc booklet and sample of Gyproc Fireproof Wallboard.
