IMPRESS THE DANGER OF RUNNING AFTER CARS

A rider urging school teachers to impress upon their pupils the danger of running after trucks was added to the verdict of "accidental death" returned at Cobalt last week by Coroner Dr. Mitchell's jury enquiring into the fatality near St. Hilariion's Separate School when Yvette Allaire, six years of age, was killed under the wheels of a truck driven by G. Blais. No blame was attached to any person by the jury.

CLAIMS WRONGFUL SEARCH
ISSUES WRIT FOR $10,000

Charging trespassing, Elias Haggan, of Sudbury, has issued a writ against George Stephenson, trustee, and Robert Home, his clerk, both of Toronto, for $10,000. The case will come before the Supreme Court at the next session. Haggan charges that Stephenson and Home, with two constables, searched his place of business and his home in search of goods alleged to have been stolen from a bankrupt Toronto firm. Haggan alleges that although the defendants held a search warrant for his place of business that no warrant was held to search his home, according to The Sudbury Star last week.

HOW TO CARVE THE CHRISTMAS TURKEY

The turkey is placed with the head toward the carver's left hand. He thrusts his fork firmly into the breast bone and with a circular cut around the joint, between the thigh and the body, cuts off the drumstick and thigh or second joint, together. He presses back the leg with a twist of the blade, then severs the thigh bone from the back.

Again making a wide, but not deep, cut around the wing to give it a good shape, he cuts it off and severs it cleanly at the joint.

His fork unchanged, he begins to slice the breast thinly, lengthwise, from the cut made when the wing was removed; if the breast is stuffed, the slices will each show a portion of stuffing.

The leg and second joint are now separated, and as they are probably large, the dark meat is cut from them in neat pieces. The wing is divided into two parts. If there is stuffing in the body cavity a little will be served with each portion.

With one side of the bird completely carved, father will probably begin to serve it.

When the rest is carved, the "fliers" are pried loose with the knife, then cut off; then the breast bone is cut off; the back is turned over, cut-side down, the knife pressed firmly across its centre, the neck raised with the fork, when the back should break easily in two. The side bones, with their delicate morsels of dark meat, are then cut from the back bone which is held upright, tail-end down, with the fork.

Put your soul into your work, not your hand or your foot.

NORTH LAND GRAIN MAKES SUPERIOR SEED GRAIN

Northern Exhibitors at Ottawa Winter Fair, Win Prize Money Instead of Grain, Returned.

The contention that the North Land has a particularly promising future for grain-growing, because of the special adaptability of the country and climate for this branch of agriculture, is again given support by the exhibits at the Ottawa Winter Fair. All interested in the progress of agriculture in the North will read with special interest the following article in the last issue of The New Liskeard Speaker:—

"Although we have not received full particulars of the success of Temiskaming exhibitors at the Ottawa Winter Fair, we know that Mr. A. J. Kennedy's 'Glenarry Stock Farm,' won fourth prize in oats.

"Mr. Charles Thomas, of Milberta, did wonderfully well. In Registered Wheat he won First and also took the Championship prize. In wheat of any other kind, he won second, in Peas second, and in Oats, twelfth.

"Instead of sending Mr. Kennedy's two bushels of oats back, Mr. Raynor sent him two dollars. The oats were wanted for seed.

"It is well-known, often been said by us, and recently again said by a prominent American in Toronto, that the further north grain or fruit could be successfully grown, the better the quality, and the better was the grain for seed. We still have strong hopes that the efforts of a few farmers to grow registered seed will meet with success. Of this we shall have a better idea after the second judging of the wheat grown this year has taken place, so we shall have to wait for the outcome.

"Mr. John Gray sent oats to the Ottawa Fair, but, unfortunately did not send the full quantity, and hence could not receive any award.

"Mr. McCoy, of the Dominion Government Seeds Branch, who judged the standing wheat entered in the Combined competition in spring wheat last summer, came here last week, and took back to Ottawa samples of the grain owned by those who are in the competition. The final judging will not take place until next month."

FUNERAL OF THE LATE WM.
CORNTHWAITE, OF SUDBURY.

Capt. Cornthwaite, S.A., returned last week to his duties in Timmins after being in Sudbury for some days, called there by the death of his brother, Wm. Cornthwaite. In reference to the funeral of the late Wm. Cornthwaite, The Sudbury Star, last week said:—

"The funeral of the late William Cornthwaite, who passed away at his home on Ethelbert St. early Saturday morning last, was held from his late residence to the Church of the Epiphany at three o'clock Monday afternoon with members of Sudbury Great War Veterans' Association attending in a body. Rev. P. F. Bull officiated. The veterans headed the funeral cortege from the club rooms at the corner of Elm and Durham Sts., leading the procession to the church and after the ceremony walked in a body to the Church of England cemetery, where the remains were laid to rest in the Veterans' Pot. Deceased was a member of the 227th battalion. With his wife and seven children, two sisters, Beatrice and Lily, in England, and three brothers, Richard of Sudbury, Thomas, in England, and John H., in Timmins, survive. The pall bearers were Messrs. J. Linklater, V. Battram, J. Ledingham, E. L. Esperance, J. H. Wills and D. S. Humphrey. Representatives of the Dominion Express Company, of which the deceased was an employee for years, who were in attendance at the obsequies, were Chief Messenger W. C. Fex of Toronto and R. S. Scott, of Sudbury. The large number of floral tributes received were: a cross from the widow and family of the deceased; a basket from the choir of the Church of the Epiphany; wreaths from the Brotherhood of Dominion Express Employees and Local No. 19; Officers and N. C. O.'s, 227th Battalion; Mr. and Mrs. R. Campbell of Toronto and Mr. and Mrs. J. Corlin of Toronto; and sprays from a son Wilfred, of Timmins; a brother Richard and family of Sudbury; brother, sister and nephew in Timmins; the G.W.V.A., Edith Cavell Lodge; Girls' Auxiliary, Church of the Epiphany; Mothers' Union, Church of the Epiphany; Ladies' Auxiliary of the G.W.V.A., Junior Orange Lodge, Mr. and Mrs. J. McKay, Mr. and Mrs. L. Bouskill, Mr. and Mrs. George Dunnean, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Gale, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Ross, Mr. and J. Tucker and Ethel, Mr. and Mrs. D. Drybrough, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Dennis, and the staff of Dennis' News Stand."
