COMMITTED FOR TRIAL ON CHARGE OF MURDER

Pete Stepaniuk Given Preliminary Hearing on Charge of Murder of Mrs. Seniuk.

At the police court here on Thursday last, Magistrate Atkinson committed Pete Stepaniuk for trial on a charge of murder in connection with the death of Mrs. Seniuk whose dead body was found near the Hollinger on Sunday, April 12th. Stepaniuk was arrested in connection with the death on the day following, and has been remanded from week to week since then. The evidence at the preliminary hearing on Thursday went to show that Stepaniuk was the last person to be seen with the woman before her dead body was found. After his arrest the accused had told different stories as to where he had been and what he had done on the day of the tragedy. A woman, who knew the dead woman well and also the accused, told the court of threats made by Stepaniuk. Under cross-examination this woman's story was somewhat shaken, but in summing up Crown Attorney J. M. Greer, of Cochrane, pointed out that sufficient evidence had been presented to warrant placing the accused on trial. The Magistrate agreed, and accordingly Stepaniuk was committed for trial before the next court of jurisdiction in such cases. Stepaniuk's trial will likely be in June. Mr. A. C. Brown defended Stepaniuk at the hearing here.

BENEFIT DANCE JUNE 1 IN MCINTYRE RECREATION HALL

Schumacher Football Club announces a Benefit Dance to be held on Monday evening, June 1st, in the McIntyre Recreation Hall. Dancing starts at 8.30 p.m. Best of music and a pleasant evening certain for all attending.

The North Bay Nugget last week says:— "License Inspector John Gagne seized a shipment of three boxes of wine at the T. & N.O. freight sheds this week. The wine, which analyses 28.62 per cent. alcohol, had been shipped from Montreal to Joe Maisier, Timmins and was labelled "medicine." The shipment will probably come up for confiscation, this afternoon."

MUSIC LOVERS DELIGHTED WITH CONCERT LAST WEEK

Event on Wednesday by Leading Artists Much Appreciated.

The concert given on Wednesday evening last in the Ukrainian Hall by a number of leading artists of Timmins proved a genuine treat for music-lovers and was thoroughly appreciated by the audience. The audience was not as large as it might have been, but it was certainly an appreciative audience, and had full warrant in the excellence of every number on the programme for the appreciation expressed. Mr. Will Richards and the other artists on the evening's programme are to be congratulated and commended on the high standard maintained throughout and in any future event by these artists a crowded house should be assured in this music-loving town.

The following was the programme as given:—

- Pianoforte solo, "Catch Me," by Miss B. Meredith, (encored).
- Solo, "Asleep Neath the Dark Blue Wave," by Mr. S. Spacey, bass. (Encored).
- Solo, "Little Brown Owl," by Mrs. U. L. Acton, soprano. (Encored).
- Solo, "Yeoman's Wedding," by Mr. Will Richards, baritone. (Encored).
- Solo, "Happy Summer Song," by Mrs. Barrett, contralto. (Encored).
- Solo, "I Search for Thee in Every Flower," by Mr. Piper, tenor. (Encored).
- Cornet Solo, "Perfect Day," by Master Carl Johns. (Encored).
- Duet, "The Spider and the Fly," by Mrs. Acton and Mr. Will Richards. (Encored).

In the second half of the programme encores had to be forgone to avoid making the programme of undue length, but the appreciation for each selection was sincere and pronounced. The second part of the programme included:—

- Pianoforte solo, "The River Idyll," by Miss B. Meredith.
- Solo, "The Valley of Laughter," by Mrs. Barrett.
- Solo, "My Dreams," by Mr. Piper.
- Solo, "Roses of Picardy," by Mrs. Acton.
- Solo, "Pals," by Mr. Will Richards.
- Cornet Solo, "Kathleen Mavourneen," by Master Carl Johns.
- Mr. Geo. Richards contributed materially to the effectiveness of the programme by his thoughtful and sympathetic work as accompanist.

Miss B. Meredith's opening number was an attractive selection, very effectively rendered, and this talented young lady won heartiest appreciation by her clever work at the piano.

Mr. Spacey, who is a pupil of Mr. Will Richards, has a bass voice of great power and range and shows much promise of developing into a singer of unusual talent and attractiveness.

Mrs. Acton, another of Mr. Richards' pupils, rendered "Little Brown Owl," with an expression and vim that won the heartiest appreciation and applause. In the duet with Mr. Richards, she was equally effective, this duet being an outstanding number on a programme where every item was good.

Mrs. Barrett's rich contralto voice, with its range and natural expressiveness, delighted all and her selections deservedly won heartiest appreciation.

Mr. Piper's rendition of "I Search For Thee in Every Flower," was another specially noteworthy number. A voice of singular charm, under perfect control, and with the most effective expression and interpretation, made this solo a particularly pleasing one to the music-lovers present. In the number responding to the insistent encore, Mr. Piper was again a winner of the heartiest appreciation.

Mr. Will Richards did credit to his undoubted ability as a vocalist by the selections given by him on Wednesday evening, just as his pupils did credit to his talent as a teacher. In both, "Yeoman's Wedding," and "Pals," Mr. Richards' full and well-trained baritone voice was heard to advantage, and the way he entered into the spirit and meaning of the selections added to the pleasure they gave.

Master Carl Johns delighted all with his talented work as a cornet soloist, his finished rendition of "Perfect Day" and "Kathleen Mavourneen" being among the special numbers on the programme.

In thanking the audience for the hearty appreciation shown the various artists, G. A. Macdonald, who occupied the chair for the evening, suggested that perhaps he might also thank the artists, on behalf of the audience, for the unusually fine programme given. The fact that this suggestion was greeted with generous rounds of spontaneous applause, evidences the appreciation felt by the music-lovers present. So general has been the approval given the concert last Wednesday evening that it is likely that the same artists will in the near future favour the music-lovers of Timmins with another concert, to be held in the Masonic Hall.

The Rt. Rev. J. G. Anderson, D.D., Bishop of Moosonee, will administer the rite of confirmation in St. Matthew's Church next Sunday at 11.00 a.m. and will also preach at the evening service on that day.
