FIRST MONTHLY MEDAL HANDICAP GOLF EVENT

A Sweepstake Will be Held at Golf Club this Week-end.

There were thirty-eight members of the Timmings Golf Club out on Saturday last to take part in the Monthly Medal Handicap. The weather was fine, a slight wind granting relief from the sweltering hot sun. A Sweepstake will be held by the Club this week-end, starting at 1.30 p.m. on Saturday. The lowest net score for eighteen holes winning the round.

The following are the scores at the first Monthly Medal Handicap of the Timmings Golf Club, played on Saturday. The gross score is given first, followed by the handicap, with the net score last.

BOY RAN OVER BY AUTO BUT ESCAPES INJURY

Sunday a lad was run over by an auto on the Mattagami bridge, but escaped with a fright and a jarring. Fortunately the car was running slowly and being carefully driven or the accident would have been a serious one. The lad evidently ran right in the path of the car and fell in front of it, the front wheels passing across his legs. The car was brought to a very quick stop and the boy taken to medical aid, but it was found that he had not suffered any particular injury.

FRIDAY EVENING LAST WAS TOO HOT FOR A RACE.

Friday evening a call was sent to the police station to the effect that there was a man acting in a suspicious manner in among the outhouses at the rear of Todd's Drug Store and the other stores in the block. It was feared that he might be planning a robbery or some other undesired affair. Constable Perrault responded to the call and found a man in a crouching position back of the laneway. The officer turned on his flashlight, and the man turned on his racing speed. The officer repeatedly called to the man to quit his racing and explain himself. Evidently the man preferred to trust his legs in preference to his head or his tongue. The officer made a good run but the suspected man had the first start. Then he got a second start when the officer after fair warning fired a shot in the air. The first shot, however, did not stop the racer. A second shot in the air may have brought the runner to his senses, or it may be that he lost his wind. At any rate he was overtaken after a couple of blocks of a run. The sweat was pouring from him and he was panting and blowing, his speed having been much in excess of his age limit. The old gentleman was escorted to the police station where he explained that he went in the lane to listen to a nearby radio concert that could be heard there. He could not give any very lucid excuse for running away when ordered to stop, further than that he was afraid and excited. Evidently any man over 45 who wants to win a race should get afraid and excited and he's likely to make a good showing. After a warning about hanging around behind stores at late night hours and a still stronger warning not to let his feet disregard the call to the ears when the law instructs him to stop, the old racer was allowed to go home.

Tact is just the art of making the other fellow feel more important than yourself.

LANCASHIRE ROSES WIN FROM TOWN B. TEAM, 4 TO 0.

The Lancashire Roses won their first match in the P.D.F.L., last Saturday by defeating the Town B. 4 to 0.

The following was the line up. Lancashires: Smith, goal; F. Jackson and Phizacklea, backs; Gaskell, Jenkins and Trenouth, half-backs; Rigby, Wright, Hodgins, R. Jackson and Huddleston, forwards.

Town B: Young, goal; Maxwell and Berry backs; Hamilton, Hackett and Smith, half-backs; Smith, Gilchrist, Hannah, McTaggart, McKay and McHugh, forwards.

At the kick-off the Town pressed and got in some dangerous plays, but could not get the leather in the net. They should have had a goal, before they had to retreat. The match had gone 20 minutes when the Roses, put up an offensive nool and got in close; Young came out and should have cleared, but the ball rolled by him into the net. The Roses kept up the pressure, and Hodgins got a goal off a combination attack. The Town again took the offensive and should have had another goal but were off their shooting. They tried again, and with nice combination, McTaggart and Hannah worked in and beat the backs and scored. The referee blew his whistle after the ball was in, for offside, and robbed the Town of a fair goal, while at the other end the Roses scored right after, while in offside position. It is hard for a referee to see everything, but he can't see what goes on around the goal while he is in midfield, which was the case in both these instances. The Town had slightly the edge of the half but could not get the ball in for a score.

The second half started fine. The Lanes were the first to press and after some play in the Town's area, K. Jackson got the leather through for the fourth goal. The Town now took up the argument and McKay got in some fine passes which were intercepted by Phizacklea; they tried the other wing, and as Hackett was about to go through an accident happened and he had to retire with a cut over his eye and a bruised shoulder, the half only 15 minutes old; five minutes after Smith had to retire with a sprained ankle; this left the Town with only nine men and they put up a fine game and kept the Lanes from scoring. Mr. Dunston, referee.
