HELPING THE SETTLERS IS HELPING THE NORTH

At the meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade last week at Englehart some of the delegates from Cobalt expressed the fear that the prestige of the association might be injured by too much attention being paid to what was termed "local" questions. The particular questions referred to were chiefly resolutions regarding needed roads for the settlers in various parts of the district. The argument advanced was that these "local" issues were questions for the local boards of trade, and not for the Associated Boards. The answer to this argument is that there are no local boards to deal with these so-called local questions. The settlers have to depend on the assistance of patriotic men of the North for anything they may secure. By the very reason of their conditions and circumstances, it is impossible for the settlers to have organizations or advocates. In most cases their need is actually so great as to preclude the possibility of any of them being able to spend the time or the money necessary to make their wants known in any effective way.

The future of the North Land as an agricultural country is not doubted by many to-day. The hope of the country for the far future rests chiefly on its agricultural possibilities. Accordingly, to help the development of agriculture here is to help the whole North. More and more the value of the settler to the country is being appreciated.

Helping the settler is not helping an individual, nor helping the whole North. Roads for the settlers can not be classed as a "local" question. Around New Liskeard, Englehart and other southern sections of the North, where there has been settlement for twenty years or more, the matter of roads may be a "local" question. But in the newer North the question of roads is far beyond mere local interest. On roads depend the success or failure of all plans for the development of the country. The question of needed roads is so broad that to-day it may be said to be the North's biggest problem. In this matter no single section can be helped without the whole North reaping advantage. To help the settlers is to help the North in the surest and most far-sighted way.

DEATH DUE TO BREAKING OF THE SAFETY RULES.

The verdict of the coroner's jury in the inquest into the death of James Harris Roberts was to the effect that the fatal accident occurred through breaking of the safety rule forbidding getting on or off cars in motion. The jury recommended more rigid enforcement of the rule.

James Harris Roberts, 20 years old, and out from Lancashire only about 9 weeks, was crushed by a car underground at the Hollinger on June 10th. His collar bone was broken and penetrated a main artery, causing death by internal hemorrhage. He had stepped from a car in motion and was struck by another car.

The funeral took place Friday afternoon and was largely attended. There was a profusion of flowers, wreaths being sent by the Lancashire Club and many friends. Service was conducted at St. Matthew's Anglican church and interment made in Timmins cemetery. The young man had made many friends during his short stay in town and his death is very deeply regretted, and sincere sympathy extended to his relatives in the Old Land.

Mr. and Mrs. Griff, Lewis left this week for Vancouver, B.C., to reside. Mr. Lewis intends to go into business with his father who lives in the far-western city.

FASHIONABLE WEDDING
HERE ON MONDAY EVENING

Popular Young Couple United in Marriage at the R. C. Church, Timmins.

The first formal wedding held in St. Anthony's R. C. Church Timmins, took place on Monday evening at eight o'clock, when two of the popular young people of Timmins—Mr. Francis Joseph Kehoe and Miss Mary Alice Ryan,—were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by Rev. Fr. C. Theriault. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion and the ceremony was most interesting and impressive. There was a very large attendance of guests and friends at the church.

The bride, who was charmingly gowned in pearl white satin, with court train, entered on the arm of Mr. H. W. Darling. The bride wore silver shoes and stockings, and carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Her wedding veil was the one worn by Mrs. H. W. Darling at her wedding, and is seventeen years old.

The bridesmaids were Miss Agnes Chesser and Miss Catherine Kehoe, sister of the groom. Miss Chesser was beautifully gowned in a pale blue chiffon taffeta. Miss Kehoe's rich and pleasing gown was of baize, with shoes and stockings to match. Mrs. Harry Darling was Matron of Honour her gown being of handsome pink silk chiffon, with hat to match. Master George Darling, dressed all in pure white, was the Page. The groomsmen were Messrs. Donald Smith and E. A. O'Callaghan.

The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome Club Bag; to the groomsmen and ushers, cuff-link sets; to the matron of honour, an ostrich plume fan; to the bridesmaids, charming perfume sets.

Among the guests from out of town were the parents of the groom, His Honour Judge Kehoe, of Sudbury, and Mrs. Kehoe; Mrs. J. J. McFadden, of Renfrew; Miss Catherine Kehoe, sister of the groom, from Ottawa.

The number and value of the wedding gifts testified to the esteem and affection in which the young couple are held by relatives, friends and acquaintances in Timmins and elsewhere. The beautiful and costly presents of silverware were particularly noteworthy, and there were cheques totalling over $900.00.

Wedding breakfast was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Darling, Wilson Avenue, there being over 50 guests present. Mr. and Mrs. Darling proved ideal host and hostess for the occasion.

The newly-wedded couple left on the early train on Tuesday morning for a honeymoon in Ottawa and other points east and south. On their return to Timmins they will take up residence on Maple Street, South.

Innumerable friends of the bride and groom, both of whom are held in the highest esteem in social and other circles, will extend the sincerest good wishes for the best that life can give.
