On Saturday of this Week. Abitibi Golf Club Also to be Visitors Here.

On Saturday afternoon the qualifying round for the Golf Club Trophy will be held at the Timmins Golf Club. The thirty-two lowest scores turned in on Saturday will be drawn for the following week, when the second round will be played. The Golf Club Trophy is for competition in match play, handicaps count.

The members of the Abitibi Golf Club, Iroquois Falls, will also pay a return visit to Timmins this week-end, in the second of the inter-club matches.

The Golf Club Trophy is the oldest of the cups for competition in the Timmins Club. Mr. R. Lily was the first winner of the trophy, this being in the summer of 1920. In 1921, Mr. V. H. Emery defeated Mr. J. W. Fogg on the eighteenth green and won the Golf Club Trophy. In 1922 Messrs. J. E. Sullivan and Geo. Lake were the contenders for its possession Mr. Sullivan winning for this season one up. In 1923 Mr. P. E. Cooper of Schumacher won from Mr. J. H. Bacon one up. Last year Dr. H. H. Moore defeated Mr. W. H. Wylie in a 36-hole competition for the possession of the Trophy, two up.

ACCIDENTS AT MINES DISCUSSED AT MEETING

Compensation and Other Questions Discussed by Ontario Mining Association.

Relative to the meeting of the Ontario Mining Association at Sudbury recently, The Sudbury Star says:—"At the annual convention of the Ontario Mining Association, held in Sudbury and the Bay of Islands on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week, the activities of the association were reviewed by J. L. Agnew, president, in his annual address. Mr. Agnew dealt particularly with the Workmen's Compensation rates, and in the discussion that followed ways and means of reducing the number of accidents were debated. Dr. C. V. Corliss stated that lessening of the toll of accidents was highly desirable, not only on account of the costs involved but also from humanitarian considerations. It is proposed to give special attention to the workmen's compensation problem during the coming year."

In reference to the discussion of accidents at the mines, The Northern Miner said:—

"The whole accident situation was reviewed and a committee appointed to consider the various suggestions and formulate a plan to reduce accidents. What was being done at various mines was recounted. Mr. John Knox told of the system just brought into force at the Hollinger of training a percentage of each crew in first aid work. Cobalt was shown to have cut down its accidents to a very low rate."

Mr. Agnew referred to awarding of the first prize of $125 in the prospectors' essay contest to K. A. MacPhayden. In the opinion of the judges, Mr. MacPhayden submitted the best report on mining property, and his contest was open to bona fide Ontario prospectors.

The following officers were elected: President; J. P. Watson. 1st vice president, A. F. Brigham. 2nd vice president, Harry Oakes. Executive, J. P. Bickell, F. L. Culver, J. Mackintosh Bell, J. Y. Murdoch.

Directors, Hugh Park, M. F. Fairlie, D. L. H. Forbes, H. P. DePencier, R. J. Ennis, F. D. Reid, J. G. Dickenson.

Members of the association enjoyed brief outing after the business sessions of the convention were concluded at Birch Island in the Bay of Islands. They were also entertained by Hon. Charles McCrea, minister of Mines for Ontario. Officials of the Algoma Eastern Railway showed the visitors the charming holiday ground in the vicinity of Manitoulin Islands. A suitable presentation was made to Mr. Agnew in recognition of the services he has rendered during the last year as president of the association.

During the meeting occasion was taken to express appreciation for the excellent services given by the Secretary, Mr. G. C. Bateman. Mr. Bateman has proven specially efficient and earnest and has given wholehearted attention, interest and ability to the work of the Secretary.

SPECIAL SERVICES HELD AT KIRKLAND LAST WEEK

The Northern News last week on its Kirkland Lake news page says:—"Mr. Hooper, a student from McMaster University, has been holding services in a tent in the School Grounds for the past week. Rev. Mr. Munroe, of Scotland has been assisting, and Miss Copp, of Timmins, has been playing the organ. The meetings have been well attended. Mr. Munroe is an accomplished cornetist."

BIG TROUT TOOK TWENTY MINUTES TO BE LANDED

Many in this Camp know Mr. Roy Douglas, of the General Electric Co., Cobalt, and so will have a double interest in the fish story with which he has recently been associated. According to this story, Roy was fishing at Temagami Lake some days ago. Still further according to the story, he caught a trout weighing 23 pounds in its stocking feet. And still further the story says that it took twenty or twenty-five minutes of clever work to land the big beauty safely.

LIVE BABY TO BE GIVEN AWAY AT SHOW NEXT WEEK

Announcement is made that during the engagement here of the Richards Company, in Mystery and Magic, at the Goldfields Theatre, week of August 3rd, a real live baby will be given away free. The baby is of good parentage, and is eleven months old, being healthy, happy and good. There is much interest in the Richards Show, which is said to be one of the most thrilling and amusing ever shown. It includes laughs, thrills, girls, music, mystery and everything. No particulars are given as to whose baby is to be given away, or on what plan, but the announcement is definitely made that there will be a prize baby given to some lucky family. This is certainly a novel sort of presentation, but, without depreciating its novelty or value, there is the temptation to remark that bringing babies to Timmins is like carrying coals to Newcastle.

KEEP CANADA'S FORESTS GREEN, URGES DEAN HOWE

Interesting and Pointed Letter on Importance of Pulp Industry.

Dr. Clifton D. Howe, Dean of the Faculty of Forestry, University of Toronto, under the heading, "Cutting Down Industries With Flame Throwers," has written a powerful appeal for the conservation of Canada's forest wealth. Dean Howe recognizes that the chief danger to the forests of the country is from fire. Building on this fact, he shows the outstanding importance of the pulp and paper industry, and urges all to thought and action to serve the industries. Dean Howe says:—

The pulp and paper company, producing 150,000 tons of paper annually distributed between five and six million dollars each year in the community in which it may be located. At least a half dozen such companies are forming new centres of industry in the more remote districts of Canada. Farming communities are growing up around them, stores and shops are established, railway traffic of all kinds is being stimulated. The people in such communities are prosperous, happy and contented. The pulp and paper companies are accomplishing more than any other agent, not even excepting mining companies, in building up and stabilizing business in the pioneering communities across the Dominion. Their failure would bring very great economic distress. Yet they will not go on, they cannot go on with their present volume of business unless their pulpwood is more effectively protected from destruction by forest fires than has been the case in the past.

A pulp and paper company, producing 150,000 tons of newsprint in a year, makes in each working day enough paper in a strip a foot wide nearly to span the world. Such a company uses around 650 cords of pulpwood every day, more than 200,000 cords in a year. I know of a company like this that has been in existence about a dozen years and, in that time, they have lost as much wood through forest fires as they have transformed into paper. Wealth-producing and wealth-destroying forces have run an equal race in that community. Do you realize what that means? It means that the life of an industry, distributing between five and six million dollars in a community each year, can be only half as long as it might have been had the destructive forest fires been kept in check. And this case is no exception. Is such a policy business-like; is it patriotic; does it represent real Canadianism?

Your reaction, my reader, to this statement is doubtless the usual one. You curse the government, especially if it is represented by a party holding political views different from your own. But only yourself is to blame. You are the one recreant to a "public duty and public trust." The government represents you and you own the pulpwood forests of the country. Keep Canada's forests green.

Two of Swastika's popular young people were united in marriage on Monday, July 20th, at Ramore, when Miss Eglantine Boivin became the bride of Mr. Robert Young. Rev. Fr. LeDuc performed the ceremony. The young couple left on the National on their honeymoon and on their return will take up their residence in Swastika.
