This Looks Like the Very Meanest Man Yet Discovered

Sold a Woman Three Gallon Cans Supposed to Contain Alcohol, and Charged $25.00 per Can. A Tin Tube Was Soldered Below the Opening at the Top of the Can and Only This Held Liquor. The Can Proper Was Filled With Water.

The meanest man yet seems to be discovered. He sold a widow woman three gallon cans supposed to contain alcohol, his price being $25.00 per can or $75.00 cash for the three. He got the cash and left. The widow started to use one can and found that she could only get a quarter of a cupful of liquor from this can. Investigation showed that though you could smell good liquor when you unscrewed the top off the can, and though you could get a little liquor from the can, things were certainly not what they seemed. The can looked like the ordinary gallon can, but it wasn't by any means. There was a closed pipe soldered on to the top below the cap, and this thin tube was filled with liquor. The rest of the can had been filled with water before the soldering of the top was completed. The cans looked like ordinary cans of alcohol and had the right weight and feel, but otherwise they were false as they make them. Not content with the big profit that would be made with selling the liquor at $25.00 per gallon, the peddler of this booze filled the cans with water, and only gave about three-quarters of a cupful of liquor in the tubes for the whole $75.00 taken. It is an evidence of the philanthropy and public spirit shown by many of the blindpiggery fraternity who pretend to be filling a public want, but who instead appear to be only desirous of filling their own pockets, and evidently prefer to use double crooked ways to that end.

The widow felt the $75.00 steal a little of too much, and so notified the police of the mean trick played upon her. She admitted that she had planned to sell the liquor in a quiet way, with the purpose of raising enough money to pay her taxes, she said. She gave a good description of the man selling the cans, even to the name by which he is known. A warrant has been issued for his arrest and he will likely face charges of obtaining money by fraud, as well as selling liquor illegally.

The tube filled with liquor in a can of water is a reversal of another blindpigger trick, this other being the filling of the can with liquor, and having a tube from the top filled with syrup or benzine or anything else, the idea being that if the police investigated the can in the usual way they will be fooled.

PRESBYTERY ORGANIZED FOR DISTRICT OF COCHRANE.

The Broke Hustler of Iroquois Falls, this week says:—

On September 9th and 10th ministers and representative laymen of the United Church of Canada working in what was formerly the Presbytery of Temiskaming of the Presbyterian Church, the District of Cochrane of the Methodist Church met at Cochrane, and formally organized themselves into what will be known hereafter as the Presbytery of Cochrane of the United Church of Canada. This Presbytery is bounded roughly by the Height of Land, James Bay, Quebec boundary and Nakina.

Rev. J. D. Parks, B.A., B.D., of Timmins, was elected chairman of the Presbytery and Rev. F. J. Vowles, B. A., of Iroquois Falls, was elected secretary.

Addresses were given by Dr. Byrnes, and Rev. F. L. Brown, Superintendents of Missions of the former Presbyterian and Methodist Churches.

Rev. J. R. Patterson, representative of the General Council, spoke on behalf of the Maintenance and Extension Fund which is intended to take the place of the former Budget and Connexional Funds of the United Churches. The Presbytery of Cochrane has set as its objective the sum of $3,000.00 towards this fund.

The following committees were appointed:—

Maintenance and Extension Fund: Rev. J. D. Parks, Rev. Douglas Davis, Rev. F. J. Vowles and Mr. W. B. Way.

Missions: Rev. F. J. Vowles, Rev. J. D. Parks, Rev. Dr. Byrnes, Rev. F. L. Brown and William Warrell.

Religious Education: Rev. F. J. Baine, Rev. J. L. Molten and Mr. M. B. Scott.

Evangelism and Social Service: Rev. Douglas Davis, Rev. C. A. Sales, Rev. C. S. Jones and Dr. R. J. Neelands.

Benevolences: Rev. A. J. Irwin, Rev. J. C. Hutton, Mr. R. W. Shaver.

Presbytery and Conference Fund: Rev. A. J. Irwin, Rev. F. J. Baine, Rev. F. J. Vowles.

Statistics: Rev. Douglas Davis and Mr. R. W. Sterns.

All the deliberations of the Presbytery were marked with brotherliness and good will. No man considered himself, but each sought the welfare of the Kingdom of God.

The delegates were entertained in a most hospitable manner by the ladies of the United Church of Cochrane.

THIRTY-TWO CASES LAST WEEK AT POLICE COURT

Ten of Them Were for Light Weight Bread. One Adjudged to This Week.

The Town Building is where they take in the dough all right! Last week about $100,000.00 was taken in by Tax Collector Maepherson in one end of the building in the front end of the week, while further back in both week and building the police court raked in all kinds of dough from light weight bread to $50.00 and costs.

There were thirty-two cases at last Thursday's court. Ten of them were charges against local bakers of selling light-weight bread. About once a year the police check up on all the bakeries with the idea of assuring full weight in bread to the public. The police had the bread seized as light weight, and nine of the accused bakeries pleaded guilty. Those that were first offenders in the law in this regard were let off with a lesser fine than those charged on previous occasion with the same offence, or those whose bread was very largely less than the legal weight. Fines of $10.00 and costs were imposed on the New Bakery Co., Tony Delmont, N. Desjardines, T. Smith, M. A. Patent, Schumacher Bakery, P. Shineoff, A. Dewiehere and A. Robitaille were each fined $20.00 and costs. Maekie's Bakery pleaded not guilty and G. Gauthier, for the defence, quoted clauses of the law to show that in this case no conviction could be entered. His points referred to the number of loaves that must be weighed separately, and the time and place required for the weighing. He quoted the sections that upheld his viewpoint and also emphasized the honesty and carefulness of his client. After hearing the evidence of Mr. Maekie in his own behalf, the Magistrate adjourned the case to this week.

A cow at large cost one citizen $4.00 and costs. Two were fined $1.00 and costs each for breach of the parking by-law. Driving without lights meant a fine of $5.00 and costs to another motorist. Going on the wrong side of the silent police resulted in a $1.00 fine with costs for still another.

The non-support case was decided by H. Richardson being required to pay $15.00 per week into court for the support of his children. He signified his willingness to support his children.

W. Leclare was assessed $50.00 and costs for illegally having liquor in a public place.

There were eleven drunks, none with outstanding features, except the features on their face. The fines were similarly featureless, being that time worn old ten and costs.

One theft case was dismissed and two others withdrawn. An assault charge was also withdrawn.

North Bay has been troubled recently by some false fire alarms being sent in. One boy this week is being prosecuted for sending in a false alarm, the idea being to stop the practice. In addition to the cost of responding to fire alarms, there is always the danger incurred to be considered. It is a very reprehensible thing to deliberately send in a false alarm. At the same time no one should take any chances in hesitating to turn in an alarm if there actually is a fire of any kind in progress.
