SCHEME TO MAKE GREAT LAKE FOR POWER PURPOSES

Plan Outlined to Associated Board of Trade at Kingston Last week

A despatch from Kingston, Ont., last week says:—An outline of his scheme for the creation of a "sixth Great Lake" in Northern Ontario, north of Lake Nipigon, by damming the Albany and Ogoki rivers, for the purpose of overcoming the situation produced by Chicago's diversion of waters of Lake Michigan, was placed before the Associated Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce of Ontario, at their annual banquet at this centre, last night, by Lorne Campbell, of Toronto.

The proposal, in brief, means the building of two dams across the Albany and Ogoki rivers to turn the waters of those two water-ways away from James and Hudson Bays and into Lake Nipigon. That would mean the creation of a sixth Great Lake in the North, twice the size of Lake Ontario, that is two hundred miles long by ninety miles wide, and in the course of that creation an area of 18,000 square miles would be submerged. As to the cost, Mr. Campbell felt that the scheme could be financed at approximately $200,000,000.

As an answer to this, there comes also a wire from B. J. MacLean, Michigan Director National Rivers and Harbours Congress, as follows:—

"Detroit, Mich., Nov. 6.—Regarding the news despatch to The Mail and Empire regarding the sixth lake proposal, in which $200,000,000 expenditure was recommended by a speaker before the Associated Boards of Trade Convention to overcome the situation produced by Chicago diversion, the situation should be stopped, not overcome. If Chicago is permitted to divert the lake waters to another watershed, why not other ports to the same extent on both sides of international line until absolute anarchy prevails and the Great Lakes cease to function as a navigation system? The United States and Canada must insist that waters flowing into the Great Lakes shall follow their natural channel to the sea."

SECOND ARMISTICE DANCE OF THE RAMBLERS' CLUB

The Ramblers' Club held their second annual Armistice Dance on Tuesday evening in the Hollinger Recreation Hall. There was a large turn-out of the members and many guests were also present.

The decorations were appropriate and beautiful, and were the subject of many compliments during the evening. The Ramblers' Orchestra furnished the best of music for the dancing and an excellent luncheon was served.

NORTH BAY HERMIT WOULD NOT STAY DEAD FIRST TIME

The following from The Pembroke Standard of recent date will remind many of the incident at South Porcupine in the early days when "Billy the Pig" was the corpse or the hero of the story. "Billy" showed a similar disinclination to remaining in his coffin after he had been placed there while suffering temporary unconsciousness due to the efficacy of distilled spirits. The Pembroke Standard says: Picturesque characters are rare enough to be noteworthy, but the more northerly parts of the Dominion have been particularly rich in unusual people.

"Until recently North Bay boasted one of the best, known locally merely as Old Rip. He lived the life of a hermit in a mountain-side shack, his past veiled in obscurity. The general impression was that the old man was slightly demented. He lived on the proceeds of odd jobs and the generosity of the townfolk in general.

"He did explain that his real name was Charlie Ford and he was said to be a relative of Bob Ford of the famous Jesse James' gang, the man who shot his leader and himself died with his boots on.

"A few years ago North Bay's Old Rip disappeared from his usual haunts and after several days had passed word came to Main street that the old hermit was lying dead in his shack. A neighbour had peeked through the window and seen the silent figure of the old man on the pallet of pine boughs he called a bed.

"The citizens decided that the town character deserved a fitting burial and arrangements were made to that end. An undertaker was despatched with a coffin to bring back the remains. A short time later the undertaker came back with his horses at the gallop.

"To the astonishment of the populace, Old Rip was seated on the coffin, waving his hat and cheering. He explained that he had not been dead—merely hibernating, and he objected strenuously to an attempt which would result in confining his future activities to the narrow walls of a casket, be it ever so ornate.

"This was some time ago. Old Rip has now died for the second time. This time it is definite and irrevocable. Old Rip is gone—R.I.P."

A new post office has been opened at MacEachern, just west of Mattice, on the C. N. R., and is being served tri-weekly Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, from and to Cochrane by the west local, trains No. 231 and 232.

SPECTACULAR SAMPLES FROM GARRISON TOWNSHIP

Ore From Grimston Property Carries High Value and Looks Good Indeed

Mr. Digby Grimston, who has been busy supervising work being carried on at his claims in Garrison Township, west of Matheson, was in town last week and brought home with him some samples of the rich ore encountered in the development work. The samples were all taken at random, and on this account were specially worthy of note.

They show heavily mineralized ore, with free gold in plenty, and assay high, the poorest of the samples running over $20.00 per ton in gold.

The vein from which these samples were taken extends apparently across the property. It is only a few inches across at surface, but rapidly widens out until a few feet down it has a width of four or five feet of heavily mineralized ore. This ore body appears to continue and widen at depth, the values being better as work proceeds. Considerable work has been done on the Garrison property this year and the more development done the better the prospects appear. One old-time prospector recently visiting Garrison Township prophesies a big future for the township as a gold producer.

VERY ATTRACTIVE WINDOW AT HOLLINGER STORES

During the past few days one of the windows in the Hollinger Stores attracted very general and very favourable attention. It was an "Armistice Window," the design being commemorative of the conclusion of the Great War. A large Union Jack covered the whole back of the window and formed a background for a very artistic design. There were poppies in artistic profusion for remembrance, and a flower-crowned pillar bed before it a well-designed inscription showing the cross and paying tribute to those who gave the last full measure of devotion to the cause of humanity and the Empire. The unaffected artistry of the design gave the window an interest and effectiveness that won very general approval.

The New Liskeard Speaker last week says:—An egg measuring 8 inches by 6½ inches and weighing one-quarter of a pound was brought us last week, which was a product of the poultry yards of Mr. A. Barstead, Earlton. It was laid by a Barred Rock hen.

MAN OVER FORTY THE MORE EFFICIENT, DEBATERS SAY

Interesting Debate at South Porcupine, Tuesday Evening This Week.

South Porcupine, Nov 11th. Speech to The Advance.

An interesting debate took place on November 10th, under the auspices of the Citizenship Committee of the Young People's Society. The subject was: Resolved, that a man over forty is more efficient than a man under forty. The affirmative was taken by Miss Snyder and Mr. Lahti, while Mr. Perry and Miss Petronella Smith upheld the negative. Some strong arguments were brought forth on each side, the affirmative declaring that experience is the key-note of efficiency and that mistakes are merely steps that should lead to greater success after on. One of the strong arguments of the negative side was that the dreams of youth form the foundations of many of our great achievements. Such people as William Pitt, Cromwell, Alexander the Great and Napoleon were quoted as those who were efficient in their youth. Gladstone, Earl Haig and others were shown to be men whose efficiency increased as they passed the forty mark. Mr. J. Fell, Sr., Mrs. W. G. Bowles and Rev. F. Bain were the judges. By a very slight margin the affirmative side was decided to be the winning one.

Sudbury's annual Poultry Show will be held on Jan. 5, 6 and 8.
