

On Earth Peace

PROSPECTS for permanent peace in Europe and throughout the world are brighter this Christmas than at any time since the year 1913—the year before the war.

The signing of the Locarno Treaties marked the dawn of a new day, so that this year the people of the Western World will celebrate Christmas with intensified joy and gratitude.

Peace and the prosperity that usually accompanies it, is likely to prevail for many years, if not for all time, and under these happy conditions we can with assurance wish our policyholders and their friends a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

FOLLOW THE ARGUMENT TO ITS LOGICAL END

A resolution stating that "Canada should refuse to accept responsibility for complications arising from the foreign policy of the United Kingdom" will be proposed in the House of Commons by J. S. Woodsworth the Labor member for Winnipeg North Centre, during the approaching session.

To any who may feel tempted to favour Mr. Woodsworth's motion the question may be addressed: "Why not a resolution stating that Ontario should refuse to accept responsibility for complications arising from the Dominion policy of the Canadian Government?"

And then why not a resolution to the effect that the North Land will not be bound by the Province of Ontario?

And then one that the Porcupine will not stand by the North Land?

And another that Timmins will not uphold the Porcupine?

And still another that John Jones or Dick Smith will refuse to abide by Timmins?

And a final one, that John Jones and Dick Smith resolve to disagree with each other and with themselves?

By all rules of logic and common sense and common decency, the people of Canada must accept the responsibilities as well as the advantages of citizenship in the Empire. The people of Canada are British citizens, just as such as the citizens of London, England, Glasgow, Scotland, or Melbourne, Australia. If they desire to remain as citizens they should be ready to accept any responsibilities incurred. Anything else is poor miserable piking, no matter how it may be glossed over with slick words or concealed beneath fantastic theories.

PLEASANT AFTERNOON AT SCHOOLS ON CLOSING DAY

Friday afternoon the schools closed for the Christmas holidays, and the afternoon was given over to parties and programmes in the various rooms of the Public Schools. At the Central School there were particularly fine programmes given in the different rooms, each room having its own party and programme. A large number of parents and others interested took opportunity of the occasion to visit the school and enjoy the pleasant time in one or other of the rooms. All the rooms were appropriately and tastefully decorated for the occasion. The children had a happy afternoon and the visitors were delighted with the event.

GOOD PROGRESS BEING MADE ON PAYMASTER MILL

Storms and Snow Caused a Little Delay, but Work Now Going on With Redoubled Vigour

In several recent issues reference has been made by The Advance to the excellent progress being made in the work of erection of the new Paymaster mill. The extent of the buildings and equipment being installed at the Paymaster is creating considerable interest. It is very apparent that the interests behind the Paymaster Mine are sure they have a big thing by the preparations being made to handle a large tonnage. The expenditures being made show the great confidence that must be left in the property. The matter has attracted more than passing interest. A writer in The Mail and Empire last week had the following comment:—

"Good progress is being made in the erection of the new mill on the Premier Paymaster property at South Porcupine. With the completion of the foundation rapid headway was being made with the frame work when a period of stormy weather put a stop to active operations. After a couple of weeks of storms and snow work was resumed with accelerated speed. The cyanide mill now has all the trusses in place and the building is completely housed in. Foundations for the rock house and the refinery are completed. General Manager Clement says that he has purchased a complete machine shop equipment, and its installation is under way in a building designed for the purpose. The new residence is well under way, roof and shingles are on, and altogether it is reported to be a very desirable type of construction. The mill will probably commence to turn about the 15th of January. Underground excellent progress is being made on the rise, which was started from the 300-foot level, the workers being now near the 200-foot level. Diamond drill holes started on the 300-foot level through the porphyry have encountered an ore body showing 119 feet of commercial ore, some of which is excellent grade. The ore body in question is under the section on the 200-foot level, where rich ore was found last fall, and indicates that this section continues downward to at least well below the 300-foot level. Some time ago a drill hole on the 100-foot level showed a long section of good values. When the raises have been cut to the surface the drift will be extended through this block, and there may be some very interesting results shown when this territory is opened up."

LAST GUEST TO CHECK OUT FROM HOTEL GOLDFIELDS

Mr. W. H. Hayden, of Buffalo, N. Y. President of the Hayden Mines, was a visitor to the Camp last week. It was a year and a half previously since Mr. Hayden was in Timmins. In the meantime he has been ill much of the time, suffering with bronchial trouble. All his many friends in the Camp will be pleased to know that he is now recovered and enjoying his usual good health.

The Hayden Mine is not operating at the present, and Mr. Hayden said that not an effort will be made to resume operations until ample finances are to hand to carry out the programme planned, which includes the building of a mill, as well as extensive development work. The work at the property in the past indicates a mining proposition of much importance, and Mr. Hayden believes that development along the proper lines will mean a big mine. Properly financed its future is assured. The finances to develop economically and along the best lines are now in sight.

Mr. Hayden left on Saturday for the South. He was the last guest to check out of the Hotel Goldfields before that hotel closed its doors as an hotel to re-open immediately for business as a location of stores, offices and apartments. Mr. Hayden was one of the first to stop at the Goldfields in the early days, when he was a frequent visitor to the Camp.

Mr. E. A. Denault, of Schumacher, left on Saturday for a month's holiday at Astorville, Ont., and other points south.
