At a dance at the McIntyre Recreation Hall last week a young lady attending the event took the wrong pair of overshoes and would like to get her own overshoes. PROVINCIAL HOUSE TO MEET ON FEBRUARY 10th

Announcement has been made from Toronto by Premier G. Howard Ferguson that the Provincial Legislature will hold its next session, commencing on Wednesday, Feb. 10th. For this new session this riding of Cochrane will have no representative, the member having resigned to contest a Dominion seat in the recent election, and the Conservative candidate having been elected as Dominion member for this riding.

UNUSUAL RESOLUTION PASSED BY BAY COUNCIL

At the last meeting of the North Bay Council a most unusual resolution was passed. Probably no other such resolution will be found on the regular council minutes of any other municipal body in the North Land. As the meeting was about ready to close Alderman Morland submitted the following resolution, which was seconded by Alderman Wallace, "Whereas Alderman Morland was the only one of this year's aldermen who was not defeated or elected at the polls, therefore be it resolved that Alderman Morland, upon the conclusion of the council meeting buy a midnight supper for all the members of the council and the city officials." Needless to say the resolution carried unanimously.

NORTHERN CANADA POWER TO TAKE GREAT NORTHERN

Despatches published in the daily newspapers during the past week say that Northern Canada Power is expected to complete its final conquest of the power situation in Northern Ontario when early in the coming year the assets of the Great Northern Power Company will be merged with those of the Northern Canada. The Great Northern Company has been in bankruptcy for some time and the announcement has just been made from Montreal to the effect that tenders are invited for the assets of the company, said tenders to be received by the Montreal Trust Company up to January 14. It is almost inevitable that the assets of the two companies will be merged under the Northern Canada Power Company, as Nesbitt Thompson of Montreal hold the control of both companies and will probably be the sole bidders for the Great Northern assets. Among the assets of the Great Northern Company are included leases from the Ontario government, plant, poles and a transmission line passing through the township of Kimberly, Powell, Baden, McNeil, Fasken, Langmuir, Arman, Shaw, Whitney and Tisdale to South Porcupine, a distance of 60 miles in length. Branch transmission lines run from the South Porcupine sub-station to the Coniaurum Mines and to the Porcupine Davidson Mine. An agreement was also reached in 1923 with the Night Hawk Peninsular Mine, whereby a branch transmission line was promised the latter from the main transmission line, a distance of fourteen miles. So far as affecting the mines are concerned the purchase of the Great Northern assets by the Northern Canada will merely add to the certainty of power being delivered to those mines in sufficient quantity to supply their requirements at all times.

HAS HIGH OPINION OF THE PEOPLE OF TIMMINS

Writer in The London Daily News Gives His Impressions of the Town of Timmins

Among the representatives of the British Press touring Canada some months ago, and visiting Timmins, was Mr. Hugh Martin, of The Daily News, London, England. The impressions he gathered from the visit will be of particular interest. In an article published in The Daily News he says:—
"Timmins is 'the centre of Canada's greatest gold camp'" (see handbook by the editor of the "Porcupine Advance"), and it is turning out enough gold to mint 5,000,000 sovereigns a year. Twelve years ago it was a strip of bush; to-day it has a population of 15,000.
"Timmins has—to quote the "Porcupine Advance"—again—"an up-to-date fire protection system, electric lights, duplicate high pressure waterworks system, complete sewerage and disposal plant, incinerator... good hotels, local and long distance telephone, express, four chartered banks... miles of concrete walks, a capable citizens' band, choral societies, orchestras, five churches..."
"But what appeals to me more is the population of Timmins. Perhaps you have been thinking of a gold camp as a place where the men gamble desperately, drink deeply, swear ornately, and sometimes have a little shoot-up just for fun. Maybe. All I know is that we have been entertained to dinner by three hundred of the soberest, kindest, most sentimental fellows I have ever met.
"Having put the Presbyterian parson—a strapping young man—in the chair, they rose in a body before starting the meal and saluted the Union Jack. Then they sang "God Save the King" devotionally. Then they sang grace: "Be present at our table, Lord," right down to the line "To dwell in Paradise with Thee." And the singing had a knowledge able fervour capable of bringing out all the parts in swelling harmony.
"Before each course there were songs, too, of which I liked the one best that had words something like this:
I'm on the road, on the road to anywhere,
With never a heart-ache, never a care.
Got no home, got no friends,
Grateful for everything the good Lord sends
On the road, the road to anywhere,
Where through all the wear and tear
The road to anywhere
May lead to somewhere
Some day.
"Later on we had "Two Little Girls in Blue" and were carried away three thousand miles; and back, back... how many years?
"It seems to me that Timmins is even more wonderful than its name. I shall think of it as a town where much that does not glitter is pure gold."
