DOUBLE-HEADER AGAIN IN MINES LEAGUE TO-NIGHT

South Porcupine and Schumacher, and Juniors and Canadians on Timmins Ice This Evening

There are only two more dates in the Mines League series—this evening, a double-header, and next Thursday evening a match between Schumacher and the Canadians. The series has been a very interesting one and followed by the fans with the closest attention and enthusiasm. There has been lots of good hockey and the crowds at the games have been well pleased. Many fans believe that next season, with mines league hockey being taken up at the start of the season, very good hockey and the best of sport could be expected, and eventually the mines league brand of hockey would outdistance anything in the hockey line in this district, just as it did in days gone by in the Cobalt camp.

The double-header for this (Thursday) evening at the Timmins rink, includes:—South Porcupine, vs. Schumacher; and Timmins Juniors vs. Canadians. Both games should prove lively and interesting, and well worth seeing.

TIMMINS MAN WEDDED IN COBALT SOME WEEKS AGO

The Northern News, of Cobalt, last week says:—

"A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized in St. Patrick's Church, Cobalt, on Monday, January 25th, 1926, when Annie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Yakubsky, of Barry's Bay, was married to Mr. Corneal J. Creedon, of Vancouver, B.C., formerly of Newmarket, Ont., by the Rev. Father J. R. O'Gorman. The bride, who was given away by her uncle, Mr. Nicholas Yanta, wore a gown of grey flat silk with pretty hand-painted design on the left side of the bare panel skirt, with long sleeves of grey georgette and shoes and hat to match. She carried a shower bouquet of butterfly roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Maisie Nicholas, of Creighton Mines, cousin of the bride, was gowned in pancy georgette with gold trimmings and carried a bouquet of white and pink carnations. Mr. Walter Brown assisted the groom. After the ceremony breakfast was served at the home of the bride's uncle, where a number of guests were assembled. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl ring, and to the best man a pair of gold cuff links. Mr. and Mrs. Creedon are living in Timmins."

New Liskeard has organized a Rotary Club in that town.

CONCERT BY SCHUMACHER CHORAL SOCIETY GOOD ONE

Large Crowd at Goldfields Delighted With Event on Sunday Evening Last

The sacred concert given on Sunday after the church services by the Schumacher Choral Society was an unusually attractive musical event and delighted the large crowd gathered for the occasion. Every number was appreciated, and the conductor of the choir, Mr. Geo. Hale, the members of the chorus and the various artists on the programme won the sincerest compliments on merit.

Dr. J. A. McInnis, for seven years Mayor of the Town of Timmins, occupied the chair in his usual felicitous manner. "I suppose you are surprised to see me here after seeing me burned to death at the tail of a cart the other evening," he commenced, and from this humorous opening he went on to speak seriously of the talent of the Schumacher Choral Society and the merit of the programme to be presented. What Dr. McInnis said in praise of the choir was amply justified by the work of the chorus and the outstanding excellence of the artists of the evening.

The programme given was as follows:—

Chorus, "Glorify, Magnify," by the Schumacher Choral Society, a musical group with individual talent, and a harmonious grouping of good voices, well balanced. This number and the others by the choir were well given indeed, and won hearty applause.

Contralto solo, "The Toilers," by Miss B. Mills. Miss Mills has a particularly attractive voice, gave a sympathetic interpretation of the number, and was greeted by all as a decided acquisition to the musical talent of the district.

The duet by Mrs. Todd and Mr. Pypier showed two pleasing voices, musical and harmonious, and the number was unusually well received.

The chorus, "Lead, Kindly Light," was one of the popular selections on the programme, and was effectively given.

Miss Rosina Mair's soprano solo, "Face to Face," was one of the specially pleasing numbers on an altogether excellent programme. This young lady has a very sweet voice of much promise, and her talented presentation of this solo won very sincere appreciation.

Cornet solos by Mr. J. T. Bridges were special features of the evening. On account of the length of the programme it had been decided to allow no encores, but after Mr. Bridges' first cornet solo the audience insisted on the breaking of this rule, and his second number was given with so much talent and effect that there was temptation to a double recall.

Another attractive number on the programme was the tenor solo by Mr. A. Jenkin, who was in fine voice and sang most effectively.

"Sanctus," was another well-rendered chorus by the choir.

Mrs. J. R. Todd, soprano soloist, delighted all with a pleasing number well given.

A touch of variety was added to the programme by the elocutionary work of Mrs. Geo. Hale, whose recitation held the interest of all with its human story and the skill with which that story was told.

"Shadows of the Evening Hour," was another well-presented choral number.

One of the specially outstanding numbers of the evening was the baritone solo, "The Deathless Army," by Mr. R. Smith. Here was a striking combination of a noteworthy number, a noteworthy voice and a noteworthy interpretation of the selection. The audience greeted the number with generous applause, but every bit of appreciation given was fully warranted by the fine voice, the fine selection, and the masterly presentation.

"How Sweet the Name," was a duet by Mrs. Sernon and Mr. Pypier. This was a particularly appreciated selection—on merit. Whether as soloist, or in combination with other voices, Mr. Pypier as recognized as one of the finest and most finished tenors in the North Land. Sunday evening he was up to his usual invariable high standard of musical effectiveness and expression. Mrs. Sernon's voice and musical talent also won very sincere appreciation, and this, the first Timmins audience to have the pleasure of hearing her, were delighted with her singing.

The closing number on the programme, excellent throughout, was the number by the choir, "Love's Old Sweet Song," another effectively given number by the Schumacher Choral Society's choir with its well-chosen and harmonious setting of male and female voices.

Mr. Hale, as director, and Mr. H. W. Kearney, as accompanist at the piano, deserve a large measure of commendation for the excellence and success of the evening's programme.

With the success of Sunday evening's event, it is more than likely that should the Schumacher Choral Society favour Timmins with another programme the attendance will be even larger and more interested than on last Sunday evening.

Mr. Sam J. Bain, organizer for the Loyal Order of Moose, was a visitor to the Timmins Lodge of the Order last week.

CROWDS AT FIRE SALE BLOCK THE SIDEWALKS

Unusually large crowds turned out on Saturday and this week to the big fire sale in progress at Ostrosser's store. At various times on Saturday, both day and evening, and on occasion since, the crowds were so large that they could not get into the store. As a result there was a line-up that at times blocked the sidewalks. It is proving one of the most largely-attended sales in the history of Timmins.
