PARLIAMENT LIKELY TO MEET ON DECEMBER 7th.

Parliament will probably be summoned to meet on Dec. 7th, Premier King announced last week before his departure for the Imperial Conference. The Government plans urgent matters will be disposed of within a fortnight and that parliament will adjourn for Christmas, to meet again about the end of January.
The legislation which had reached an advanced stage but could not receive royal assent owing to the sudden dissolution of parliament last July, will be reviewed.
Hon. Jas. Robb, Minister of Finance, will be acting Prime Minister in Premier King's absence overseas.
No announcement was forthcoming regarding the Lieutenant Governorship of Ontario and the notion now prevails that the appointment will not be made for some days, perhaps not until Mr. King returns from England. Rumour links the name of Sir William Mullock with the position.

She—"I don't know. She wears last year's hat, drives this year's car and lives on next year's income."

Delightful Social Night Spent by Cornish People

About One Hundred and Fifty at Social and Concert in Hollinger Hall Last Thursday Night. Programme of Much Merit Enjoyed. Officers Elected for Cornish Social Club.

There were over a hundred and fifty Cornish people present on Thursday evening last in the Hollinger Hall for the Cornish Social Night and Concert organized by Mr. A. J. Snow and others. The evening was one of the happiest possible, the programme being excellent, the sociability the best and everything and everybody all working together for a real good time. Mr. Snow and his helpers were warmly complimented for the striking success of the evening.

The beautifully decorated tables, with flowers and shining table ware and snow-white linen, presented a most attractive appearance, and the quality and quantity alike of the delectable food was evidence of the virtue of real Cornish hospitality. The Cornish coat of arms was in prominent evidence at both front and rear of the hall. The gathering was a very representative one, and all the Cornish people—men, women and children—enjoyed the very pleasant evening.

Mr. Andrews, of the Dome, presided for the evening in very able way. After the banquet so generously and pleasingly prepared by the ladies had been enjoyed there was a most attractive literary and musical programme. The pianoforte solo by Mrs. Wilkins was a musical gem and well deserved the decided recall received. Mr. Wilkins on the violin equally delighted the gathering. Mr. R. Smith's talented rendition of "The Cornish Floral Dance" was one of the outstanding numbers on the excellent programme. His fine, well-trained and cultured baritone voice was heard with similar advantage in "Friend o' Mine." A cornet solo by Master Carl Johns was another number that won unstinted applause. The fine tone and talented playing of this gifted young cornet player were a delight to all music lovers present. Mrs. Barrett's solo singing never fails to please a Timmins audience, and her selection Thursday evening were much appreciated by the Cornish people who are always lovers of the best in music, and especially of talented vocal singing like that of Mrs. Barrett. The duet (violin and piano), by Mr. and Mrs. Wilkins was another very pleasing number that won the greatest possible favour. Still another outstanding number was the solo by Mr. E. R. Street, who received and well deserved the marked encore awarded. No Cornish gathering would be really complete without a Cornish reading or two by that master in the art, Mr. P. Varkar. Thursday evening he made his unflinching hit with the crowd by his clever work in this line.

During the evening there were brief but interesting and pointed addresses by Messrs A. J. Snow, G. A. Macdonald, C. Richards, J. F. Curran, J. G. Harris, P. Varkar, and others. Mr. Snow explained that the purpose underlying the social evening and concert was to get the Cornish people together and form a club. The Caledonians, the Lancastrians and others had their societies and he could not see why the Cornish people should not organize in the same way for sociability and enjoyment. "We ought to know each other better," he said, "and the Cornish people will benefit by such a social club." He did not think it would interfere with the Cornish Football Club. The latter was for the conduct of football, and for the men, while the proposed club would be for sociability and for the ladies and all. G. A. Macdonald, who was a guest for the evening, complimented the Cornish people on the delightful evening, the very large turnout and the pleasing sociability. He suggested that it would be a fine thing if the Cornish One-and-All Football Club could be enlarged to take in this fine gathering, or the gathering enlarged to include the P.C., thus preserving the Cornish motto, "One and All."

Mr. C. Richards, president of the Cornish One-and-All Football Club, endorsed the idea of more social evenings among the Cornish people and thought a new club for social purposes could work with the Football Club. Mr. Curran urged co-operation and the holding to the motto, "One and All." He outlined the progress of the Football Club and its present high standing and he thought its social features might be extended if necessary. He thought any new club should co-operate with the established one.

After some further discussion, it was decided to form a Cornish Social Club. The election of officers was proceeded with, and the following officers were elected:—

President—P. Varkar.
Vice-President—E. R. Street.
Secretary-Treasurer—Mr. Burman.
Executive—Mrs. Burman, Mrs. W. S. Johns, Mrs. P. Varkar, Mr. Opie, Mr. Sullivan, Mr. J. G. Harris.

A hearty vote of thanks was enthusiastically passed to the promoters of the banquet for the delightful evening. Councillor J. G. Harris, of Schumacher, very aptly expressed the popular feeling in this regard. Mr. Snow made appropriate reply.

After the programme and election of officers an hour or two of dancing was enjoyed, music for this being provided by a very pleasing orchestra including:—Mrs. Wilkins, piano; Mr. Wilkins, violin; Mr. Walter Williams, cornet; and Mr. W. Allen, drums.

CANADA'S NEW GOVERNOR-GENERAL ARRIVES

1.—Crayon sketch of Viscount Willingdon drawn on board Empress of Scotland just prior to the vessel sailing for Canada.
2.—Crayon sketch of Viscountess Willingdon drawn on board the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Scotland just prior to the vessel's departure for Canada.
3.—Misty (inset) Cairn Terrier, belonging to Their Excellencies which gained instant popularity.
4.—Menu card designed for use on Empress of Scotland when she carried the Governor-General to Canada, showing on a map of the world the various positions held all over by the Empire by Viscount Willingdon.
5.—Canadian Pacific Flagship Empress of Scotland which carried Their Excellencies to Canada.

Their Excellencies Viscount and Viscountess Willingdon made many friends on their voyage from England to Quebec on board the Canadian Pacific flagship Empress of Scotland, when His Lordship came here in October to become Governor-General of the Dominion. They paid visits to all parts of the vessel chatting with new settlers for Canada and presiding at the various functions that take place aboard ship during an ocean voyage. Sharing their popularity was their Cairn Terrier, Misty, who was friends with everyone except perhaps a plump Chow who looked to him as though he might develop into a dangerous rival.
Canada's thirteenth Governor-General had a fine reception when the ship docked at Quebec. He struck a tactful note when he told his French-Canadian audience he too could claim descent from the Normans and that French blood flowed in his veins equally as in theirs. "In this country," he said, "the descendants of our two races have worked for many years under the British Crown for a common purpose and object, namely, to promote the welfare and prosperity of the people of this wonderful country."

First impressions are vital in establishing successful relations and perhaps no impression gave so cordial an effect as one of His Lordship's speeches aboard the Empress of Scotland, which was broadcast all over Canada. In it he said: "I wonder if I may venture to add one word of rather an intimate and personal character. It is this—in wishing all my fellow-passengers the best of good luck in the future and all health and happiness they can possibly expect and obtain, may I ask them one and all to give an occasional thought—a kindly thought—to one who is about to undertake very grave responsibilities for the British Empire in the great Dominion of Canada."
That is the true democratic note, sounded with modesty and feeling and sure of an unreserved response throughout the length and breadth of Canada.
