Thoughts for Christmas

If the Star of Bethlehem is in any sense a "variable," it must be in respect of growing magnitude (brightness) as the centuries grow.

The advent of the Babe of Bethlehem is at the foundation of Christmastide, hence the season is forever sanctified to childhood and its innocent pleasures. The oldest and wisest do well to inherit the children's blessing.

From that day to this a new glory has shone on all common scenes, a new dignity has been understood in all common tasks, a new joy has filled the common heart that has been opened to the Prince of Peace, the Savior of the world. —W. L. Watkinson.

The true keeping of Christmas is the realization of the great love that brought us salvation and left us the example of a divine life; that we should repeat it, with God's help, in our relations to God and to our fellowmen.—Cunningham Geikie.
