A Strange Foster-Father For Rabbits

Cats will frequently adopt motherless infants of other animal species, and this trait has led to their use by the fox farmers of Prince Edward Island for the raising of motherless fox cubs, but it is unusual for a dog to become foster-father to a family of tiny bunnies. Here is Shep, partly St. Bernard, guarding his adopted family in the farmyard of Mrs. J. A. Lines, at Dauphin, Manitoba, where a Canadian National photographer found him during a tour of the west.

Third Straight Win for Falls
In the Junior N.O.H.A. Series

Over a Thousand Fans Present. Game One of Much Interest. Special Tributes Paid to the Memory of That Prince of Good Sports, the Late James Monaghan.

The Eskimos of Iroquois Falls took their third straight game from Timmins Juniors on Tuesday night, when they defeated the local lads by a score of six to three at the local skating rink. Over one thousand fans were present for the game, about one hundred coming over from the Paper Town to see their sextette make its third win of the season.

Iroquois Falls won on the evening's play; they displayed better team work, and could combine better than the local lads; but at that they had to play hockey every minute of the evening. The locals put up a good hard brand of hockey, and might have reversed the score if they had been stronger round the goal.

C. F. Magurn, of Iroquois Falls, handled a very difficult game in a creditable manner. The play was fast, and it is impossible for a referee to get everything, but Mr. Magurn impressed the majority with his very evident fairness. He watched McBride a little closer, with the result that the husky Falls defence man had five trips to the penalty box. If the empty eight-ounce bottle thrown on the ice was intended for the referee, the poor sport who was guilty of this offence should learn something about hockey, and then sit back and recognize a referee who gave every appearance of trying to do his best.

The Timmins Juniors wore a black band on their left arms as a token of respect to the late Mr. James Monaghan, who dropped dead on Monday morning, and who has for long been prominently identified with hockey in Timmins, and was at the time of death a member of the Timmins Executive. As a further mark of the esteem in which the late Mr. Monaghan was held, the Timmins Citizens' Band immediately after the formal face-off, and just before the game started, played the opening stanza of "Abide With Me," the audience and players alike standing and baring their heads.

Timmins:—Fox, goal; McPherson and Greco, defence; Arundel, centre; Charlebois and Quinn, forwards; Delabbio and Dickson, subs.
Iroquois Falls:—Kerr, goal; McBride and Fillman, defence; Lever, centre; McLeod and McIntyre, forwards; Wilder and Kitson, sub.
Referee:—C. F. Magurn, Iroquois Falls.

Timekeepers:—I. K. Solomon, Sehunacher; Wes. Turk, Iroquois Falls.
Penalty Timer:—F. Conry, Iroquois Falls, "Pat" Patterson, Timmins.

The game started off at 8.40 p.m. with the locals on a three-man offensive, which was checked up by the Falls defence. A few minutes of end-to-end play developed, until Charlebois, Arundel and Quinn broke away and three times in succession called on Kerr to save. The three Timmins forwards went in on the Falls goalie combining nicely each time, but were unable to find the net. Lever tried a long shot for the Falls, but McPherson took the puck and gave Kerr a hot one to stop. Fillman drew a warning from the referee for what looked like a cross-check. The Eskimos forced the play, McIntyre trying a long one, Lever going in for the rebound, but could not get away. Five minutes from the face-off Arundel scored the first goal, when he shot from the corner, the puck being deflected from a player's skate into the goal. The crowd gave him a great cheer. The Eskimos came back with a vengeance, but McLeod's hard shot was beaten by Fox. McIntyre drew the first penalty of the evening when he went to the box for tripping Charlebois. Quinn, Arundel and Charlebois went in again on a three-man combination, but Kerr saved. McPherson and Greco right after went in, but again Kerr saved. Lever and McLeod transferred the play, and fool-difference, and called on Magurn to settle it. Greco and Quinn, combining nicely got the final counter for Timmins, when Quinn sent in the counter from Greco's pass. It was a fine goal, and showed good team play. McLeod was camped right in front of the Timmins net, to get a pass from mid-ice, and drew a warning from Magurn. Evidently some fan, with a poor idea of what is due a referee, who was handling a difficult game in the splendid fashion Magurn was, thought McLeod should have gone to the box, for just after, an empty eight-ounce bottle was thrown on the ice, falling near Magurn. Greco and Quinn went in to try and register again but could not get by. Quinn, Arundel and Greco again made a try, but Lever transferred the play, and had just lost the puck as the gong rang.

Previous to the face-off for the third period, Mr. G. S. Lowe, the trainer of the Timmins Junior team, asked the crowd to remember that the Timmins Club were responsible for the safety of visiting players and the referee. The crowd gave "Screeh" a cheer. McIntyre drew a penalty just after the face-off, going to the box for tripping Quinn. With the Eskimos two men shy, the locals tried hard to score, but were unable to do so. The Falls lads skated the puck behind their net, or shot it up the ice. Greco went in alone, but Kerr saved. Kerr came in for a regular bombardment, but stopped them all, using stick, hands, body and skates to keep his citadel intact. McBride went through all alone, and made it five for the Falls when the period was but four and an half minutes old. It was a nice goal. Quinn missed Kerr by inches. Lever was still showing up as a dangerous checker. McIntyre, who always carries a high stick, gave Charlebois a warning to keep his stick down, using no uncertain language, and right after slashed at "Newsy." Magurn sent the Falls wing man to the box. McLeod tried to go through, but was stopped by Greco. Fox saved a hard one from Fillman's shot. Charlebois went to the box for tripping Fillman. McBride right after made his fifth trip to the box for deliberately tripping Delabbio. There was no play in the neighbourhood at the time, and it was a rather poor display for the big Falls defence man to make of himself. Lever joined him for tripping Greco. Timmins pressed the play, going in on Kerr in a three-man combination but could not get by. Kerr displayed another remarkable exhibition of net minding when he proved himself unbeatable from a perfect rain of shots. Lever and McLeod went in on Fox but were unable to tally. Greco and McPherson tried a couple at Kerr. Lever got in on Fox, and with only the Tim-mins goalie to beat shot wide. Lever got in and scored on a lone effort when the period was eighteen minutes old. The period ended with the Eskimos playing a three-man defence. Falls 6, Timmins 3.
