COOL AND CLEVER WORK OF T. & N. O. ENGINEER

Accident Avoided on Sunday When Car Stalls on Track Before No. 47.

Passengers on No. 47 on Sunday evening were loud in their praise of Engineer Fred Kirk for quick and clever work in avoiding an accident when a car stalled across the T. & N. O. tracks at Val Gagne. Apparently the driver of the car thought he could make the crossing ahead of the train. Then he decided he had better not try. And eventually he changed his mind and started across the track. At this point the car took a hand in the game, as cars sometimes will. The car stalled right on the track. There were four or five in the car, and they decided it would be best to leave the car to its fate. The train was travelling at a good rate of speed, but Engineer Kirk was right on his job. He saw the stalled car and took no chances. He had little opportunity but his prompt decision and quick work saved the situation. He had not time enough to stop the train before it reached the crossing, but he came mighty close to do as well. He had the train so close to a stop when it reached the crossing that it simply eased the motor car off the track. No damage was done to the car and of course the occupants of the car were unharmed. All the passengers who noted the affair are agreed that it was a particularly clever piece of work. "The T. & N. O. trainmen are all good," said one passenger, who added that it was no doubt the reason why the T. & N. O. had the record of never killing a passenger and having mighty few accidents where anyone was hurt. Skilled men knowing their business and watching their business avoid the danger of serious accidents. No. 47 was in charge of Engineer Kirk and Conductor Reasor.

AMATEUR HOCKEY CARDS BEING HELD BY THE O.H.A.

Last week the O.H.A. executive met to consider a number of applications for transfers, and several cards were held up. The O.H.A. is apparently out to stop what is termed the "tourist" hockey player, that is, the player who moves from one place to another with the idea of playing hockey. From the amateur standpoint it is easy to see the evils of the "tourist" plan, and the O.H.A. will receive general commendation for any serious efforts to combat the evil. At the same time, it would not be fair nor practical to altogether prevent players from moving from one town to another. Where players move about too frequently there is naturally grounds for thinking they may be tourists. In the case of a young man who applies for a transfer and who has never previously made similar application there does not seem to be fair reason for refusal of the card. In one of the cases held up last week this seems to be the situation. The three cards held up respecting players in this part of the North are as follows:—Gordon Spence, asking transfer from South Porcupine to Peterborough, Ont.; Solomon Levine ("Porky"), from Timmins to Oshawa; Wm. Arundel, from Timmins to Oshawa.

SUBURBY WOMAN MIXED UP IN TRAGEDY AT MONTREAL

Mrs. Ida Cramuski, who is in hospital at Montreal with cuts on her face, neck and legs and who is held as a material witness in the death of John Dubliak, who was killed on Thursday last at Montreal in a St. George Street house, came here, it is believed, from Sudbury, Ont., and prior to her marriage was Ida Holden. According to a statement of neighbours she had been living with Dubliak for the past five years. In a corner of a back room, hidden under a carpet, detectives found two blood-stained claw hammers, with which it is believed the man's skull was crushed. The handles of the hammers were stained with blood. On the head of one were several strands of hair.

Fred Kistachko, who is being held as a material witness, said he was not present when Dubliak met his death, and that he arrived at the scene later. He is said to have been a roomer at the house.

Crimson spattered walls and floors showed that the fatal struggle had been waged from one room of the house to another culminating with the collapse of Dubliak in the bedroom with a crushed skull. Although the hammers were thought to have been the actual cause of death beer bottles were used, as blood-stained bottles and broken glass cuts on the body showed.

The tragedy was discovered when Ida Cramuski staggered into a grocery store near the scene and told the shopkeeper to phone the morgue as she thought John Dubliak was dead. According to the storekeeper, Dubliak had bought two bottles of beer last night and Kistachko eight.

WEDDING OF TIMMINS YOUNG MAN AT PERTH LAST WEEK

A despatch on Friday last, June 24th, from Perth, Ontario, says:— "A very pretty wedding took place here Thursday when Joseph Hefteran, of Timmins, was married to Violette Mae Steele, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Steele, of Perth, in St. Paul's United Church, at six p.m., the Rev. Arthur Wilkinson officiating, with Prof. D. A. Ainsworth at the organ. Sharp at six p.m., the bride and groom entered the church with the bridesmaid, Miss May Christie of Perth and the groomsmen, Mr. Kenneth Calder, of Toronto.

"The bride was beautifully gowned in a white taffeta dress with frilled skirt and wore a very pretty veil with a wreath of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of orchids and white peony roses. The bridesmaid was dressed in a gown of powder blue georgette and carried a bouquet of pink peony roses.

"There were a large number of people at the wedding service, as the bride was a very popular girl. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold wrist watch, to the bridesmaid a string of pearls and to the groomsmen a gold watch chain. The happy couple were the recipients of many beautiful and valuable gifts.

"The out-of-town guests included the following: Mr. Fred Steele, brother of the bride, from Clinton, Ont.; Miss M. Heddison, of Iroquois; Miss Kendall, Smiths Falls; Mrs. M. Clement, of Ottawa, and Mr. and Mrs. F. Thackaberry, Smiths Falls. After a splendid wedding supper, at the bride's home, the newly married couple left for a short honeymoon trip before returning to Timmins where they will reside. The bride's going away gown was of powder blue covered with a gray satin coat, trimmed with fur; her grey hat and shoes making a very pretty ensemble."

SUMMER PESTS ARE VERY NUMEROUS THIS SEASON

Settlers and prospectors report the black flies and mosquitoes as very numerous this year, and both especially active and vicious. Others visiting the bush this year are inclined to express their opinion of the black flies and mosquitoes by staying away from their haunts until they hear the busy buzzers are through for the season. There has been theory, more or less accepted, that when the black flies are numerous the mosquitoes are not so merry. This season shatters this theory as flat as the flat earth idea. This year both the black flies and the mosquitoes are out in armies recruited to full strength. Both are out for blood, and getting it by the pailful, from man and beast. All through the North there is the same story this year. It is one of the worst years in history so far as the black flies and mosquitoes are concerned.
