VALUABLE RESULTS FROM POTTER-DOAL GALENA FIND

Reference was made in The Advance some weeks ago to the find of galena on the Potter-Doal property in Munro township. Further work on the property is showing that at 20 feet the same unusual values are present. The find is apparently even better than at first considered. Diamond drilling is being carried on at the property which seems to be proving up as a high-grade copper area. Diamond drilling will be continued until the fall, it is understood. Considerable surface work is also being done and all with very gratifying results.

NORTH BAY CHIEF HEAD DOMINION FIRE CHIEFS

New Smoke Mask Demonstrated at Meeting of Dominion Fire Chiefs Hull Last Week

Chief George Brady, of North Bay, Ontario, was elected president of the Dominion Fire Chiefs' Association at the concluding session of the nineteenth annual convention held in Hull, Chief Brady is a former member of the Ottawa Fire Department and has successively served at Brockville, Cobalt and North Bay.

The convention of 1928 will be held at Kingston, Ontario. Chief James Armstrong of the Limestone city making a strong appeal that the old historic centre should have the honour next year.

Other officers chosen were Chiefs R. N. Harrington, McColl Refineries, Montreal, 1st vice-president; W. Phillips, Sault Ste. Marie, 2nd vice-president; James Armstrong, Kingston, secretary; R. McLeod, Port Arthur, Ont., treasurer, and W. Muir, Kingston, auditor. The directors are Chiefs Spalding of Prescott, H. Guerin, of Kitchener, and R. Day, of Pembroke. Chief Day will also be chairman of exhibits.

Chief Armstrong, of Kingston, by his re-election as secretary yesterday morning, has an unbroken chain of service in the capacity since the expansion of the provincial association into a Dominion body in 1915. Incidentally he was last year the president of the International Fire Chiefs.

Chief Alphonse Tessier, of Hull, the retiring president, was cheered to the echo when he expressed his satisfaction at the success which had attended the different meetings. He thanked all those who had co-operated and said that Hull had been happy to be honoured by the selection of that city as this year's convention centre.

Chief Tessier was elected as the association's representative at the International Fire Chiefs' convention which opens soon at Portland, Oregon. Chief Armstrong, of Kingston, and Chief R. Burnett, of Ottawa, will accompany him.

A feature Thursday morning was a special exhibition of the effectiveness of a smoke mask fed by a small tube which is connected with the hose by a special coupling and which also feeds oxygen to the wearer. This is the invention of W. J. Lalonde, of the Ottawa Department, and a demonstration was given in a small smoke-filled compartment for the chiefs. The wearer of the mask remained in the box, which was filled with smoke, and closed for a half hour at one time, and on leaving and doffing the mask was none the worse for his experiences.

FAITHFULNESS OF THE DOG SHOULD BE REMEMBERED

In these times when the dog generally is coming in for censure and abuse and there is a growing disposition to look upon dogs as mere nuisances that have little place in the scheme of things in the modern world, it is well indeed not to forget the other side of the question. The dog has been a faithful friend to man for many centuries. He has been of service in material ways as well as providing a happy, cheerful comforting type of companion. Without the services of the dog this North Land would not have achieved its present state of development at this time. The dog solved the transportation problem for every North Land centre until such time as the worth of that centre had been proved. In the days of the rush to Red Lake the dog was the only reliable means of reaching the new field. It was the same with practically every other mining camp in the North. The dog has proved his usefulness in this North Land beyond question or doubt. It does not seem altogether fair to forget all this just in a moment. The dog's loyalty and faithfulness are also worthy of grateful memory. The other day at Hamilton the body of A. G. Gardner was found on the fire escape of his apartments. The indications suggested that he had dropped dead from heart trouble and that he had been dead for several days before he was found. His faithful dog patiently guarded the body, going without food or water to be near his master. The men finding Mr. Gardner's body had considerable difficulty in driving the dog away so that the body might be prepared for burial. The dog remained faithful and true. Incidents of similar type could be given in large numbers. It is well to remember the loyalty of the dog and the usefulness of the dog when his unsuitability to certain kinds of city life are under discussion.

CHILDREN SHOULD BE WARNED AGAINST "CAPS"

For years past The Advance has been urging parents and others to warn their children against playing with percussion caps. At the same time all handling explosives have been pleaded with to be careful of the way they deal with the dangerous stuff they use and not on any account to leave explosives or caps where they may be accessible to youngsters. Despite all protests that have been made against carelessness in dealing with explosives, men will continue to thoughtlessly leave the dangerous caps where children may have access to them. It is true that youngsters occasionally will "snoop" around and just as sure as they find a percussion cap they are inclined to fool with it to see what it is and how it works. When they learn from experience, they are liable to be maimed for life or killed. Accordingly, all parents should very sternly impress upon the children the dire danger in fooling with explosives. Fortunately, few accidents in Timmins and district from children playing with percussion caps and such-like dangerous toys. But at that, there have been too many. One is too much. In the North Land there has been a regular procession of such accidents. The latest to be noted in this referred to by The Rouyn Miner last week:—

"Due to the carelessness of some workman who dropped a dynamite cap where it could be picked up by anyone, little Robert Rinkik, aged 5, is without a left hand for life. Robert picked the cap up and was playing with it about noon Tuesday, when it exploded. Ben Byck heard the explosion and put the boy in his car and rushed him to the office of Dr. T. W. Tuller. Dr. Tuller, when he saw that the fingers and thumb of the left hand were blown off, ordered Byck to hurry the baby to the hospital and then called Dr. H. Cartier in consultation. It was necessary to amputate at the wrist in order to save Robert's life. He was also seriously cut about the eyes and legs. Chief Aubin is working on the case as information has been carried to the police as to who threw away the cap and if the case is proved against the man an example will be made of him."

All parents should note this case and take the time and trouble to warn their children against the danger of playing with percussion caps. They make the poorest playthings there may be. The game of playing with them should be known as "Flirting with Death."

RIFLE ASSOCIATION TO BE FORMED AT HAILEYBURY

The matter of the formation at Haileybury of a rifle association is referred to in The Haileyburian last week. The Haileyburian says:—

"A Rifle Association in connection with the local company of the 97th Algonquin Rifles is being formed here, under the direction of Captain Millen, and the first steps were taken on Tuesday evening, when some fourteen men signed the roll. These consisted largely of the volunteers who spent the training period in camp at Owen Sound early in the month. The boys had been notified that a parade would be held that evening, but not many of them were out on account of the muddy condition of the ground. It is necessary that at least thirty men join the association at the start, in order that an instructor may be sent from headquarters. It is proposed to have the old indoor range in the arena building fixed up for practice and an outdoor range will be provided. Those wishing to enroll in the association can give their names to Mayor Hamilton at any time and as soon as the required number are signed up further steps will be taken to get the project under way."
