

Successful Harvest Home Services at Schumacher

Church Decorated with Flowers, Fruits, Sheaves of Grain, Etc. Material Arriving for New Station at Schumacher. Young Schumacher Man Kicked in Face by Restless Horse. Other Items of Interest from Schumacher.

Schumacher, Sept. 21, 1927. Special to The Advance.

The T. & N. O. Railway has decided to erect a new station to replace the one which has served the town during its growth from a hamlet to a progressive gold mining centre. The main office, waiting rooms with all modern conveniences for ladies and gentlemen, will be to the east of the present depot, while the older structure will be remodelled and converted into freight sheds, express and telegraph offices. As some of the building material has arrived, it is expected that the foundation work will begin at once.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Walker and little girl returned last Sunday to Bracebridge after a visit to Mrs. Walker's sister, Mrs. W. E. Arnott.

Mrs. A. MacDonald, Third avenue, and children, left this morning to visit at her home in New Liskeard.

Mrs. McDonald, First avenue, moved the household effects this week to Ramore where her husband has a position and where the family have now taken up residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McNamee and 'Patsy' left on Thursday for Kirkland Lake, for a visit with friends before continuing their journey to their new home in the plateau State of Arizona, U.S.A. Mr. and Mrs. McNamee have been very highly esteemed and useful citizens of our town for many years and the camp experiences a real loss in their decision to make their future home in the far West. Their many friends in the old town wish them happiness and prosperity.

Mrs. H. Leng and son, Jack, are home from a visit to Toronto and Hamilton.

Next Sunday afternoon, Rally Day services will be held in the auditorium of the United Church by the Junior and Senior Sabbath Schools. Parents and all who are interested in the young people are invited.

Mrs. Scott, of Pictou, is visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Miller, Third avenue.

Mrs. K. McLeod accompanied by daughter Katharine and Kenneth Robar left on Tuesday for Toronto and Hamilton.

Mrs. J. A. Bush returned this week after several week's visit with friends in Toronto.

While engaged at his work on the Mattagami river road early last week George Cousineau, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Cousineau, Second avenue, was severely injured by a kick in the face from a high-spirited horse. The young man received prompt medical attention and it is not likely that any prominent scar will remain to remind him of the unpleasant experience.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Green and family, of Virginia, U.S.A., are now residents of our town.

Mrs. Monaghan, Second avenue, who has been visiting friends in Toronto, returned recently.

The many friends of Mr. Gerald Williams, who was taken seriously ill while working at Cobalt, will be pleased to learn that he is out of danger and is rapidly recovering at the home of his mother, Mrs. L. Williams, Second avenue.

Mr. David Kerr, our postmaster and councillor who was a member of the "Crusading" party to the city of Toronto returned recently and reports a very cordial reception by the civic officials in Ontario's capital city.

While handling a rifle of small calibre one day last week Murillo Zuliani a youth of this town was painfully injured by the premature discharge of the weapon, the bullet passing through the hand. The injury received prompt attention and no serious results are anticipated.

Miss Vieno Niemi, who has been visiting her sister in Toronto during the past month, returned on Monday. Laurence Miller left this week to visit his father, Mr. Clyde Miller, who is employed at the mines in Cobalt.

Councillor J. E. Williams returned recently from Toronto. Mr. Williams was a Crusade representative from our town and thoroughly enjoyed the hospitality of the Southern reception committees.

Harvest Thanksgiving services were held on Sunday in the Trinity United Church and were conducted by Rev. Ivan Kennedy who preached appropriate and impressive sermons in the morning and evening. Special music by the choir and a vocal solo by Mrs. Calverley were very much appreciated by the large congregation in attendance. Beautiful flowers in profusion, with luscious fruits and sheaves of golden grain decorated the interior of the edifice and reminded the assembly of the Creator's generosity and goodness. On Monday evening the Ladies' Auxiliary provided the programme and refreshments for a social evening in the basement. Several interesting contests and games were followed by a musical programme, the special numbers being violin solos by the popular musical pastor, Rev. Baine, of South Porcupine, and vocal solos by Misses Cotcher and McLaughlan. After refreshments, Mr. A. Carveth very successfully disposed of the flower bouquets, fruits and vegetables so generously donated by kind friends in the town and community.

At Montreal this week Judge Lacroix in the Juvenile Court, addressing the parents of five boys under 14 years of age who were before him on charges of loitering on the streets at three o'clock in the morning, said: "I am going to sentence the five boys to a week in the reform school, but if I could I would sentence you, the parents. You are guilty of neglect in regard to the moral training of your children. When the boys return home do not let them out at nights. That is the cause of the appearance of so many children before me—they fall into vice loitering on the streets at night." The Judge made it very plain that parents should not only provide a home for their children, but they should also see that the children are in that home at night, not running the streets where they will see nothing of good, and do no good.

WOULD SEND PARENTS TO JAIL INSTEAD OF BOYS

"WALLY" HOLDS THE YANKEES

Wally Stewart of St. Louis Browns, one of the most effective pitchers in baseball to-day, gave the New York Yankees some real pitching in the last game, the best they could get was one run. The finest pitcher in the world cannot win a game, however, when his team does not back him up and score some runs.

MAKING LUMBER NOW FROM SAWMILL WASTE

In Cobalt there was seen the plan of utilizing improved milling and refining processes to use up what had formerly been looked upon as waste rock from the mills. The tailings were treated again and considerable silver extracted from this material that had been looked upon previously as having given up all its silver content. It appears as if a somewhat similar plan may be adopted in regard to sawmill waste. Just as it was thought certain Cobalt mines or parts of the mine had been worked out and there was nothing but waste, so now there is a chance that sawmills that have only waste material left may be still utilized to produce lumber. The use of steam to explode wood chips into fibre is the ingenious process reported by scientific journals as the basis of a new method for producing synthetic lumber from sawmill waste. The fundamental feature of this new process consists in subjecting chips of a uniform size to a steam pressure of 800 pounds for four or five seconds. Then by an instantaneous release of the pressure the chips are made to explode into millions of fibres to form boards, the exploded fibre is refined, passed over a fourdrinier similar to a paper machine and placed in a press. Almost any desired degree of hardness may be secured by simply varying the pressure.

No glue or other artificial binder is required to consolidate the fibre. The product is all wood, it has a tensile strength of from 4,000 to 5,000 pounds per square inch, it is knotless, of very light weight, and a good insulator.

The uses for which it is said to have already proved satisfactory include desk tops, card tables, radio panels, wall board, panelling and insulation. It is said to be much superior to ordinary lumber for many purposes.

With the continued research being carried on by private corporations and governments there does not seem to be any reason why the "synthetic lumber" should not prove practical and economical. With such a method in more or less general use it would add greatly to the conservation of the forest resources of the country, as well as giving increased permanence to the lumber industry. It would mean much additional economy and good business, utilizing as it does the waste material of the sawmill. The best the packing houses could do was to use everything about the pig but its squeal. The lumber business may go the limit by finding use for every atom of tree including the bark.

Anger is an explosion in the human boiler, and who ever knew an explosion to do a boiler any good?

MUSICAL PROGRAMME

TO-MORROW (FRIDAY) NIGHT

Mr. Walter Bates, Tenor and Concert Artist, to be at United Church Event

Something really fine in a musical way will be the concert programme in the United Church, Timmins, to-morrow evening, Friday, Sept. 23rd, by Mr. Walter Bates, tenor and concert artist.

Mr. Bates is an all-Canadian product, having been born and educated in Canada. He is, however, of a wide musicianship, having studied piano, organ and conducting; among his masters being George Sweet, of New York, and Oscar Goldstein, of Bayreuth Festival fame.

For some years now he has been engaged in teaching, and many of his pupils have made reputations on the operatic and concert platform. Among these was Lyle Evans, who played "Schubert" in "Blossom Time," New York production.

Mr. Bates has appeared in concert recitals from Alaska to Mexico, always with success.

Mr. Bates' voice is big and resonant, of fine dramatic quality, with a great capacity for interpretation.

Miss Bettie Cross, who acts as accompanist for Mr. Bates, is an accomplished pianiste, who plays with much artistry.

Tickets for this event are $1, and they may be secured from members of the Ladies' Aid or at the door.

BETTER ROADS THAN IN OLD ONTARIO

Better roads than Southern Ontario, is the way James Donnar, of Belleville, describes the Ferguson Highway.

Although Mr Donnar is 75 years old, he is not through with doing things. He and his son Sam left Belleville at 7 a.m. Wednesday and arrived here at 10:30 p.m. Thursday, on a visit to his daughter, Mrs. G. J. Cotton. The time should have been shorter than that, but a grip was dropped out of the car, and when it was noticed they turned back, finding it 30 miles behind. They only used 16 gallons of gasoline for the trip. Mr. Donnar says that he is coming back again next year, for the road is far better than most of the roads they have to travel over in the Belleville district.

Plenty of people have a good aim in life, but a lot of them don't pull the trigger.—Brass Tacks.
