TORONTO PROMOTER UNDER ARREST ON FRAUD CHARGE
Robert McKee, Toronto stock promoter, was arrested last week on charges of fraud in connection with some Northern Ontario lumber and pulp companies he promoted. It is alleged that he secured investments by promises of employment for the investors, and the said investors claim things proved different to represent. Among the companies promoted are: Northern Pulpwood and Lumber Co., Imperial Timber Co., Northern Products Co., and Suneta Lumber Co.

HANDSOME SHIELD GIVEN TO INTER-TOWN LEAGUE

Mr. A. W. Lang Presents Fine Trophy for Competition in Porcupine Bowling League

Mr. A. W. Lang has presented the Porcupine Bowling League (the Inter-Town League) with a handsome silver shield on an oak base, the shield being known as the Manufacturers' Life Insurance Shield. It is for competition in the 5-pin inter-town bowling league, and it will prove a very attractive trophy that will stir very general interest and competition. The inter-town, or Porcupine league, as it will now be called, is going along very smoothly. Timmins played in Schumacher last week and won the last game. This is the first point the Timmins boys have won in Schumacher, the latter appearing unbeatable on their own home alleys. The Timmins bowlers are now in hopes that with the jinx now broken they may go along and beat out Schumacher. Arnott, who, it seems, is unable to do anything wrong on the alleys, chalked up a score of 784. Cohen was high for Timmins with 673.

PROVINCE OF ONTARIO 1928 BUDGET IN BRIEF

In the Legislature last week Hon. J. D. Monteith, provincial treasurer, presented the public accounts of Ontario for the year ending Oct. 31st, 1927; also, a resume of the budget for the ensuing year. The case was covered by Hon. Mr. Monteith in his usual careful, concise but comprehensive way. Following the precedent set in recent years, Hon. Mr. Monteith has sent out to all newspapers and others interested in public way the printed book giving the accounts for the past year in the province. The following gives the highlights, as it were, of the budget:—

No changes in taxation.

A surplus of $359,000 in 1927, the first surplus in many years.

$3,000,000 paid off the public debt in pursuance of the debt retirement plan.

Highest ordinary revenue in the history of the province, $56,000,629, and increase of $5,400,000 over 1926.

First payment of debt made by Hydro, which also pays $7,848,043 to the provincial treasury in interest.

$1,300,000 paid by T. and N. O. Railway to the province in interest.

Substantial reductions in interest charges due to refunding loans and replacement at lower rates.

Assets of the province exceed liabilities by over $33,000,000.

First balanced budget since the war.

GOOD EVENT BY BIRRELL BELL'S CONCERT PARTY

Despite Stormy Weather Good Attendance at Event. An Excellent Programme.

Despite the stormy weather there was a good attendance at the concert by Birrell Bell's Symphony Orchestra in the Goldfields theatre on Sunday evening after the church services. All found the event a most enjoyable one and each number was much appreciated.

The selections by the orchestra included:—"Field of Glory"; Oriental fantasia, "Desert Caravan"; concert waltz, "Autumnal Day"; novelette, "Birdland." All these were given very effectively. "Field of Glory" was especially well received and "Ambassador" was given as an encore.

The violin solos were particularly noteworthy. Miss Poulin played "1st Air Varie," "Theme by Puccini," with good expression, the difficult passages being carried by this talented artist with ease. Her sister played the accompaniment. Willie Shub presented Michel's Hungarian classic, "Czardaz No. 2," with confidence and a fine tone worthy of note. This number merited the good reception given. Accompaniment by Mr. and Mrs. Birrell Bell and Leo Laporte. "5th Air Varie," by Leo Laporte was a difficult selection for a debut, but the violinist showed great promise, the parts being well blended and the whole number given in pleasing way. Accompaniment for this number by Mr. and Mrs. Birrell Bell and Willie Shub.

The cornet solo, "Annie Laurie," by Carl Johns, won very hearty applause, the artist playing the variations well, and the only disappointment being the failure to respond to the request for "more." Mr. James McFadden showed his special talents as an accompanist by the talented way in which he dealt with the tricky piano passages in the accompaniment.

The vocal solo, "Aloha Oe," with accompaniment by the Hawaiian orchestra, was one of the big hits of the evening. Douglas Craig was the vocal soloist, and he was very well received. The Hawaiian orchestra made its first appearance in this number, and an encore was insisted upon.

The play, "Selling the Farm," was another popular feature of the programme. The trio giving this proved to be a decided asset and there was general hope that they may remain here permanently. The number was interesting and amusing in itself and specially well done.

Mr. James McFadden, at the piano, as usual, proved himself an able accompanist, and his good work added to the success of the evening's programme.

Inquisitive Friend: "I suppose you carry a memento of some sort in that pocket of yours?"

Mrs. Metzger: "Yes, it is a lock of my husband's hair."

I. F.: "But your husband is still alive?"

Mrs. M.: "Yes, but his hair is gone."

TORONTO STAR WEEKLY HAS GREAT IMAGINATION

(From The Broke Hustler)
A man calling himself Frederick Griffin writes in the "Toronto Star Weekly" some experiences of referees and tells this about Iroquois Falls:—
"Mike Rodden gives Iroquois Falls the credit for being the most rabid town in which he ever refereed, being even worse than Springfield, Mass., or the old Mount Royal rink in Montreal.

"A couple of years ago he was refereeing in Iroquois Falls in a game of the series with the Soo. Things were wild from the start. Thousands of dollars had been bet and the crowd were even more fanatical than usual.

"The climax came when a man opened his jack knife and hauled it at Rodden. It flashed past his head and just missed Bill Phillips of the Soo, now centre player of the Montreal Maroons.

"Mike calls Bill Phillips the coolest fellow he knows. He picked up the knife and skated over to the referee.

"Mike," he said, handing it over, "I don't mind the vegetables and frozen turnips, but I object to cutlery."

"As Mike walked off the ice a wild-eyed fan stuck out a revolver, "I'm going to shoot you, you..." he said.

"All right," said the referee, "Shoot away. Don't miss." As he explains, there was no chance to duck or run away.

"The man hesitated. Then, fortunately, someone in the crowd beamed him.

"That did not end Mike's troubles that night. Into the dressing room came the town scrapper with a piece of scantling behind his back. Mike had to act fast. But he was never slow in a scrap. He knocked the visitor out for twenty minutes with a cracked jaw."

If Rodden told that to Griffin he is lying; and if Rodden did not tell that to Griffin, then Griffin is lying; that is all there is about it. It is just another of the things that the "Star" does every day, drawing on the imagination to make a story read well, without the slightest attention to fact.

The only thing that happened at all in that game was that a man told Rodden he was going to lick him, but the man had indulged so frequently in the flowing bowl that he could hardly stand up. When Mike slammed him, hard, breaking a bone, and blacking an eye, the fellows here thought it mighty poor sportsmanship for a referee to attack a man in such a condition he couldn't defend himself.

Every team coming from Toronto or outside, and every official, gets better treatment in Iroquois Falls than our teams and officials get in Toronto. It is too bad the sport writers in Toronto cannot stick to the truth, but they think Iroquois Falls is so far away that it is safe to slam them.
