BOTH LEGS BROKEN IN ACCIDENT WITH TRACTOR

Kirkland Lake Man Meets Serious Accident, but Shows Rare Courage.

To have both legs badly broken and fingers on each hand torn off was the experience last week of Ross Munro at Kirkland Lake. The injured man showed striking pluck, assisting in his own rescue and retaining consciousness until given an anaesthetic in the hospital. The story of the accident is told as follows by The Kirkland Lake Northern News:—

"Mr. Ross Munro, who had charge of the caterpillar tractor since it was purchased last fall met with an unfortunate accident on Saturday last which resulted in his breaking both legs and also losing a finger off each hand, besides getting badly bruised about the body.

"The men were occupied in moving the Bradley-Graze loader from the rock pile at the Tough-Oaks to the Kirkland Premier, where rock could be got for use on the streets at the west end of the town. The loader is one of these machines with tractor power and besides revolving buckets, can move from place to place under its own power. When the machine is being moved there is an arrangement which locks the buckets. Before starting to move the loader, the buckets were firmly locked, and with Mr. 'Slim' McCay in charge started its journey. They had hardly gone 100 yards before it was seen that they would have trouble getting under the wires across the street, and Mr. Munro was given the job of holding up the wires with the aid of a long stick. Coming down Government Road the accident happened. Mr. Munro was seated on the buckets watching the wires overhead, when without any warning the buckets started revolving and he was carried up to the top and twisted around the hopper, with his legs jammed in between the hopper and the buckets. These buckets move with rapidity, and while Mr. McCay stopped the machine promptly, he was not in time to prevent the accident, but his prompt action no doubt saved Mr. Munro from further injuries that would perhaps have proved fatal.

"According to Mr. Gordon Browne, township superintendent, the only way for the accident to happen was the pin holding the buckets coming loose, caused by the jarring the machine received coming from the rock pile. The levers that control the caterpillar and the buckets are not near each other and there was no chance of the operator working the wrong lever.

"It was perhaps five minutes before Mr. Munro could be taken out of the machine, on account of the manner in which his legs were caught. Mr. J. W. McBain, who witnessed the accident immediately telephoned for medical assistance and Drs. Armstrong and Rumble were on the scene in a few minutes. They at once had the unfortunate man taken to the hospital where his injuries were attended to.

"It speaks well for the stamina of Mr. Munro when it became known that not until he was given the anaesthetic at the hospital did he lose consciousness. In fact he himself assisted in moving his broken limbs from their position between the buckets and the hopper.

"Ross" as Mr. Munro is known, is a general favourite with all who have his acquaintance, and his friends are hoping for a recovery that will be permanent. It will be some months before he will leave the hospital according to medical reports."

Milverton (Ont.) Sun:—Canadians who forget that this Dominion supplied some of the most famous airmen of the World War should pause to remember that it was a Canadian, Colonel A. G. Barker, V.C., D.S.O., who was the pilot of the machine in which the Prince of Wales made his flight over the enemy lines during the war. That is an incident that is forgotten by most. But when thinking of a name for some airport or other aviation centre, why not Barker, Bishop or McKeever, all of whose famous exploits are history.

RICH PYRITES DEPOSITS AT BIG VERMILION LAKE

During the past few years Sioux Lookout and Hudson have become widely known as the starting points for the new gold fields in the district of Patricia. But for more than 25 years mining men have known that near Sioux Lookout there are large and rich deposits of iron pyrite. This mineral is over one-half sulphur and is used in the manufacture of sulphuric acid. The deposits in this district lie between Pelican and big Vermilion Lakes. They have a length of more than two miles and an average width of 80 feet. Before the Canadian National Railway was built, Shilton, Wallbridge and Company, of Toronto, obtained patents from the Crown for 776 acres covering the entire deposits. Later they sold 85 acres off the Vermilion Lake end to the Nichols Chemical Company, of New York. This company developed and equipped their holdings and shipped large tonnages annually until the close of the war. The industry has assumed considerable proportions in Ontario amounting to $1,000,000 annually, these mines contributing the greater part. Since the war the demand for iron pyrite has been less owing to the cheaper native sulphur deposits of Louisiana and Texas but, but these are now nearly exhausted.

The big mine at Vermilion Lake has been kept free of water, well ventilated and in shape to resume operations at any time. An aerial tram runs from the mine to the Canadian National Railway about two miles to the north.

COBALT GIRL GUIDE SAVES BOY FROM DROWNING

The story of the prompt and efficient work of a Cobalt girl in saving a boy from drowning is told by The Northern News last week as follows:—

"Presence of mind and resourcefulness on the part of Hazel Brown, a member of Mrs. H. Tomney's Girl Guides, a student at the Cobalt High School and the daughter of a citizen of Cobalt resulted, it is just becoming known, last Thursday, June 14th, in the saving of the life of Ambrose Sampson, eight year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sampson, O'Brien Mine property, when he fell into Cobalt Lake near the Right-of-Way rock pile.

"The story as it is told by the lad to his mother is that while playing on the rock pile about noon on Thursday he started to run down it and too late found that he could not stop himself, his momentum carrying him right into the lake and out of his depth. He remembers grabbing at a stick held out by somebody just as he was going under a second time and missing it but cannot recall what happened afterwards.

"Miss Hazel Brown, aged 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Brown, O'Brien property, who was passing the scene on her way back to school from dinner saw the little fellow struggling in the water and went to his assistance. Wading into the water she held a stick, which she had picked up, within his reach and the boy caught hold but almost immediately let go again. Wading in still further Miss Brown succeeded in getting hold of the little fellow and dragging him onto dry land, and he was taken as quickly as possible to his home.

"The story has only just become known as a result of a letter written by the lad's grateful mother to Mrs. Tomney asking her to convey to Hazel Brown her thanks for saving her son's life. Mrs. Sampson says in part, "I am writing to ask you if you will thank your Guide for her pluck and courage, also for standing by her pledge as a true and honest Guide. He is eight years old, and is my baby so I feel I cannot thank her enough for what she has done. I trust your work will continue to make the girls of our town fearless and truthful and honest and to continue to put others before themselves."

"The boy is still very sick from the effects of his immersion and the swallowing of the poison-impregnated water of the lake."

PROPOSED HOME FOR THE AGED IN THE NORTH LAND

Lady Minto Hospital at New Liskeard Considered as a Very Suitable Place for Such a Home

Last week The Advance had a brief reference to the report that the Northern Ontario Relief Commission was considering plans for the establishment of a home for old people in this North Land. Such a home has been badly needed in the past. The people on several occasions have been grieved at the idea of sending old people in this North Land to jail, because there was no other place to send them when they were too old to support themselves, though they were guilty of no crimes, except being poor and old. In discussing the item in The Advance, The New Liskeard Speaker last week said:—

"For fifteen years or more the matter of making provision in Temiskaming for the proper care of helpless aged persons has been discussed by leading citizens but it has ended in talk. However, since the re-organization of the Relief Commission it seems that matters are taking more definite shape. Still, up to the present the matter to which the Advance refers has not been officially considered by the Hospital Board.

"We imagine that the Lady Minto Hospital property, land and buildings, would be a very suitable place for a home for old people. Just how the institution would be financed we do not know, but there should be sufficient money coming from old age pensions to go far in helping in this respect.

"We believe our citizens would not be willing to give up the present hospital unless with the understanding that another hospital—an up-to-date one—would be built to take its place. New Liskeard citizens are progressive as well as aggressive. This town had the first hospital and stood the expense for a number of years of paying the keep of indigent patients from various parts of Temiskaming. It has been a hard struggle to keep the doors of the institution open and to carry on the good work, but it has been done, and our people would not like to do without a hospital.

"However, we leave the matter in the hands of the re-organized Ontario Relief Commission, the Hospital Board, the Provincial Secretary and the district towns and municipalities."

FUNERAL AT NORTH BAY OF GEORGE RAYMOND KNIGHT

C. cemetery, where interment was made in the family plot. Rev. J. L. Kennedy officiated at the graveside. MARRIAGE LAST WEEK OF MISS JULIA STADELMAN

A quiet but pretty wedding took place Tuesday morning, June 19th, at eleven o'clock at the Cobalt United Church manse when Julia May, youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Stadelman, was united in marriage to Mr. William Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Taylor, Glasgow, Scotland.

The bride wore a gown of rose beige chantilly lace in a bloused effect with scalloped skirt caught at one side with rhinestone buckle. Her hat was a French model in rose mohair. She carried a bouquet of ophelias and lilies of the valley.

The bride was attended by her-niece, Miss Willa Taylor, of New Liskeard, who wore a pleated and tiered frock of ciel blue and blond mohair picture hat. Her corsage bouquet was of roses and baby's breath. Mr. Lawrence Stadelman, brother of the bride, supported the groom. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the bride's home at Cobalt, only immediate relatives and friends being present. The young couple left on brief honeymoon to the south, and on their return will take up residence at Kirkland Lake. The bride is a sister of Mr. Ivan Stadelman, of Timmins. She is well known in Cobalt, (Haileybury and New Liskeard, and also has many friends in other parts of the North, all of whom join in extending sincerest good wishes to the young couple.

New London (Connecticut) Times: City Treasurer H. G. Huntley is spending his annual vacation and honeymoon.

The Kapuskasing Courier last week says:—"Tenders are being called for by the Department of Northern Development for the construction of that section of the highway, Cochrane to Kapuskasing, between Driewood and Smooth Rock and when completed will link up Kapuskasing with Cochrane and the outside world."

Art Lund, a Finlander, without known address, was picked up on Notre Dame street in Sudbury one day last week with a bad slash in his throat, the cut extending from "ear to ear." He was rushed to the hospital and is expected to recover. He gave the police to understand that he did the damage himself.
