BRITISH EMPIRE ABLE TO SUPPLY MOST MINERALS

Much interesting data on the flow of minerals into the world trade was furnished by J. W. Furness, chief of the minerals division of the United States Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, at the convention of the American Mining Congress last week. From the point of view of utilization by man, he said, the occurrence of a single mineral, or a group of minerals, in sufficient size and concentration to make them commercially exploitable are relatively few and unequally distributed throughout the world. The limitations of the sources upon which the industrial world has largely depended during the past five years may be illustrated in part by the following examples: The United States, the British Empire, France and Germany produce more than three-fourths of the world's coal. The United States, Mexico, Russia, Persia and Venezuela produce 90 per cent. of the world's petroleum. Three economic centres, United States, United Kingdom, Lorraine produce 85 per cent. of the world's output of iron ore. Copper is furnished from three main sources: tin from three; nickel from two; etc. The United States is the world's largest consumer of mineral raw materials, and in many cases is the largest producer of many of the minerals. It has been estimated that the population of the United States is approximately one-seventh of the world's total. In order to meet the requirements of the nation, more than 50 per cent. of the total production of minerals is required. The British Empire is outstanding in its ability to supply its own needs of the principal industrial minerals from sources controlled either politically or commercially. It is dependent on foreign sources for its supply of antimony, mercury, potash, sulphur and talc, but has most of the important minerals available in large quantities for exports. Imports of mineral raw materials in 1927 were as follows: United States, $358,000,000; United Kingdom, $348,000,000; France, $358,000,000, and Germany, $322,000,000. Exports during the same period were: United States, $325,000,000; United Kingdom, $348,000,000; France, $104,000,000; Germany, $281,000,000.

REINDEER HERDS TO HELP NATIVES OF THE NORTH

In an editorial article this week The Mail and Empire says:—"Canada has done fairly well by its native races, but to keep up its reputation it should do more for those, chiefly Eskimos, in the far north who are being deprived of their means of living through the encroachments of civilization. The introduction of high power rifles and the keen competition for furs have reduced the number of fur-bearing and other game animals, and in certain districts have changed the native mode of living so that it approximates that of the white man dependent on outside supplies of food and clothing. The proposal to establish herds of reindeer on the great northern plains between the Mackenzie and the Coppermine rivers is looked upon as a possible solution of the problem.

"During the past two years Messrs A. E. and R. T. Porsild, botanists and biologists, sent out by the Department of the Interior, have covered an immense area in Alaska and Arctic Canada. In their preliminary report they recommend that if it is decided to establish reindeer in the Canadian North the first herd should number about 3,000 head. These would be brought from Alaska and would be herded along the northern route which the investigation followed on their trip eastward in 1927. The movement would begin about October 1 and continue until the following spring, when a halt would be made to allow for fawning. The movement would be resumed in the next autumn, and by spring the herd would have reached the mouth of the Mackenzie. Crossing the river on the ice the animals would be established on their new range before the next fawning season arrived. The advantage of reaching the permanent grazing grounds at this time of the year is that reindeer have a strong instinct, and the young animals born that spring would tend to settle the herd on the new range. Under favourable conditions a reindeer herd will double in size in three years, and as they increase new herds could be established north and east of Great Bear Lake and later, if advisable, as far as the west coast of Hudson Bay. The decision of the Minister, Hon. Charles Stewart, will depend to a considerable extent on the completed report of the Messrs Porsild."

Daughter was admiring her beautiful new silk dress. "Isn't it wonderful," she said, "that all this beautiful silk comes from an insignificant worm?"

"Daughter, is it necessary to refer to your father in that manner?" inquired her mother.

FOURTH ANNUAL DANCE OF ABITIBI GOLF CLUB

Successful and Enjoyable Event at Iroquois Falls of Special Interest to Golfers

The following from The Broke Hustler will be of general interest to all golfers in the district:—

From the opening Tee-off Waltz to the strains of the final dance, the fourth annual dance of the Abitibi Golf Club held in the Town Hall on Friday, November 30th, was perhaps the acme of many successes which the Golf Club has to its credit in staging their annual dances. From the decorations in the hall itself to the unique decorations in the banquet hall, the committee in charge if this feature are deserving of great credit. The corners of the hall were fitted up as cosy corners with easy chairs, divans, floor lamps and rugs, making it most congenial for those desiring to sit out or hold conversation.

Music was furnished by the Timmins Red Jacket Orchestra and was enjoyed by all; their neat appearance with red striped jackets fitted in with decorations of that corner of the hall. The decorations in the hall outside of the cosy corners consisted of streamers of coloured lights strung across the ceiling, balloons and Christmas trees. Much credit for the decorations goes to Gordon J. Thistlethwaite, U. T. Heard and others who helped in putting over the effect.

Refreshments were served in buffet style, the table decorations catching the eye of everyone. There were nine tables and each one represented a hole of the golf course each being fitted up to resemble the tee, fairway, and green. The buffet lunch was served in artistic fashion by Mr. Claude Morrison catering in his usual splendid style.

In presenting the cups the Golf Club this year deviated from the custom in the past where the cups were presented in the banquet hall. Friday night A. R. Mobbs, president of the Golf Club acted as spokesman for the presentation of cups from the orchestra stand. Messrs Geo. Lee and F. H. Anson each presented their cups to the winners with neat speeches which were well received. Mr. Mobbs presented the balance of the cups.

Following is a list of the cups, the winners and the runners-up—L. R. Wilson Cup, handicap match play won by G. J. Goldsborough, runner-up, J. H. Fitzgerald. President's Cup, Club Championship, open play, won by F. H. Anson, runner up R. M. Drummond. Geo. Lake Shield, 72-hole Medal Play, won by R. M. Drummond, runner-up, B. Little. F. H. Anson Cup, 72-hole Handicap Medal Play, won by J. W. D. Heirlihy, runner-up C. B. Davis. J. O. McKerraw Cup, ringer competition, won by C. B. Davis. H. D. Bean Cup, Weekly Low Score, won by W. H. Brydgc, runners-up C. B. Davis, E. M. Little.

The ladies cups were won as follows: Geo. Lee Cup 72-hole Medal Play, won by Mrs. L. E. Kendall, runner-up Mrs. H. J. Buncke. President's Cup, Club Championship Medal play eliminator, Mrs. H. J. Buncke. Alexander Smith Cup, Handicap match play, won by Mrs. L. E. Kendall, runner-up Mrs. C. R. Brydgc. H. G. Schanche Cup, Weekly Low Score, won by Mrs. L. E. Kendall. Ringer prizes—1st flight won by Miss Alma Adams. This cup was presented by Mrs. J. E. Patterson; second flight, Mrs. N. C. Mansell, cup donated by ladies section.

Owing to the prevailing wave of sickness several members of the club, as well as out of town visitors were unable to attend, consequently the attendance was not as large as anticipated.

Included among the out of town visitors were, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Wilson, Miss Barbara Wilson, Mr. Geo. W. Lee, Chairman of the T. & N. O. Commission who came from North Bay in a special car accompanied by Mrs. Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Maund and Mr. and Mrs. Pypher, Mr. and Mrs. Duff Allan, Montieih, Dr. and Mrs. Smylie of Montieih, Mr. W. Mitchell of Timmins, Dr. Murray, Dr. Ryal, Mr. F. P. Moffatt and the Misses Jean Campbell, Marie McKinnon and Edith Lauder all of Cochrane, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Crombie and others.

To the following committee must be extended great credit for the success of the dance. J. A. Bartholomew, chairman; N. S. McTaggart, F. C. Conrv. J. H. Fitzgerald, G. J. Thistlethwaite, U. T. Heard, H. A. Seeley, A. R. Armstrong, C. W. Dales, W. Kishbaugh.

The officers of the Golf Club are: A. R. Mobbs, President; C. B. Davis, Vice-President and F. E. Wood, Secretary. G. J. Goldsborough, Chairman Greens Committee, and E. M. Little, Chairman Match Committee.

The favours given out after the buffet lunch were received with considerable enthusiasm and served as a wonderful help to the all around decorations.

The lucky number dance was won by Mrs. V. H. Emory, the prize being the choice of a lady's golf club donated by the Mercantile Department.

A novelty dance in the form of a Kiddy-car tag dance, caused considerable amusement, the idea being to tag a dancer while propelling a kiddy car around the floor.

The officers of the club and the committee wish to thank most heartily those who aided in any way either through attendance at the hall or in donating decorations.
