Man Wanted by Police Found Asleep in Depot

For more than a year past the Timmins police have had a warrant for the arrest of Tony Romano, wanted on a charge of slashing off the better part of the nose of a man named Robertson. Robertson was attacked after leaving a poker game and Romano was accused of the assault but could not be located. Since that time the police have not been able to secure him until this week. On Wednesday morning at five o'clock Officers Craig and Parcher found a man sleeping in the T. & N. O. station here and decided to wake him up. They did not recognize him at first but as they got closer to the sleeping man they saw who it was and when he did wake up the handcuffs were already on him. He was duly registered as Angus Sanguino or Tony Romano, and he was remanded till next court to give him opportunity to secure the lawyer he wanted.

MORE GOOD SPORTSMANSHIP NEEDED ON SOME OCCASIONS

The following from Forest and Outdoors is a timely comment on good sportsmanship:—

"The shooting of fourteen of the twenty-three wild Canada geese at Belleville's new bird sanctuary by three motor car vandals has created quite a furore in the newspaper world, due largely to the fact that one man, Mr. Wallace Havelock Robb, naturalist and bird lover, who had been the principal instrument in establishing the sanctuary, loved these birds. It looks like a case of history repeating itself. Jack Miner, in establishing his now internationally known bird sanctuary, was heartbroken many times over the inertia apparent—cruelty—the lack of sportsmanship of people in general.

"The idea of true sportsmanship, while developing, is unfortunately still not generally practised, simply because the people have not been educated up to it yet. The place to begin is in the classroom. Here is where Forestry and Outdoors seeks to get at the root of the matter and build up a people that will outlaw such outrages. We have still a long way to go. What is sporting about hunting deer with dogs, and killing them in the water when they have no chance?—or of catching fish out of season?—or making a huge catch only to have them rot?—and yet it is done throughout the length and breadth of Canada today.

"The introduction of proper ethics of conduct, true sportsmanship in relation to our hunting practices, can only be brought about by an awakened public conscience, and this can only be accomplished by dynamiting public apathy. Unfortunately it often takes a tragedy to focus the attention and produce the necessary action by the people, but once aroused LET THE TRANSGRESSOR BEWARE."

ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF FORGING CHEQUES HERE

Officer Fulton this week arrested a young man named Yates, not long out from the Old Country, the charge against him being that of forgery. The young man has been boarding at the Cedar House, Timmins, and he is charged with forging the name of his roommate to two cheques, one on Nov. 28th and the other on Dec. 10th, both for small amounts. He was arrested at the Coniaurum Mine just as he was getting his time. He will come before Magistrate Atkinson to-day on the charges.
