GRAVEL AND SAND—AND PLACER

Last year, on behalf of the settlers along the Mattagami river, The Advance protested against plans that were said to be under way to monopolize the water frontage of the settlers' properties along the river. Assurance was then given that the rights of settlers would be fully protected. According to the letter, elsewhere in this issue from one of the settlers, the deal to monopolize the water frontage has gone through, despite all assurances to the contrary. This is a matter that the Government should carefully consider at once. While all recognize the desirability of encouraging the lumber industry, no business is worth too high a price. For many months in the year the river is the only highway available to many settlers and others. As The Advance has persistently repeated, "the river should be kept free for traffic."

In connection with the prosecution of the editor of the Finnish newspaper, "Vapaus," for seditious libel, the whole question of Bolshevik agitation and revolutionary talk and teaching by foreigners in Canada has been brought to attention. In considering the matter, many take a very foolish and illogical attitude. When objection is taken to seditious and Bolshevik agitation, there are some who say: "Oh, let them talk! Let them blow off steam! That is the way the British in the Old Country have handled the agitators." The present conditions in the Old Land are not very flattering evidences of the success of any viewpoint or frame of mind. The truth is that the Old Land British have been simply "muddling through" in this as in some other particulars. Tolerance can be carried to the point of absurdity and really work for intolerance. There is nothing tolerant about communism. To tolerate it until it gains an upper hand is to work for eventual intolerance. When some alien, who had no liberty in his own land, abuses the large measure of British liberty in this country, in fairness to all other aliens as well as in justice to Britishers, that ungrateful and shortsighted foreigner should be set right. There is no sense in calling out the parrot cry, "Where is your British liberty?" If a man came into your house, slapped the faces of your children, attempted to break up the furniture, and abused all the occupants of the house because he said the food and the furnishings should be in Russian style, would you think of the by-stander who would say, when you objected to such an evil attitude on the part of the visitor, "Ah, where is your British hospitality?" The man who permits his guests to smash his house is not hospitable. He is simply plain foolish!

This is the land of gold! But these days it is also the land of diamonds! Millions upon millions of diamonds glisten on the roads, the walks, the yards. On the gripping cold days when the sun shines, the diamonds in the snow may be seen in all their sparkling beauty. No one who has seen these jewels of the snow, no one who has watched the Northern Lights play across a North Land sky, or noted the grace of the trees in winter as in summer, can ever believe that this country is anything but a land of beauty not quite equalled elsewhere.

A friend of The Advance has for weeks past been urging this newspaper to advocate a thirteen-month calendar. All argument failed to impress him with the difficulties of any change from the present plan of twelve months of varying size. But he is silent now! It was pointed out to him eventually that a thirteen-month year would mean thirteen times, instead of twelve, that bills would come in at the first of the month.

A good New Year's resolution for all business places in town would have been to resolve to close their stores every Wednesday afternoon all the year round. Some of the suits. It is a benefit to merchants and their clerks and practically no inconvenience to the public. The half-holiday business places are following the plan with satisfactory results and the increased efficiency and interest that comes to the staffs is a benefit to the stores and the public alike. Every day is a new year, and it is not too late to add the benefit of the half-holiday each week to the blessings that are coming in 1929.

"Workers have to pay for such pranks," is one comment by a Finnish newspaper, The Finnish American, published at Fitchburg, Mass., in referring to the recent articles in "Vapaus," the Finnish paper printed at Sudbury. The Finnish American refers to another incident as an illustration of how the workers are forced to pay for the tricks of those who exploit them. This was the case of a Finnish newspaper at Worcester, Mass., this paper printing a story about a Congregational minister something along the same line as one printed in a Canadian Finnish newspaper about a United Church minister at Kirkland Lake. The Congregational minister started a suit of libel, and won. It cost the Finnish paper some $30,000, and this amount was collected from the workers by means that The Finnish American did not consider altogether desirable. The workers should make the exploiters pay for their own pranks.

Announcement of some recent promotions made at the Abitibi Power & Paper Co. plant at Trochu Falls will be of interest here. T. E. Silver is to be mill manager of the Trochu Falls division and F. L. Mitchell is to be assistant to Mr. J. E. Patterson, manager of operations of the A. F. & P. Co., Mr. J. S. Brown, formerly of Timmins, is appointed assistant sulphur superintendent. The promotions are all well merited and generally popular.

ENGINEER ON T. & N. O. RY.

DIES AT ANN ARBOR, MICH.

The death occurred last week at Ann Arbor, Michigan, of William C. Millman, well-known T. & N. O. engineer. He had been in Ann Arbor for medical treatment and an operation but he succumbed before the operation could be performed. The later Mr. Millman was born in Barrie, Ont., and was in his 58th year at the time of death. For a number of years he has been a resident of North Bay, going there from Cochrane some eight years ago. He was one of the well-known and popular locomotive engineers on the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway. He is survived by three sons:—Roy, of Nakina, Albert and Clifford; and two daughters, Lillian, in Toronto, and Arvilla, Mrs. E. Moch, of North Bay, and Mrs. H. Pierpont, of West Ferris, Ont., are sisters. The remains were brought back to North Bay for interment, the funeral being on Friday afternoon last under the auspices of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen. Rev. J. C. Cochrane, pastor of the Trinity United Church conducted the services.

LOCALS

The next regular meeting of the Timmins town council is scheduled for next Monday afternoon, Jan. 14th, commencing at 4 p.m., with Mayor Geo. S. Drew presiding.

The new year opened in Cobalt, says The Northern News, with a heavy snow storm which continued practically all day. About six inches of snow had fallen by noon.

At the last meeting for 1928 of the Teck township council, held on Dec. 21st, a by-law was duly passed confirming the appointment of Meredith Egan as chief of police for Kirkland Lake and the rest of Teck township.

"Welsh Night" at the band concert in the Goldfields theatre on Sunday evening, Jan. 13th, after the church services, will provide one of the best programmes ever given in this series. The Welsh folk are noted far and wide for their musical ability, and they have prepared an extra special programme for the band night event.

Antonio Scappatura, for the past eight years one of the three brothers directing the Mackey House hotel at North Bay, died at his home in North Bay last week, aged 42 years. He was well-known in the North Land where he had many friends who will regret his death. He is survived by his parents, both of whom are living in Italy, and his widow and six children.

At last week's meeting of the Cobalt Kiwanis Club, the new officers of the Silver Town's Kiwanis Club were duly installed. The new president is Dr. H. H. Abell, T. J. Haughton is vice-president. R. S. Taylor is again secretary and Frank Murray remains as treasurer. Larry Stadelman, the retiring president, was made the recipient of a past president's button.

Complaints are too frequent of theft from prospectors' camps and caches and from lumbermen's camps. It is too bad that this mean form of theft should occur. Recently lumber, stoves and a quantity of paint were stolen from Kreisler's camp on the Coniagas property at Cobalt. On his return from a trip to the North, Mr. Kreisler found his camp had been broken into and the goods taken.

This item is from The Sudbury Star of last week:—"Scantily clad and no place to go, unable to get work and in need of food, Allan Kingston and Albert Philion were both anxious to get the friendly shelter of Burwash and pleaded guilty as voluntary vagrants. Each was given a three months' term." Items like this are scarcely a creditable commentary on the boasted civilization of to-day.—the jail is the only refuge in this country for the innocents who are unfortunate.

There was a merry old time at Sudbury last week when two policemen attempted to investigate a pitcher they thought had alcohol in it, while they were serving a summons on one of the occupants of the house. One man, after demanding a search warrant, started a scuffle with one of the officers and two women in the house are alleged to have hit, bit and scratched the officers. Two more police were telephoned for and the men and the two women were eventually locked up. They were remanded to this week on charges of obstructing the police, assault, etc.

A fire, which is said to have originated through the breaking of an oil line, last week destroyed the steel-sharpening house of the Lake Shore Mine at Kirkland Lake. The Kirkland Lake brigade had a strenuous hours' work before the flames were quenched, according to reports about the fire, but succeeded in preventing the flames from spreading, the shaft house nearby

HOW THE NEW YEAR CAME IN AT NEW LISKEARD THIS YEAR

The New Liskeard Speaker last week says:—

"A citizen if New Liskeard could scarcely say the New Year was 'ushered in.' That would imply that a respectful farewell was given to 1928, and that 1929 was welcomed with the blowing of horns, the ringing of bells, and the music of bands and serenading parties. But for the first time we believe, the Old Year was allowed to leave and the New Year come as quietly as it is said the Arabs 'fold their tents and silently steal away' in the early morning.

"We remember when many of the churches had midnight services to 'pray the Old out and the New in,' and it has been said that on one of these occasions, a telephone operator who attended one of the services, fell asleep while kneeling in prayer. She did not hear the minister say 'Arie please, and sing hymn No. 320.' All she heard was the number, and dreamily she answered: 'The-line-is-busy,' the last
