ONTARIO SHOULD GIVE FAIR TRIAL TO ALBERTA COAL
Second Movement of Coal From Alberta to Ontario New Under Way. Give Preference to Canadian Coal

The people of Timmins have shown a particular interest in the matter of the use of Alberta coal in Ontario, if this is practical. It will be recalled that last year the Timmins Board of Trade took speedy action when it was found that there was a danger of freight rates in the North interfering with the plan of shipment. From the patriotic standpoint the people here are anxious to use the Alberta product if this can be done, and efforts to make it practical are viewed with much interest.

The second movement of coal from Alberta to Ontario, since the establishing of the freight rate of $6.75 per ton is now under way and in the course of a few days Alberta coal will again be available to Ontario coal consumers.
It must be remembered that the $6.75 freight rate granted during 1928, applied to a period of three months only, namely, from April 15th to July 15th, the worst three months period throughout the year in the coal industry insofar as the consumer is concerned. This year the same rate has been granted for a six months' period, from January 15th to July 15th and it is confidently expected that a greatly increased tonnage will be moved East. In Ontario a large percentage of the total coal consumption of the entire year occurs from January 15th to May 1st. Alberta coal should, therefore, this year be a greater factor in the fuel requirements of the coal consumers than during 1928.

Ontario householders should give Alberta coal a fair trial. Many of those who have done so thus far have become permanent customers of the Alberta product. It may be true that there have been isolated cases of disappointment on the part of the consumer who has tried out this Canadian produced fuel, but it is claimed by the coal operators of Alberta that these cases are due to the consumer not having been properly instructed in the method of firing their furnaces with Alberta coal and in other instances to the lack of knowledge on the part of the local dealer in the matter of the proper size of coal for the furnace or the kitchen range. A little more experience on the part of the local dealer and the consumer as to the method of handling and burning Alberta coal will undoubtedly overcome the occasional complaint that may now be heard as to its merits. Many converts to Alberta coal were undoubtedly made during 1928. These should be increased substantially during 1929 resulting in still a greater amount of coal being moved from Alberta to Ontario.

As Alberta coal is a Canadian product it should be the duty of every Ontario householders to see to it that it be given a fair trial.

COSTUMES WORN IN "THE COSSACKS" TRUE TO LIFE

From the high boots to the smallest embroidery on the collar, the costumes worn by Renee Adoree in "The Cossacks," the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture showing at the Goldfields theatre here on Friday and Saturday of this week, Jan. 25th and 26th, are correct in all details. The costumes were designed by David Cox, under the supervision of General Lodiensky, the technical director of the Russian story. Renee Adoree made such a hit in the "Big Parade," when she played the role of a French peasant girl, that she felt it a good omen to have a part in "The Cossacks" where she would be again in peasant clothes. She wears in the play coming here on Friday and Saturday quaint frocks of unbleached linen, with embroidery in bright shades. For the play the boots for Miss Adoree had to be specially made, and she liked the style so well that she had an extra pair or two made for personal use with her own modern frocks. "Boots make the foot look much smaller than shoes," she says, "because of the cuffs. You know that a gauntlet glove always makes the hand look smaller by contrast. Boots have the same effect."

EUCHE LAST NIGHT IN AID OF FIRE SUFFERERS

A euchre was held last night for the benefit of those who lost so heavily in the recent fire at the St. Onge block. Several of the tenants lost all their clothing, furniture and effects and the fire was a serious loss to them, indeed. The euchre last night in the parish hall of St. Anthony's church was for the purpose of assisting the unlucky ones, and it was helpful in this respect. There was a good attendance last night and all present had a good time at this worthy event for a good cause.
