Committed Suicide Last

years of age who had apparently come in to Cochrane from one of the lumber amps, committed suicide in a Cochrane rooming house on Wednesday morning last week by severing an artery in his wrist. He left on the washstand in the room a letter addressed to the police asking that his brother be notified of the death. He also left letter to his brother requesting that his cheap. The letters gave identification of the body and the coroner felt that the case was so clearly one of suicide sary. The late Kurt Hoepful was described as a quiet and gentlemanly man with a decided love of books and readby all who knew him. It is said that he formerly was on a farm at Clute but apparently little is known regarding him. From the letters left by him it appears that he has a brother residing at Kitchener, Ont., but otherwise of the story, adaption of the scenario, nothing seems to be known about his photographing of the scenes, interprepersonal affairs or family.

"Mademoiselle from Armentieres" Under Auspices of Canadian Legion Friday and Saturday This Week.

"Mademoiselle from Armentieres," the noted British picture to be at the Goldfields theatre on Friday and Saturburial might be simple in form and day of this week, Feb. 1st and 2nd is an ex-service man's film in more ways than one. It is coming here under the auspices of the Canadian Legion and so that no jury inquest was deemed neces- is specially worthy of support. As picture this Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer offering is a super special. No one should miss it. It not only recalls memories, ing and one who was well thought of but it may also be noted that they are memories recalled by fellows who knew the real truth about the war. With but one exception every man who plays in the film or had anything to do with its making, from the writing tation of the various roles, and direction, every man with that one exception, is an ex-soldier.

The list includes one colonel, three lieutenant-colonels, four captains, two lieutenants several sergeants and men of other ranks. Gareth Gundrey, who wrote the scenario for the film, earned the M.C. with bar and was twice mentioned in dispatches. Col. English, who plays the part of a general in the film, commanded a Liverpool regiment in the war and won the D.S.O. and Croix de Guerre. The vilain of the film, supposed to be a German spy, is played by C. Rosca, a French sergeant who was wounded ten times and decorated with the Croix de Guerre and the Ensigne de Blessure. The platoon sergeant of the film is played by the Manchester are home from a prospecting trip to the V.C. Sergeant Issy Smith.

Move to the left in fours-form fours-left!" "B Company move to the left," etc. Sergeant Smith's platoon had no place in the battalion formation, but he proved equal to the occasion. "Gaumont Company. Move to the left in fours-form fours-left!" And the movement was completed with precision.

"Mademoiselle from Armentieres was produced by the Gaumont Company, Ltd., the large motion picture production company of England, and has been shown in London and other foreign cities to the unanimous acclaim of critics and public.

Two happy lads celebrated their birthdays at the Dome on Wednesday, January 16th. It was Bruce Stovel's thirteenth anniversary and Franklin Hall's tenth. Master Franklin brought his ten guests out to Mrs. H. M. Martin's for their supper.

The score for the Kirkland Lake-Porcupine hockey match at Kirkland Lake on Saturday night was 4-2, favour of Porcupine. Play started fast with Porcupine throwing all they had to it so as to get the bulge on Kirkland. They could not take any chances on accidents so went after all the goals they could get right from the start. It was lucky they did for after thirty minutes of play, Spence was laid out with kick on the knee, which put him out or almost the rest of the game. A lew minutes afterward Jemmett follow ed him to the dressing room with badly bruised spine. He also had to watch most of the remainder of the game from the side lines. The other boys on the front line, Proulx, Cook, Gagnon and Campbell more than kept their end up, while their fellow players had to see the doctor. Porcupine Club s noted for the courage of the boys. When accidents befall some of their fellow players, the rest take another hitch on their belts, jump right in and say "Bring them on. Let us get at them." That is the courage that has carried them right to the peaks in the hockey world. Mill, Gilmour and Baxter played their usual good games. Mill stood out with one of the prettiest goals of the evening. He took the puck on his own blue line, came through and split their defence wide open, walked in on their goal-tender, pulled him to one side and pushed it into the net. Even Kirkland Lake had to give him the glad hand. For Kirkland, Woods and Regan were the best, each turning in a fine game. Kirkland fought right to the last gong and would not admit they were beaten until the time-keepers called it a night. The game was clean, there being only three penalties, both mishaps to Porcupine being pure accidents. By periods, the

MODSE NOW PRACTICALLY SURE TO WIN FIRST HALF

L.O.O.M. Team Establish High Single Game Record of Eleven Hundred and. Twenty-two

There was only one game in the Fraternal Bowling Leas a this week. The Y.P.L. were kind enough to allow their game with the Holly Recs to be played at a later date, the Holly Recs. not having sufficient players out. This is the first time any opposing team captain has been so generous. The Holly Recs. now have five games to play in the next two weeks. With what is chalked up to the credit of the Moose this team seems to have the best chance to win the first half.

Monday night the Moose were again in rare form rolling 3101 for their team total. The last string of 1122 pins beat their own record by 25 pins. Brennan Tomkinson and Eyre all rolled well, and also Jenkins.

For the I.O.O.F., Campbell was back n form again, and Skelly also bowled well. The Oddfellows had hard luck in losing by five pins.

Fraternal league, which is much re- in Kapuskasing, sales being made in gretted, as there were some real good powlers among them. Geo. Lake, Harry Jackson and W. O. Langdon will certainly be missed by the league. Langdon was one of the two only players to finish last season with a better than 200 average.

eyed to South Porcupine on Saturday last and defeated the Trail Rangers here in a game of hockey at the arena, to the score of 5-2. Carlo Cattarello acted as referee.

Another Saturday game of hockey was First South Porcupine Scouts vs. Dome Scouts. The town boys defeated the miners in a score of 8-3. George Mason acted as referee.

Miss Vivian McCaffrey, of the Dome, entertained a number of her young friends at a birthday party on Thursday, January 17th. It was the small hostess' tenth birthday.

Miss Grace Woodall, of Porquis Jct. is holidaying for a week with friends at the Dome.

Mr. Bill Perswitherick, of New Liskeard, who has been working for Kennedy and Gibson was brought to the Porcupine hospital a few days ago suffering from a severe ulcer of the stomach. Dr. Harrison, of Timmins, oper ated on him and hopes are now being held out for his complete recovery. Mrs. Wolfe, a sister at Cobalt, came up a few days ago to be with him, and his wife from New Liskeard is expected to-night. On the very day he was brought to the hospital his brother, Lorne who was also working at the same camp was sent to his home at New Liskeard with a broken leg.

KAPUSKASING THIS WEEK

In the early days of the North, esbecially in the mining camps, the banks used to sometimes make a tent do service as premises for their business. similar plan was used by the Bank of Commerce after the fire at Kapuskasing last week which destroyed the bank premises. The Bank of Commerce rushed a large tent to Kapuskasing and opened for business as usual Price's dry cleaning business is also re-opened in other premises. R. Blais, photographer, is another of those burned out, who is about ready to resume business after the fire. People in Kapuskasing believe that the fire there instead of retarding the growth of the town will assist in its progress on a more permanent basis with better safety assured. It is understood that

Eaton's Groceteria will re-open shortly at Kapuskasing, though no official announcement has been made further than that a definite statement of the company's plans in the matter will be made at the earliest possible date. The week a sale of salvaged canned goods The Kiwanis have dropped out of the from the groceteria is being conducted
