Ten Years Ago in Timmins

FROM DATA IN THE PORCUPINE ADVANCE FILES

The annual meeting of the Porcupine Consolidated Patriotic Club was held in the council chambers, Timmins, on Jan. 27th, 1919, with a good representation of both Timmins and Schumacher members. Mr. J. P. McLaughlin occupied the chair, and the report of the treasurer, Mr. J. P. Tallon showed the club to be in very satisfactory condition. Despite the fear of some that collections in 1918 would fall far below the estimates made at the beginning of that year, there had been $32,855.80 taken in, with $3,853.00 still to collect. Of the latter fully $2,800.00 was considered "as good as gold." The collections thus would be less than $1,000 below the estimates. At the time of the annual meeting the club had $4,332.62 in the bank. The collections in Timmins exceeded the amount paid to the Timmins Red Cross and the D.Y.B. Club by about $1,700.00. The collections at Schumacher were $372.00 more than paid to the Schumacher Red Cross while South Porcupine's donations were $1,200.00 more than given the South Porcupine Patriotic Society. From the surplus thus indicated, the Canadian Patriotic Fund and the other outside patriotic causes received ample support. Dr. McInnis and V. Woodbury were appointed a committee to speed up the collection of the overdue subscriptions. There was a lengthy discussion at the meeting in regard to the future of the Patriotic Club. It was suggested that the Patriotic Fund and the Red Cross might soon discontinue activities and the Government might take over any surplus funds. Mr. R. J. Jemmett thought that the active executive of three might be appointed trustees or the funds, disposing of the monies on hand to the various societies in the proportion followed in 1918, while the surplus after that might be given the War Veterans or the Navy League. Dr. McInnis thought any action along this line should be deferred for a month or two, as there was still work for the Club to do. Eventually, it was decided that the 1918 executive committee remain in office for another month or so and the president then call another meeting to finally dispose of any surplus funds.

Reference was made in The Advance ten years ago to plans for the welcoming to Timmins of returned soldiers coming here, whether they were old-timers coming back to the camp or newcomers arriving here. It was generally felt that appropriate recognition and public welcome back should be given the men who had suffered hardship and risked their lives for the common good. "We cheered them when they left to fight for us," said Dr. McInnis, "and we should give them a double cheer now when they are returning from the victory." At a meeting of the town council ten years ago the mayor was authorized to select a committee to act with him in the proper welcoming home of returned men. It was planned to work in conjunction with the Great War Veterans' Association. The hoisting of the town flag and the ringing of bells was also suggested as a means of letting the people in general know of the expected arrival of returned soldiers. While the plan started out bravely, it was not long before only three or four of the committee met the various trains, though for a year or more not a train arrived but there were present two to four of the committee to meet the returned men.

Touching on the war it may be noted that ten years ago there was very extensive advertising of the film production of United States Ambassador James W. Gerard's story of his four years in Germany during the war. This picture was shown in Timmins on Jan. 31st and Feb. 1st, 1919, at the New Empire theatre.

Ten years ago there were people who would not accept the statement often quoted then that only a hundred deaths from the influenza epidemic had occurred in the Porcupine Camp. "Why there was more than that number in Timmins alone," they would say. They could not produce the names, and, of course, they were wrong, but it was certainly hard to convince them. It seemed to be useless to point out that a hundred was a large number to die from an epidemic in this North Land. It was equally unsatisfactory to point out to them the fact that all the figures in the matter were official and were double checked. However, in the issue of Jan. 29th, 1919, The Advance was able to give them official information that induced them to alter their views. This information was in the nature of the official registration figures for births, marriages and deaths. These figures showed that for the whole of the year 1918 there were 112 deaths in the town of Timmins. This was double the usual proportion of deaths in those times. The normal death rate for Timmins previous to 1918 would not exceed 50 or 60. In 1918 there were 144 births and 61 marriages reported.

Monday, Jan. 27th, 1918, was a record day in those times for transactions on the Standard Mining and Stock Exchange. Over half a million shares changed hands, which was a large amount for those days, though it would be only a small day for ten years later. There was general activity in all the better mining stocks, the largest proportion of the business of Jan. 27th, 1918, was noticeable in the purchases of Adanac and Orphir stocks.

The Advance ten years ago had a paragraph referring to the sad death of Dr. O'Brien, V.S., of New Liskeard. He was well known in Timmins and district through professional visits paid here just prior to his death. Death was due to influenza. He passed away a few hours after being taken to the hospital.

Some changes in the staffs of the township of Tisdale were noted in The Advance ten years ago. W. S. Chapman, then assessor and collector for the town of Timmins, was appointed clerk of the township of Tisdale, while Chas. McInnis for some time constable at Moneta, was appointed chief of police for Tisdale. Wm. Bennett was appointed constable at Moneta, while Constable Raycroft was re-appointed at Schumacher. T. E. Ryan was appointed township foreman, and G. H. Gauthier was appointed as solicitor for the township.

At a meeting held in the Hotel Goldfields on Jan. 25th, 1918, the "Saturday Night Club" was formed. A. F. Brigham was elected president; W. E. McCoy, secretary; and H. C. McDonald, treasurer. The ultimate aim was to have an influential and useful social club for the entertainment of visitors, and the general goodfellowship of the camp. The Saturday Night Club was planned with the idea of having meetings twice a month.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found an extended report of the annual meeting of the District of Cochrane Children's Aid Society. Ten years ago The Advance published a lengthy report of the eighth annual report of the Temiskaming Children's Aid Society. At that time there was no District of Cochrane, and the Temiskaming Children's Aid Society covered this territory as well as the areas around Halleybury, New Liskeard, Cobalt, Kirkland Lake and through to North Bay. At the Temiskaming C.A.S. annual meeting, which was held at Halleybury, Mr. R. T. Shillington occupied the chair in the unavoidable absence of Mr. D. L. Jemmett, the president. "In opening this meeting," said The Advance report, "Mr. Shillington gave well-merited praise to the work accomplished by the Society's agent, Mr. R. LeHeup, and the general progress made by the C.A.S. in the district during the past year."

There were many present from outside towns. The officers elected included:—D. L. Jemmett, Halleybury; Geo. T. Smith, Halleybury, treasurer; Robt. LeHeup, secretary and executive officer. The secretary's report showed that 150 children had come under the notice of the society during the year and each case had been carefully considered and dealt with. In only a small proportion of the cases, however, was it necessary to do more than warn the parents and the children to assure the better conditions. In doing his work the agent had travelled 7800 miles. Eleven wards had been placed out during the year; eight wards had been returned to the Shelter; 46 wards had been visited. Comparison of this report with the 1923 report elsewhere in this issue will indicate the great growth of the work. In an editorial comment on the 1918 The Advance said:—"The work of the Children's Aid Society in caring for neglected and dependent children is the most helpful of patriotic work. The whole future of the country depends on the coming generation and to see that the children of to-day have a fair chance for the best of life is to help guarantee the future of the country. On several past occasions The Advance has advocated the establishing of a branch of the C.A.S. here and this paper still favours such a plan. There is much good work for the community and the country that could be accomplished by an active Children's Aid Society in Timmins."

"Yes," said Mr. F. M. Wallingford to The Advance in January, 1919, "the Mountjoy settlers are well pleased with the result of their efforts, aided by the Timmins Board of Trade, to secure a suitable bridge over the Mattagami river. The work is apparently being taken up with energy and promptness and this year it is likely the settlers will have the needed conveniences of a good bridge."

The Advance ten years ago recorded the death of Mrs. Harry Spencely at her home here on January 23rd. Mrs. Spencely had suffered from what appeared to be a light type of influenza. Then a relapse occurred, followed by bronchial pneumonia. At the time of death Mrs. Spencely was less than 18 years of age. She was an attractive young lady of very pleasant disposition and very widely popular. There was very sincere sympathy for the bereaved husband. An infant baby also survived.

A. H. Brown, formerly manager of the Hudson Bay Mine at Cobalt, and later of the Dome Mine, was appointed mining inspector for the Porcupine ten years ago to succeed E. A. Collis, who resigned to become safety engineer of the Canadian Copper Co.

The Advance ten years ago had special praise for the dance given by the Timmins Fire Brigade in January, 1919. The music was by Appel's orchestra. The refreshments are remembered yet for their quality and quantity. Everybody was enthusiastic in praise of the event.

Among the local and personal items in The Advance ten years ago were the following:—"Mr. H. A. Day, assessor and tax collector at Halleybury since 1910, has been appointed town clerk to succeed Mr. Theo. Connor, who recently resigned after several years' clerical and efficient service as town clerk in Halleybury." "Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Lowe entertained a number of friends on Monday evening last at bridge."

"After a day or two's indisposition Mr. D. A. Hogarth returned to his duties at the school this afternoon." "After there being no Division Court in Timmins for about six months there was a two days' session before Judge Hayward in the Miners' Union hall here last Thursday and Friday. Mr. H. W. Warren, the bailiff, acted as clerk of the court in the absence of Mr. E. H. Hill, who is ill with influenza. There were about 200 cases, several of them being

Former Timmins Goalie Finds Fame in the U.S.A.

Perhaps only a few people will know Solomon Levine, but everybody in this district will recall this young man when reminded that he was more affectionately known as "Porky" Levine and for some years took a prominent place in hockey in Timmins. He was famous first as goalie for the Juniors, later breaking into senior company, and finally leaving here to get into more professional hockey. He is now in the United States, having been with Detroit for this season. This week a friend of The Advance handed in a three-column picture of "Porky," published in a recent issue of The Detroit Free Press. This large half-tone showed the former Timmins goalie in his regimental armour, standing with his stick raised, and bent forward in a characteristic "Porky" pose that plainly means, "They shall not pass!" The pose is typically like him but the face is not so easy to recognize. Surmounting the picture are the following display lines:—"Porky Levine in his spangles, Olympics Spare Net Minder Playing on Pacific Coast. Rather than have him sit on the bench and get out of practice, the Detroit Hockey Club has loaned Levine to Seattle in the Western Canada Hockey league. He is seen here wearing his new regalia."

number of their friends to a very pleasant party at the Dalton home on Friday evening last. Mr. and Mrs. Dalton were most efficient and agreeable as host and hostess and the evening was a most enjoyable one to all present. "Mrs. A. Borland, Sr., mother of Fire Chief Borland, of Timmins, died at her home in London, Ont., on Monday of this week." She was 86 years of age at the time of death. On account of the distance, and the train service here, Chief Borland was unable to reach London in time for the funeral to-day. "Miss Oliver Pearce last week joined the office staff of the Hamilton B. Willis Co. in Toronto." "Mr. Alex Stirling, superintendent of Ontario Government roads for this district, returned last week after a few months spent with his family in Renfrew. He is now busy planning and preparing for the extensive work to be done this year in this district." "Mrs. H. Leng returned to Schumacher last week after a sad visit to her old home in St. George, Ont., to which she had been called by the illness in the family. Both her father and her sister died from the prevalent influenza." "Commissioner Geo. Lee and A. J. Parr, of the T. & N. O. were in Timmins last week on business." "Mr. Ronald Vary has returned to the camp after several months spent at Theford, Que." "Mrs. "Lefty" Farr and son, of Toronto, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Monaghan, Schumacher."

Except in sports, an amateur never knows how bad he is until he tries to turn professional.

A Chrysler Motors Product
Plymouth offers typical Chrysler performance, being Chrysler-engineered and including such modern improvements as weatherproof hydraulic four-wheel brakes, high-compression L-head 45 h. p. engine, rubber engine mountings, aluminum alloy pistons, torque reaction neutralizer, full pressure-feed lubrication.

EMPHASIZING its value leadership, making it plainer than ever, are Plymouth's new lower prices representing savings of $15 to $40 on popular models.

Plymouth quality has not been changed in the least—it remains the same fine quality which has given this car an international repute for economy of operation and upkeep.

In the lowest-priced field, Plymouth is still the outstanding full-size car giving ample room for five grown-ups; it is still the only car near its price equipped with weatherproof hydraulic four-wheel brakes;

it is still the one big buy at its price combining modern engineering improvements and performance with modern style and luxury.

See the Plymouth. Compare it, try to equal it among cars selling under $1000—and inevitably you will rank it first and foremost in every element that determines true motor-car value. 302
