cellent Service Here, Finds Work Very Onerous

At the meeting which took place in the clinic room at 8 p.m. on Monday, March 4th, a letter was read from head office, Ottawa, advising the committee that a relief nurse to Miss Stevens was now available and would be sent to Timmins upon request. Replying to the question if she desired to leave 1mmediately Miss Stevens said that she had written Ottawa in December to say that it would be agreeable to her to wait until Miss Eliott returned, but word had now been received that the latter's return was very problematical, and under such circumstances she would be glad to go as soon as arrangements could conveniently be made. Replying to further questions Miss Stevens candidly admitted that although she had been well received and had enjoyed her work while in Timmins yet she found that the nervous strain was playing very much on her health She did not think that at the moment two nurses were required to carry on, but the time was rapidly approaching when the question would have to be considered.

On motion of Mr. Jamieson, it was decided, subject to the approval of the president, to accede to the request of head office and Miss Stevens.

The secretary said he was greatly disappointed at the small turn-out at the meeting, as he had mailed some fifty-odd notices, and also The Advance had kindly advertised the meeting in its last issue. Another member remarked that the early time had been tried for meetings and now the later hour without getting much support.

Funeral of the Late A. A. Raeburn on Sunday

The funeral of the late Andrew Allen Raeburn, who died last week at the hospital from typhoid fever took place on Sunday morning, the body being taken to the 11.40 train for shipment to Bancroft, Ontario, the home of Mrs. Raeburn. The Masonic brethren of the town and district attended the funeral in a body in honour of their departed brother.

The late Andrew Allen Raeburn, who resided at 111 Avenue road, had been a resident here for some two years past and during that time had made wide circles of friends by his high character and fine manhood. He had been a valued and popular employee of the McIntyre Mine where he was in charge of the firing of the boilers. He is survived by his widow who is at present critically ill with typhoid fever. Her sister came down last week from the West and is nursing her at present. also came here from Toronto last week burial was made. He is also survived by his parents who live in Scotland. The late Mr. Raeburn came to Canada from Glasgow.

Father of F. J. Kehoe. Dies After Long and Distinguished Career. Funeral at Ottawa

His Honour Judge John James Kehoe irst Judge of the District of Sudbury and father of Frank J. Kehoe, barrister and solicitor, of Timmins, died at Whitby, Ontario, on Sunday morning, March 3rd, following a brief illness.

The late Judge Kehoe was born in Ottawa 75 years ago, and had a long and distinguished career at the Bar and on the Bench. He was an orator of especial gifts and was noted as an authority on British jurisprudence and British constitutional law and practice. He was in great demand as a speaker will be open to the friends of members on these subjects, and was also prominent as an accepted authority on especially large attendances.

While no official announcement has been made, the report is made with apparently good grounds for credence. Bowles Lunch has a chain of cafeterias in Toronto, and it is said that the cafeterias are following out the chain store idea so far as some of the leading towns and cities of this province are concerned. The chain idea in cafeterias is not altogether new in this North Land, some of the Chinese restaurants here being conducted under the same ownership and on the chain idea. Fat's Cafe in Timmins and cafes in Cochrane, Ansonville and other North Land towns were all under similar ownership and were successfully conducted on the chain store plan. The tables were beautifully decorated for the occasion, the daffodil being prominent in the effective plan of decoration.

> Mr. T. E. Thomas very acceptably occupied the chair for the evening and in effective way told how the world over, wherever Welshmen were found, the name of St. David was kept green on March 1st, and everything indicated that the custom had not died out. Mr. A. G. Bellamy, in proposing the toast, "Wales," referred to the contributions Wales had made in the realms of literature and poetry and in other lines of life and effort. Mr. W. James proposed the toast to "The King," and in a brief speech referred to the anxious time the nation had passed through during His Majesty's illness, and expressing the sincere hope of all loyal men that the King might make speedy and complete recovery. "Canada" was effectively proposed by Mr. T. Williams, who, in his usual humorous way, kept the crowd in roars of laughter, but also paying due honour to the adopted country of the Welshmen here who loved this land and its people.

> The balance of the evening was given to games, singing the songs of Gwalia, vocal and instrumental music and other pleasant features.
