GRAVEL AND SAND—AND PLACER

If the United States coastguards are permitted to sink British ships and down French sailors on the high seas simply because the ships are suspected of intending to carry liquor to United States ports, the next thing the coastguards will do will be to come to Timmins and take a pot shot or two at Tommy Torrance for selling a bottle of rum to some Timmins man going to Florida for a holiday.

The special attention of Premier Ferguson, Hon. Mr. Finlayson, and all others particularly concerned is directed to the letter from Mr. Wikston, a settler in the Night Hawk Lake area, as published elsewhere in this issue. This settler shows in graphic way the need for roads for settlers in this North Land, and the injustice to the settlers and the injury to the development of the country, from the fact that after so many years roads for the use of the settlers have not yet been provided. Mr. Wikston has shown himself the right type of settler and he claims that his neighbours are equally worthy of consideration. They have shown courage, resourcefulness, patience and industry. They have honestly made the best of a bad situation. Although, as Mr. Wikston suggests, it is impossible to maintain schools in the district, he has seen to it that his children are receiving a good education. This has been done by recourse to the correspondence courses inaugurated by Premier Ferguson some years ago. Mr. Wikston tells The Advance that the education provided by the correspondence courses could not be excelled by any public school course. The fact that the children are being educated on this plan proves that the settlers are ready to take full advantage of any help given them. With proper roads they would undoubtedly make progress to success to the decided advantage of themselves and the country. On every occasion when any question has been placed fairly before Premier Ferguson he has shown both zeal and ability to solve the problem. There is no question of his sincere and wholehearted interest in the North. In the matter of roads for the settlers, The Advance would like to see Premier Ferguson personally give time and attention to the matter. There is reason to believe that in times past those he may have depended upon for information or advice have not considered matters from the standpoint of the benefit of the settlers. Other interests have paid advocates, but too often the settler is overlooked in the excitement of the big interests and big industries. The North Land will miss most of its possible future if settlement of the country and agricultural interests are not given prime importance. The chief need of the settler is for roads, roads, roads. Roads form the basis of all the development problems of the North. The Advance believes that every dollar invested wisely in this North for roads will return big profits for the province. The road question of the North is the big problem of the day, and as The Advance has repeatedly pointed out it must be approached in a big way. For success, the Government must coolly plan to spend millions on roads in the North for the use of settlers. In some parts of the North settlement has been proceeding very successfully and satisfactorily. These are the sections where roads have been provided. In other districts, the lack of roads has meant a deplorable waste of time and strength and human courage. If Premier Ferguson could see some of the struggling settlers who have put up so valiant a battle against odds, if he could talk to a few of the discouraged ones who have full reason for loss of hope, The Advance believes he would find a plan to remedy the situation. A few millions spent in roads in the North would be the making of this country so far as the settlers are concerned. Without roads the situation for the settlers does not show much promise.

During the past week Canada has suffered serious loss through the death of a number of outstanding citizens. Two of the most brilliant of the shining marks struck by death last week were Sir Lomer Gouin, Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec, and former premier of that province, and Sir Hugh John Macdonald, son of the great Sir John A. Sir Lomer Gouin brought prosperity and contentment to his province in the long years he served it with faithfulness and integrity. Only history may say if he were a great man, but none can deny that he was a good citizen and a useful one, which after all is natural greatness in itself. Sir Hugh John Macdonald was overshadowed all his life by his father's greatness, yet Sir Hugh John was himself a remarkable citizen of this Dominion. He had a wonderful charm of manner and was greatly beloved by all who came in contact with him. He was a pioneer of the great West, a veteran of the army that set Louis Riel in place, a premier of Manitoba, a member of the Dominion parliament, and for long years the police magistrate of the city of Winnipeg. He served his day and generation with successful effort and with loyalty and charm. Canada is the poorer for the death of such men as these.

On Saturday last The Toronto Mail and Empire observed its fifty-seventh birthday in pleasing way; it published as good a paper as usual, and that is something well worth while. The Mail was founded at the suggestion of the late Sir John A. Macdonald, who felt that the Liberal-Conservative party should have a good newspaper in Toronto to expound and explain and support the party policies. First The Mail, and then The Mail and Empire, carried this purpose through with success and credit to all concerned. To-day The Mail and Empire is a better newspaper from every standpoint than ever before in its history. To-day it is not only an honour to the party it supports, but it is a credit to the Dominion in which it is published. In no country in the world are newspaper standards held higher than in Canada and nowhere in Canada is the Dominion's journalism more effectively presented than in Toronto. Giving all due credit to The Mail and Empire of years gone by, it may fairly be said that no newspaper in Canada has shown greater progress during the past year or two than The Mail and Empire. It covers the news of its city, the province, the Dominion and the world in general with energy and noteworthy enterprise, while at the same time it eschews the foolishly sensational and the morbid. It is a paper written and arranged by skilled newspapermen for intelligent people, and its growing success is proof that there is a wide field in Canada for this type of better journalism.

DELIGHTFUL MOTHER AND DAUGHTER BANQUET MONDAY

The Mother and Daughter banquet held in the basement of the United Church on Monday evening was a very successful and pleasing affair. The event, which was under C.G.I.T. auspices, was largely attended by girls and their mothers and friends. The tables were tastefully decorated with flowers and blue candles lighted added a picturesque touch. Miss Wilson presided, and the whole evening was a most enjoyable one. Miss Edith Hill in capable way proposed the toast to the church, which was responded to by Rev. Mr. Parks. Miss Teresa DeMille ably proposed the toast to "Mother," Mrs. Monck responding. In addition, there were very pleasing readings and recitations by Miss Marjory Nelson, and Miss Leone Burton. A particularly pleasing and interesting feature was the C.G.I.T. camp fire scene included a gypsy visit. This was very cleverly presented. The Spanish dance by Miss Jean Sutherland was greatly appreciated, while Miss Margaret Easton presented the Sailor's Hornpipe in very effective and pleasing way.

A.S.D. CLUB EASTER DANCE SUCCESSFUL AND PLEASING

The Easter Monday dance by the A.S.D. Club was a most successful and pleasing event. There was a large attendance and all thoroughly enjoyed the evening. The music by Tommy Stephens and his orchestra was of the usual excellent type and was featured by several new popular numbers. The lunch served was another enjoyable feature of the evening. One of the novelties for the evening was the lucky number dance, the winners of this event being Miss B. McCracken and Mr. Jas. Cran.

BRIDGE, FIVE HUNDRED AND EUCHRE, THURSDAY, APRIL 11

A card party, bridge, five hundred and euchre, will be held in the basement of the Church of the Nativity, at 8 p.m., on Thursday, April 11th. The event will be a pleasant one and will be enjoyed by all.

A meeting of the Lancashire Football Club will be held on Sunday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, in the Hollinger Recreation hall. All players and those who may wish to play under the club's colours are cordially invited to attend.

Readers should 'scrape an acquaintance' with "Taylor's Weekly Sandpaper," as published elsewhere in this issue. They will not be "boarded" by it. It is clever stuff for "rubbing the corners off."

The schools in town will re-open on Monday, April 8th, after the Easter vacation.

Britain Resents the U.S. Gold Standard Policy

A cable from London, England, is a week says:—"The sterling exchange on New York improved last week and the result was that gold was kept in this country instead of crossing the Atlantic. There is little doubt that the favourable movement of sterling was officially engineered. Hints have been given in high quarters that it would be a profitable action for British holders of American stocks to sell at the present high levels. Such sales, of course, help the sterling exchange and obviate the necessity of increasing the bank rate. The Bank of England recently has also been purchasing gold in the market at a slight premium over the minimum rate. This is unusual procedure and it is taken because the British authorities strongly object to gold going to America to be sterilized.

"The Americans have awakened to the fact that something out of the ordinary is happening and their reaction rather amuses the experts on this side. There is Wall Street talk of 'a concerted action throughout the world to prevent the movement of gold to the United States.' The advancing of European money rates is given as evidence of this concerted movement. It is overlooked that European rates have only been following, at a respectful distance, the American rates.

"American policy is throwing a monkey wrench into the delicate machinery of the gold standard on which the whole world depends. If the policy of sterilization is continued the concerted action to prevent the movement of gold to the United States will be taken in earnest. There will be an embargo on gold exports to the United States!"

Mr. E. H. Bridger, one of the pioneers of this North Land, but now conducting a stock brokerage business in Toronto, was a visitor to Timmins over the week-end and was warmly welcomed here by his hosts of old friends. Mr. Bridger, who was for years manager of Homer L. Gibson & Co., has for some time been conducting a brokerage business of his own in the city, dealing only in securities that he buys and sells outright for clients, no margin business being done.

"TELLING TOMMY"

ARTISTS IN EGYPT WERE USING PAINT AS EARLY AS 8000 B.C. TOMMY. BY 1500 B.C. THE EGYPTIANS HAD A VARIETY OF COLORS ALMOST EQUAL TO THOSE OF THE PRESENT DAY. THE EGYPTIANS IMPORTED Madder roots from India from which they made the paint known as 'Madder Lake'. ALSO VARIOUS SHADES OF RED, VIOLET AND BROWN WERE MADE FROM Madder. THE ROYAL PURPLE OF TYRE WHICH WAS

By Pim

WELL, I WONDER IF THOSE OLD EGYPTIANS JUST GOT "Madder" SO THEY COULD "SEE RED"?
