KIWANIS HEAR FINE ADDRESS ON WORK SALVATION ARMY

Continued from Page One mentioned some of the particularly interesting cases he had met in this line of work. "Our method with these men when they have fallen into low ways is to get their minds occupied with good things and get them at honest work," said the captain. At the men's homes there were reading and smoking rooms for the pleasure of the men in the evening, and services were also held in the homes.

The work specially for women was another helpful and important line of effort by the Army. Unmarried mothers were given special attention and help and counsel. These women were taught house-work, sewing, how to care for their child, etc., and were often found situations after a year in the rescue home.

In the children's homes conducted by the Army, the youngsters were given a regular school education, as well as being otherwise cared-for and taught the better things of life.

Capt. Evendon paid particular attention in his address to the work among teen-age boys, knowing that this would particularly interest the Kiwanis. The methods used in this work were the same as in the other lines of Army endeavour. Honest work, clean living, and health of body, mind and spirit were emphasized. Special reference was made by the speaker to Hadleigh Farm colony, where boys were taught farming, dairying, market gardening, fruit-growing, nursery work, etc. After training at the school the boys are sent to work on their own and the majority of them make good. A branch of this work in Canada is at Woodstock, Ont. Some thousands of boys have been trained there.

"From the beginning of its social work," said Capt. Evendon, "the Army has endeavoured to keep away from the idea of charity, because of its tendency to pauperize the recipient, and so the Founder tried, and with evident success, the "work" scheme for the down-and-out and the hard-up. Besides work, we believe in intelligent recreation and so where circumstances permit entertainments of various kinds are provided."

Capt. Evendon spoke of the Army's police court work and its efforts for first offenders, whom the Army was often able to assist at what was the crisis in their lives. By a kind word, help cheerfully given, and surrounded by a beneficial influence, often the straying one is made to stop and think, and then begin anew under the watchful eye of the Salvation Army man or woman officer. Many of those he had mentioned, Capt. Evendon said, had become converted and had joined the Army as members.

Much of the success of the Army, the captain believed, was attributable to the fact that the most part of the work was voluntary. The only paid employees, practically speaking, are the officers, and even these are not guaranteed their salary. The Army bandmen, etc., serve voluntarily, and also buy their own uniforms.

"With all this work," said Capt. Evendon, "yet the main success lies in the fact that by many of the people whom we are successful in helping the gospel is accepted and so they govern their lives accordingly. One of the greatest compliments paid the Army was by the government in India when we were asked to take full charge of the settlement for criminal tribes. The people had never worked and were born and raised as criminals. The S.A., by tactics similar to those used in the home land, have done marvellous work among them and many have been reformed and converted. In all our mission work the officers dress and eat much the same as the natives. In our slum work the officers live right in the district. There is no spirit of aloofness shown by the Army's officers."

FIRE DOES $45,000 DAMAGE GOLDFIELDS THEATRE BLOCK

Work is in progress now on the repair and redecorating of the building. It is expected that the theatre will be ready for re-opening in less than a month. Mr. Leo Mascioli on Saturday last said that the building would be made better than ever in appearance, while it would be re-constructed as nearly as possible to be fire proof. The whole building will be renovated and repaired and will resume its former standing as one of the finest and most modern structures in the North.

Hand and Arm Crushed in Electric Wringer

Mrs. James, 20 Sixth avenue, met with a painful accident on Wednesday afternoon while alone in the house. In some manner or another her hand was dragged into the electric wringer she was using. She was able to turn off the power, but could not extricate her arm and was for some little time held in the machine. One of her little girls on entering the house discovered the situation of her mother and notified neighbours who promptly freed Mrs. James and summoned medical aid. Mrs. James was taken to the hospital where it was found one bone in the hand was fractured, while the wrist also was badly crushed. Mrs. James was able to leave the hospital last night, and no serious results are expected from the very painful accident.

Large Crowd Enjoyed Kiwanees Dance Friday

The invitation dance given in the Masonic hall on Friday evening of last week under the auspices of the Kiwanees was one of the most successful and enjoyable social events of the season. There was a large crowd present and all found the evening a very delightful one, with all features of the occasion up to the highest standards. The music for the evening was furnished by Tommy Stephens and his able orchestra. The refreshments and all other items on the programme were the very best, and the ladies of the Kiwanees were generally complimented on the pleasure and success of their event.

They are his most precious possession. So isn't it worth while to protect them from needless strain by having him fitted with glasses if necessary? Our examination will determine whether or not he requires optical aid.
