South Porcupine, May 15th. Special to The Advance.
A regular meeting of the township council was held on Monday evening with all present. M. Smith was appointed as acting clerk during the month of May while the regular clerk was on vacation. After the passing of the minutes of last meeting the following correspondence was read:—From Trinity United Church Schumacher re the parking of cars on church property. It was decided that to stop this was the business of the owners of the property, not of the council. A request from South Porcupine Fire Department for a sum promised them toward the purchase of uniforms. Later a grant of $300 was given, the same amount having been formerly given to the Schumacher Department. There were two or three letters re charity, one stating that a mother was now ready and offering to pay the debt for hospital attention for her daughter that had been charged to council, the others requesting help. Edwards, Morgan & Co., chartered accountants, sent copies of their financial statement of Tisdale township as audited by them. J. Huddleston asked for about eight loads of rock to be placed on Golden avenue road down by his hotel. Mr. J. T. Smith was present re an account for groceries given to an indigent family in town. At the time the family was not reported as indigent and a Mother's Allowance was being arranged for. As this is not retro-active as in the case of Workmen's Compensation when it came it was only for one month not for several past months as Mr. Smith had been led to believe. The council did not favour the paying for provisions supplied by any store without being fully authorized by the council but as this family is now being helped by the council and would have had to be sooner had not these groceries been supplied, one-half the bill was authorized to be paid, the grocer having to bear the loss of the other half. It was stated that in future no back accounts whatever would be paid if such were not fully authorized. A citizen was present re the transient traders act for a party who it turned out owned a lot in the township and was a resident. The solicitor was asked to look up the acts in regard to this. Mr. Bessette was present re an extension of the waterworks of the town to include some residents not now having such. The reeve remarked that the future of the town looked much more sure now than when the first installation was made for at that time the Dome seemed very uncertain, now it looks like just about the longest-lived mine in camp. He saw no reason why debentures should not be issued for some of the necessary extensions here where it was not flooded area, at the same time as they are being issued for Schumacher. Some of these people not having water, it was stated, have not been kicking, not even complaining, merely inquiring from time to time how soon they could expect it, and it was considered time they had it, now. The solicitor was asked to look up the by-laws re the steps to be taken. There was considerable discussion over some taxes due on the lots in Schumacher now owned by Trinity United Church. When these lots were first purchased a tennis court was erected thereon. After the assessment had been closed a member of the council at that time had come to the assessor and asked that those lots be assessed as they were not at that time being used for church purposes. The council and also court of appeal at the time upheld the assessment which was forthwith made. Donations had been received by the tennis club and this was construed as fees, hence giving their use a commercial aspect. Representatives were present on behalf of the church. Attention had not been paid to repeated notices sent out re the adjustment of these over-due taxes hence the property was now in the hands of the bailiff with the threat to close the door on Sunday if the taxes were not forthcoming. Considerable discussion ensued, involving whether the council were justified in withdrawing anything that had been placed in the bailiff's hands, and as to what did constitute church purposes. It was shown that the tennis club formed had been in connection with the church, the donations made had merely covered expenses of erecting courts, which afterward had not been suitable for the game and had been an added expense

when the church was built. The committee offered to pay the bailiff's expenses and the council finally wiped off the outstanding taxes as being on church property used for church purposes. One councillor who had been most urgent in his request for all outstanding taxes to be collected complained of the hardships when the bailiff was sent to church property but the committee themselves admitted that notices had been overlooked repeatedly owing to scarcity of funds. Hence it was that something had to be done to bring it to a show down and have it cleared up on the books. In the vote that was taken granting the cancellation Councillor Kerr was opposed and wished his vote recorded as such. He seemed to think it was creating a precedent. J. Huddleston asked for a reduction on his taxes owing to the cessation of his hotel business during two months in the flooded area. A twenty-year-old lad was in from the McIntyre to find out if he were liable for poll tax. As his birth certificate showed he would be twenty-one in July he found out he was liable and would be if twenty-one up to September. The reeve told him in a kindly manner that the penalty of becoming a man was that he would have to help keep up the community. After he left the council all remarked on the manly straight-forward way he had come in and just found out what was what about it instead of grousing around somewhere else about it. There was a letter from a widow in Schumacher asking that her back taxes be cancelled as the bailiff was taking action. I was shown she had a son at home earning good money an adult daughter, and at times was able to work herself. She owned her own home in which the family lived. The most of the council thought it was no case of hardship, just possibly rather inconvenient at the present, but that an adult son and daughter living at home ought to be able to support their mother so that she would not have to ask the charity of tax-exemption on the home that sheltered them. Other complainants were also found to not be so hardly used as they thought. Steps were taken to complete the deal with Mr. Klinga re the lots at the north of the ball grounds. The question was raised as to whether merchants could legally be prevented selling firecrackers to children before May 24th. It is to be looked up. The routine bills and accounts were passed for payment.
About 1.50 a.m. on Sunday last Mr. Henry Miller, our radio specialist heard Sydney Australia (2ME) with a 28.50 wave length. It was Sunday evening there. They were testing with 8XK Pittsburgh. A record "lebestroh" was broadcast from Australia. Pittsburgh picked it up and re-broadcasted it. Australia getting it back again in one-eighth of a second for the round trip. They gave the weather report while they had lost track of Pittsburgh for awhile, reported their high tide at 10.52 a.m. and 11 p.m. They also reported some London mining shares, the announcer having a decided English accent. Mr. P. Dougall, of Timmins, also heard the same place, and later phoned in to Mr. Miller. They are both writing to Australia to have their reception verified.
The band concert on Sunday night was very largely attended but the collection at the door was somewhat disappointing in view of the fact that the band are striving to raise enough to get uniforms. After the lights and cleaning of the theatre are paid for there would be scarcely more than enough to pay for one well-made sleeve of a uniform—that with an audience of close to five hundred. Nickels were very predominant in the collection plate and while some gave considerably more, there must have been others who occupied comfortable seats and enjoyed the fine music, who squeezed even their nickel until it couldn't be seen. The programme consisted of:—march, "Follow the Leader," by the band; duet, Mesdames Barry and Johns; band, "Songs of Scotland"; violin duet, J. Bridges and F. Calmeo; band, Junior Orchestra, with Miss Reynolds as accompanist, two loudly applauded numbers; band, Handel's "Largo"; instrumental trio, by three of the Italian band members—saxophone, banjo and guitar—encored the second time; solo, Mrs. Bessette; cornet solo, R. McWilliams, with band accompaniment; Paddy Gallagher in one of his imitable sketches; march, band, "Tropics"; Mr. W. Moore was accompanist for the evening and Mr. S. Kennedy was a very able chairman.
The euchre and bridge given under the auspices of the Roman Catholic Church this (Tuesday) evening was very successful. Quite a number from Timmins and surrounding towns were present and the large auditorium was quite crowded. In the bridge the winning ones were:—Ladies, first, Miss Rose Donlevy, a Crown Derby tea-pot; second, Mrs. C. Desaulniers (Timmins) a beautiful bridge cloth; consolation, Miss B. M. C. Shaw; gentlemen, first, R. Dixon, box cigars; second, A. Bucovetsky, smoking stand; consolation, Claude Desaulniers (Timmins). In euchre, ladies, first, Mrs. G. Helmer, electric lamp; second, Mrs. Stringer, cushion; consolation, Miss I. Parsons; gentlemen, first, Mr. J. Costain, pipe set; second, Mr. C. Kehoe; consolation, Mr. Joe Miller. Mrs. L. Grewcoe won the door-prize, a fine chicken. The picture painted by Miss Burns and given as a special prize was won by Mrs. Stringer of the Dome Extension. It was a tid-bit in art and Mrs. Stringer was delighted to be the winner. The orchestra formed for the occasion gave their services gratis and their classy music was much enjoyed. They were Gene Colombo, piano, Frank Sullivan, saxophone, Tony Aquino, violin, and Bruce McNab, traps. A bounteous
