KIWANIS PLAN APPROVED FOR WADING POOL

A man whom the mayor described as a widower with a large family, asked the council to assist him. He said he had eight children and this was more than he could look after on his salary. Some of the older ones had been getting into trouble lately and costing him extra money for broken windows and other mischief. The council could not see what they could do in the matter. Other men had to look after their families and though it was not easy to do so it was not impossible. To give the Children's Aid Superintendent and the Relief Officer further opportunity to look into the matter, the question was laid over to next meeting, though the council could not see how it could be expected to do anything in such a case as this one.

Routine accounts were authorized to be paid; rebates on water rates where water had not been used were allowed; and other routine business dealt with.

In view of the fact that the township of Tisdale will discontinue its scavenger service in the Bartleman township, and this section having been annexed to Timmins, the town will have to provide the service. It was decided to call for tenders for the collection of garbage, etc., for the whole town, including the new additions. The successful tenderer will be expected to take on the work by July 1st. In the meantime Councillor Caron, chairman of the Contingency committee was asked to arrange either with the Tisdale collector or the present garbage collector of the town to carry on the work for the Bartleman township until the work for the year is decided upon after the tenders are considered.

A Chinaman who had taken out a taxi license and found it difficult to get drivers to satisfactorily carry on the work, wished to drop the business and asked the council to give him a refund on the tax paid for the year as it was only used for a small part of the year. Mayor Drew thought any such refund would create a bad precedent and might cause all sorts of improper proceedings. Under plans like this there would be scores asking for such refund. Men would go in the taxi business during the nice weather and after getting their share of the cream would want to drop out and have part of their license for the year refunded. Asked for his opinion, Chief of Police McLaughlan agreed with the mayor. It wouldn't be fair, the chief thought. In any case the license was for a year and men purchasing them knew the rules and knew there was no refund provided for.

Effect of Sanctuaries on the Shooting Season

The wisest feature of the migratory bird treaty between Canada and the United States, in the opinion of Jack Miner, the Essex county nature lover, is that it prohibits the spring shooting of these birds, and he adds: "To those parts of Canada that do not have good fall shooting and complain of birds piling up in the south, let me say, establish a sanctuary and you will find these birds will congregate at your sanctuary for food and protection in the spring of the year and in fall will return with their families to your sanctuary. This system will give the 90 per cent. of the bird lovers who like to see birds alive first chance to see them in sanctuary and will increase the hunters' chances around outside of sanctuary a hundred fold. For illustration, here in Essex county, when I used to do considerable shooting, I never saw a wild goose on the ground in the fall until 1925. And what happened? My sanctuary was well established and birds were coming in spring and they started to come back in the fall, and the results are that I doubt if any county in Canada has had better fall goose shooting through the fact that this sanctuary is here and no shooting is allowed within one mile of its borders. Thus I say to you people who do not have any birds in the fall, establish a sanctuary and feed birds in spring and they will return to your county in the fall."

Jack Miner also points out that the treaty at present allows any state or province three and a half months open season, but that his tagging system has proved that ducks and geese are in the southern states only three or four months of the year. If then there is an open season for three and a half of these months it is unjust to the sportsmen of the northern states and of Canada. He therefore suggests that the open season on migratory waterfowl should be reduced to two months or less, with a bag limit of 15 ducks per day and 30 in possession. This, he believes would be fair for all, both north and south.

The matter of policing the sections recently annexed was referred to, also the question of fire protection, etc., for these new parts of the town. As the additions were now part of the town they were entitled to these services. As a matter of record, it was suggested that formal notice be given by town and township as to the taking-over of these municipal services by the town.

The tender of L. E. Dorway for the making of police uniforms for the police force was accepted by the council.

The next regular meeting of the town council will be held on Monday afternoon, May 27th, commencing at 4 p.m.

EXPLAINS PERCY'S SPEED

Dr. Charles H. Best of Toronto, who has conducted experiments with a great many athletes, says that Percy Williams of Vancouver is the world's champion largely because of the low friction of his muscles. The natural friction of the muscles is less in Williams than in any other person he ever tested, which enables him to attain his maximum speed of between 23 and 24 miles per hour within three

RANALD VANSICKLE ON WAY TO TORONTO BY MOTOR CAR

Ranald Vansickle left on Friday by motor car to pay a visit to Toronto. He is one of the earliest to attempt the motor trip this year, but was undeterred by reports that the road was bad part of the way. He expected to make the trip without any difficulty and before leaving here had gathered information to the effect that the whole strip of roadway was passable in his car, while only a few odd strips were very bad. Most of the highway is not in very bad shape.

Kapuskasing Interested in Branch of the C.A.S.

In its report of the last meeting of the Kapuskasing town council, The Northern Tribune says:—"Mr. C. Saville, as convener of a canvassing committee entrusted with furthering the organization of a Children's Aid Society branch in Kapuskasing, spoke to the Council on the C. A. S. and asked civic support. This was promised by motion."

In the editorial column of The Northern Tribune there is also the following reference to the Children's Aid work:—

"Now that a canvassing committee has the work in hand of organizing a Society, it is to be hoped that an active organization will result which can efficiently supervise public and semi-public work on behalf of 'neglected children' under the statutes of Ontario. It is vastly preferable to have this work done by a responsible body which can care for every case brought to its attention, rather than leave it to haphazard private efforts and charity. It is quite true that the Children's Aid Society have already done fine work around the Kapuskasing district, but they need a larger measure of local co-operation in their work. No one should decline to identify himself with this effort, when asked."

COBALT HOSPITAL SUING TOWNSHIP FOR ACCOUNT

An action has been entered in Division Court by the Cobalt Mines hospital against the township of Bucke for $36.75. The amount claimed is said to be due for hospital service for a North Cobalt woman. The suit will likely bring out many points in regard to such questions, as to what actually constitutes an indigent, and how far a municipality may be held by the courts in regard to such cases. The patient in the case referred to is understood to be at Gravenhurst now undergoing treatment. Perhaps the township will be faced with a heavy bill from that quarter also. The municipality in its defence in the case is understood to take the stand that the municipality can not be held liable in this case, the patient not coming under the heading of indigent. In this connection it is urged that the woman's husband is in regular employment and earning $4.50 per day and so should be able to look after any hospital bills incurred. In view of the fact that all the municipalities in the North have suffered seriously in their pockets through this "indigent" question in regard to hospitals, but especially in reference to outside institutions, the case will be watched with much interest.

BLACK AND WHITE PIERROTS ENTERTAINMENT MAY 21

Attractive Event Under Auspices of the St. John Ambulance Brigade in New Empire Theatre Next Tuesday.

The Black and White Pierrots entertainment booked for the New Empire theatre on Tuesday evening next, May 21st, one night only, under the auspices of the St. John Ambulance Brigade, of Timmins, should draw a crowded house. This will be a vaudeville show of over twenty performers, featuring the old legend of Pierrot and Pierrette, Harlequin and Columbine, as acted by the beach entertainers of the Old Country, with modern variations, song, dance and fun.

Most of those taking part are boys and girls under twenty, the principal boy, Millan Patriquin, coming from Monteith Academy expressly for the concert.

A five-piece orchestra under Burton Holland will be present and furnish the most attractive of music during the evening.

As noted above the show will be held in the New Empire theatre on Tuesday, May 21st, at 8.30 p.m. The chair will be taken by Mr. E. L. Longmore, ex-mayor of Timmins. It may also be noted that Mr. Leo Mascioli has generously donated a $50.00 cheque to the cause.

The proceeds of the show are to help the local St. John Ambulance Brigade raise money to provide extra equipment for use in cases of sickness, such as air beds and cushions, etc., which might be loaned out to those needy cases unable to afford hospital care. To do this, about $400.00 or $500.00 will be required. If the people of Timmins and district, however, fully realize the need and value of such equipment and the blessing it would prove to many, there will not likely be need for a second appeal for funds. On scores of occasions the worth of the St. John Ambulance Brigade has been fully proved, notably in the dark days of last year's Hollinger fire. That there will be general disposition to show support for the S. J. A. B. seems evident, and in this particular case it may be said that to attend the Black and White Pierrot entertainment will also mean to enjoy a very happy evening. The show itself will be well worth while, while the cause makes it doubly so.

The young folks have put plenty of real hard work into the show and it is sincerely to be hoped that the townspeople will give the girls and boys in this show a "big hand" and a crowded house on Tuesday evening.
