GRAVEL AND SAND—AND PLACER

At the present time there is much talk about the "talkie" movies. It is understood that the censors will watch the talking parts as closely as they have censored the printed and pictured sections of the motion picture films. In one of the best of the motion picture dramatic offerings dealing with war stories there were one or two scenes that would have been assuredly stopped had the censors been lip-readers of if the parts had been of the talkie type. During these scenes characters on the screen were noticed to use their lips in such a way that the only thing they could be saying was a word more or less popular with the rank and file of the soldiers but never used before the commanding officer in a drawing room. These words framed quite plainly by the lips of the actors on the screen went by without any protest, probably because only those who would not be harmed by the words were able to read them as the picture flicked by. It would be a different thing with a "talkie" picture. Another adjustment that the talkies will make necessary, if the censorship is to be all-embracing, is the case where the motion picture titles now make use of dashes and stars to express the thoughts and feelings of a character under certain particularly annoying circumstances. Into these dashes, stars and exclamation marks the public reads words that to them express the idea exactly. In the "talkies" if the ideas are translated into expressions such as "Ch. fie!" or "How annoying!" the portrayal of the situations will be greatly weakened. The Advance would suggest the use of the good old North Land expression, "Corrugated," pronounced with genuine North Land force and feeling. It will put a wealth of meaning and abusive elegance into pronouncements that would otherwise be weak and inane.

In view of the fact that a "talkie" movie is to be produced in Timmins this summer, there will be very general interest here in the advantages and troubles of the new form of motion pictures. One of the biggest difficulties in regard to securing perfect "talkies" is that actors and actresses who screen perfectly often have most objectionable voices or poor vocal expression, while some whose speaking voices are ideal do not take well before the camera. The old trick of using doubles is said to be used to overcome this trouble. The actor or actress with the perfect screen personality appearing in the part before the camera while another actor or actress with the gift of expression and a good voice is kept out of sight but doubles in the character for the purpose of producing the spoken parts. One of the greatest drawbacks that the talkie movie will have to overcome is the matter of improper voices. Many an actor has a magnificent personality but a voice like a Yankee gang leader, while some of the most beautiful of motion picture stars have voices as uncertain as their marriage condition.

The Orilla Packet and Times has apparently started a controversy in the press as to whether Adam and Eve were Conservatives, or Liberals, or otherwise. That is easy to settle! Originally Adam and Eve were Conservatives, this being proved by the fact that the country they lived in was called the Garden of Eden. Later, however, they broke away from the good faith of their fathers and joined the Labour party. The country will never be what it used to be until the Conservatives get back in power.

Hon. Wm. Finlayson is on a visit to the Old Country. It might be a good time to get somebody to put in a lot of needed roads for the settlers in this North while he is away. Apparently, they are not being put in when he is in command at Toronto. The Minister of Lands and Forests has built a monument for himself in the Ferguson highway. He would build milestones in the progress of the development of this North Land by constructing a number of badly-needed roads for the settlers all through the North,—with the exception of Mr. A. J. Kennedy's riding, where the member for the Legislature appears to think there are roads enough for the settlers.

Starting on Saturday of this week, Empire Shopping Week will be held in Canada. In a word the idea of this Empire Shopping Week is to give impetus in Canada to the buying of British-made products. Canadian goods as a part of the Empire products naturally come in for special emphasis. Loyalty must begin at home. This special week emphasizes this fact, with the further fact that in cases where Canadian goods in certain lines are not available, preference should be given to goods from other parts of the Empire. In view of the recent changes in the United States tariff, the Empire Shopping Week is particularly timely. The United States by its latest tariff changes has closed a large part of Canada's natural market. Canada must seek new markets. This country should seek its new markets within the Empire wherever possible. Under such a plan greater stability would be assured because Canada would be dealing then with friends and fellow countrymen. For years past Canada has been one of the best customers of the United States. In the past this country has been selling goods to Empire countries and using the money to buy goods from the United States. The United States has shown by its recent tariff changes that it does not want to buy Canadian products. Why then should Canada insist on purchasing United States goods, when British Empire goods from the Old Land and from the Dominions beyond the seas are actually superior to those obtainable in the United States. Empire Shopping Week is planned to demonstrate that superior products at reasonable prices are obtainable in all lines within the British Empire, and that it is the part of common sense, good business and loyalty alike to buy within the Empire so far as practical.

Recent finds of importance in Keefee, Geikie and Zavitz townships indicate the truth of the old saying that the surface of the mineral wealth of the Porcupine has scarcely been scratched as yet. Among those in a position to know, faith was never firmer in the Porcupine than it is at the present time. A local merchant advertises in this issue his belief that one year from now Timmins will be bigger by 3,000 more population than it is at present. This is a reflection of a very sincere and deep-seated conviction on the part of literally thousands in this camp that the Porcupine has not yet really commenced its full development and progress. It is the firm conviction that a long and notable life is still before the Hollinger and that the Hollinger is only one of a number of mining properties that will help to make this country great. At the present time, there is a sort of marking time. Everything appears to be waiting on the railway to Kamiskotia. It would be well for the railway, the mining properties and all concerned to note this fact. An official announcement in regard to the railway would be of great present value. No one questions the need or the value of the railway, and the public is entitled to the earliest possible definite and official pronouncement in the matter. The uncertainty is holding the North back at the present moment. A start on the railway would mean a further noteworthy impetus to the progress of the whole North.

Merchants in town have co-operated this week in featuring the Empire Shopping Week, a number of them putting special emphasis on the idea in their advertisements in this issue. Special mention in this connection may well be made to the able way in which advertisers like the T. Eaton Co. and the Pioneer Stores have stressed the real thought behind the Empire Shopping Week. The full-page advertisement elsewhere in this issue by the Pioneer Stores is worth very particular attention. The advertisement is a handsome one, even though The Advance does say so. And handsome is as handsome does! And this advertisement does handsomely. Patriotism, Empire information and business are combined in effective way, showing that these go nicely together. The purchase of Empire-produced goods is aptly urged, with the emphasis properly placed on Canadian products. "Help Canada and you help the Empire" would describe one feature of the appeal of this advertisement. Patriotism is backed up in this advertisement by good business. The array of prices quoted emphasizes the common sense of buying Empire goods. The whole advertisement is a proof of the truth of the turn of thought that business is good patriotism and patriotism is good business.

A number of complaints are being made this week about the action of the Tisdale police in the numerous charges laid against Timmins motorists for not having their automobile license cards when motoring in the township on Sunday. A number of those charged in police court at South Porcupine this week with breach of the law in this regard are men who have shown the keenest anxiety to observe the law all through in the past. They were fined $1.00 and costs, a total of about $12.00 for a technical breach of the law. The costs in the cases seem unreasonably high and out of proportion to the penalty otherwise considered sufficient to cover the situation. But is not the money cost that has annoyed those fined, but rather the stigma of being rated as a law breaker where the intention has always been to observe the law. Several of them have emphasized this fact, and also noted the truth that the offence charged against them was committed on a Sunday, and was due to a slip of memory, the necessary card not being transferred to the clothes worn on Sunday. Men who have their license cards feel it is a rather severe practice to assess them $12.00 for missing to carry it on one occasion. To most of the motorists the charge came as a surprise and a shock, though The Advance issued several warnings in the matter recently. While fully upholding the officers in enforcing the law, The Advance does think that in the case of the motorists who had simply left their cards at home, a warning might have been sufficient penalty for the first offence.

WHAT THE BRITISH EMPIRE MEANS TO LOYAL MEN TODAY

A paragraph from an article by the late Sir John Willison in The Nineteenth Century and After, July 1922, is well worth reproduction to-day, Empire Day, and for to-morrow, Victoria Day, and for the coming week, Empire Shopping Week, and for the days to come:—"In these days the power and majesty of Empire do not make the old appeal to men's hearts and emotions. The things written deeply in the history of Britain that we most value are the love of truth, the tradition that a man must keep his word, the obligation that a nation must keep its engagements. Nowhere in modern British history has Britain betrayed an ally, or treated a foe ungenerously, or provoked war among the nations. There is a great civil and Christian value in such a tradition, and it is of high consequence to the world, and particularly to weaker nations and unfranchised peoples, that such an Empire should endure. Through connection with Great Britain and co-operation with Great Britain, Canada has greater power to serve all the good ends of civilization than can be had through any autonomous nationality, or any independent alliance with other countries."

—Afternoon tea and home baking sale at the home of Mrs. M. B. Scott, 18 Hemlock street, this Saturday, May 25th, from 3 to 6 p.m. Come and bring a friend. Proceeds for United Church Ladies' Aid.

ACCIDENT ON RIVER ROAD ON SATURDAY EVENING LAST

On Saturday evening about midnight a car on the river road came to grief. There were some ladies in the car at the time and it was little short of a miracle that no one was seriously hurt. One lady had her arm hurt and this appeared to be the most serious injury sustained by any of the occupants of the car. The car apparently slewed on the slippery road and crashing into the ditch, overturned, the car turning completely over.

NO TRACE YET OF THE $9,000 PARCEL MISSING FROM P. O.

So far as can be learned there is no trace to date of the $9,000.00 in bills sent to one of the banks here and which disappeared after reaching Timmins. Postal officials visited here and carried on an investigation, but apparently no clues were secured to locate the missing money. It is understood that a P. O. inspector was here again this week and there are some who expect an arrest shortly.

The Cornish Social Club are holding an ice cream social this (Thursday) evening at the Hollinger Recreation hall.

Following the references to the snow, hail, rain and whatnot, as made in The Advance last week the weather this week has been much more seasonable. Readers are asked to kindly "touch wood" after reading this paragraph.

LEACH—In ever loving memory of Florence Archer, who departed from this life one year ago to-day. We are thinking of you, dear Florence, thinking of the past.

Picturing you in our memory just as we saw you last.

You suffered much with patience, physicians were in vain, Till God in His great love released you from all pain.

You did not fail to do your best, your heart was true and tender. You worked hard for those you left, that's something to remember.

Always so good, unselfish and kind, few on this earth your equal we find. Honourable and upright in all your ways, loyal and true to the end of your days.

You had a nature most loving and kind and a heart that was purer than gold. And to those who knew you and loved you, their memories will never grow cold.

—Pearl and Charlie.
