Tomorrow at noontime, enjoy a bowl of Kellogg's Corn Flakes with fruit and cool milk. Prepare it in a jiffy at home. Or order it in any cafeteria or restaurant. Kellogg's actually make you cooler. They're so easy to digest, they supply nourishment without "heating" the body.

Kellogg's Corn Flakes are ideal for summer lunches, suppers or breakfasts. Delicious with fruits or honey added. Children delight in their crispness and flavor.

It pays to make sure of Kellogg's whenever you buy corn flakes. They have that original "wonder" flavor discovered for Kellogg's. Always extra crisp.

Look for the red-and-green package. At all grocers. On diners. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

Hon. Chas. McCrea and Party Pay Visit to Iroquois Falls

Iroquois Falls Delegates to Masonic Convention. Iroquois Falls Lad Caught Big Fish. Pretty Wedding at Iroquois Falls Last Month. McIntyre Wins Baseball Game the Score Being 12 to 6.

Iroquois Falls, July 29th, 1929. Special to The Advance.

The Hon. Charles McCrea, Minister of Mines, Provincial Government Toronto, accompanied by the Rev. Capt. W. G. Martin, M.P.P., Brantford; A. V. Waters, M.P.P., Cochrane; C. H. Fullerton, Deputy Minister Northern Development Branch, Toronto; A. E. Manley, secretary to Mr. McCrea Sudbury; Ralph Keys, inspector for the Northern Development Branch, Matheson; and Geo. W. Lee, chairman of the T. & N. O. Railway, North Bay paid a visit to the Falls on Tuesday, July 23rd. They were met at the train by T. E. Silver, mill manager, F. H. Anson, H. L. Sanborn, G. J. Morrissette and Mayor Frank K. Ebbitt. Following this Messrs Silver, Sanborn, Anson and P. E. Wood played a round of golf with the visitors and dinner was served at the hotel from 7.00 to 8.30 p.m. After the sumptuous repast furnished by Mr. J. D. Kingston in his usual capable manner, several short after-dinner speeches were made by the Minister, Capt. Martin, A. V. Waters, C. H. Fullerton, Geo. W. Lee and Alec Dewar. Mr. T. E. Silver acted as chairman. Capt. Martin, who was paying his first visit to the North country, spoke in eloquent terms of the vastness, potential wealth, and opportunity of the Northland. He hoped that it would not be long until he would be able to take a similar trip. The Hon. Charles McCrea spoke of the trip, which took in the Sudbury district, where the inspection of mines took up some time, the Kenora District, Winnipeg, Fort Frances, Kapuskasing, Cochrane and Iroquois Falls. He itemized the various interests of the party along the route and spoke of the rapid development in these areas. The party, after leaving Iroquois Falls, visited Timmins and Kirkland Lake, making an inspection of the mines in these places. Following the dinner at the Hotel the members of the party were driven through the town by Messrs F. H. Anson, P. E. Wood, G. J. Thistlethwaite and C. F. Magurn. They met afterwards at the Director's lodge where various questions of local importance were discussed, after which the private train left for Timmins.

His Worship Mayor Frank K. Ebbitt and Thomas Mills, townsite manager, were delegates from the local Abitibi Masonic Lodge to the Masonic Convention of the Grand Lodge of Canada in Ontario which was held at Ottawa during the week of July 15th to 20th inclusive. One of the features of the convention from a local point of view was the address of the Hon. J. S. Martin, Grand Master, in which he referred to his tour of the North country last summer, and the impressions he obtained of the Lodges visited, and of the general character of Masonry. That portion of the address read as follows: "In Iroquois Falls the hospitality of the people is far-famed. This is the model town of its kind where all the property of the municipality is owned, and directly controlled, by the Abitibi Power and Paper Company Limited. One of the beauty spots of the Northern Lands, with its lovely parks, its wealth of flowers, its velvet lawns, its neat and well-paved roads, it is one of the gems of Ontario."

Jack Edg and Fred Guy paid a visit to Wataybeag on July 6th on a fishing trip. They brought back a lake trout 37 1/2 inches long, weighing 25 pounds which was caught by Guy.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Monday, July 15th, at three thirty o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Turk, Iroquois Falls, when Edith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Livingstone of Toronto, became the bride of Mr. Lee J. Barry, son of Mrs. Barry and the late Mr. J. Barry, of Kingston. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. P. Griffiths in the presence of a number of their friends. After the signing of the register a dainty buffet luncheon was served. The young couple received many beautiful and useful gifts.

McIntyre defeated the Falls team here Monday, July 22nd, in a Temiskaming Baseball League game by 12 to 6, thereby taking the lead in the second half of the schedule. Up until the seventh innings the game was close, the score at that time being 7-6 for the visitors. In their half of the eighth on three hits, two errors, a walk and four stolen bases, the visitors scored five runs, thereby cinching the game.

Eddy Angriem, playing centre field for McIntyre, featured their playing with four hits in five times at bat, two of them two bases. He scored four runs and stole four bases. Bennett's playing for the Falls was outstanding. He had two hits in three times at bat, one of them a two bagger, scored a run and stole three bases. Noble's pitching for McIntyre had the Falls fighting up-hill most of the time. He only allowed six hits all told.

The score by innings follows:

Sultan's Opinion as to "Man Who Won the War"

The following from a recent issue of "Our Empire," a London, England, publication, is well worth a careful consideration as indicating, perhaps from an unexpected quarter, the real identity of that man "who won the war." There have been many statements made as to the particular nation or nations really winning the war. In each particular case there was some others to object or contradict. In the selection by the Sultan of Zanzibar however, thoughtful people are very likely to feel that the distinguished visitor came closest to pointing to the actual type of Britisher responsible for the fact that after all the "muddling through" the war was won by men whom horror could not rob of humour and from whom carnage could not banish cheer. "Our Empire" in its article says:—

The Sultan of Zanzibar London's distinguished visitor, was being conducted some few weeks ago round Madame Tussauds, the world-famous waxworks (now risen anew from the ashes of the disastrous fire which completely destroyed it), and was enchanted with the exhibits. He came at last to the Hall of Kings, where the kings of England, from William the Conqueror to Edward VII, were standing in martial array. He admired their wonderful clothes, he touched the gleaming gold armour of Henry V. and pointed to the gold chain of precious stones which the warrior king wore round his neck. The little child Prince of Wales, the son of Edward I, claimed his attention for some minutes. He seemed lost in thought. Maybe the pageantry and pomp of English history were passing before his mind. It was an impressive moment.

The Sultan then passed into the other hall where the group of the present Royal Family and many other people of our own time confronted him. He was in his element. Round them all he went, recalling a bit of history here, a gallant deed there.

"There," he was told, "is the boy Cornwall, the Naval V.C."

A tender smile passed across his face. "M'toto sana," he said. "So young." Suddenly he stopped. His suite stopped, looked and wondered.

The Sultan was gazing with wide, bright eyes at the immortal Old Bill, in his dirty khaki, and tin hat, and his walrus moustache. He had no eyes for the brilliant generals, the gleaming admirals or the kingly company any more.

Round he turned and caught his son by the arm. Never had he appeared more dignified, more impressive. "The man who won the war," he explained.

Norman Leamen Manager Groceria at North Bay

In the course of a lengthy article on the opening of the new Eaton Groceria at North Bay, The North Bay Nugget last week says, in part:—

"The opening on Thursday morning of a second Eaton Groceria in the Fried block, 14 Main street east, to cater to the needs of residents of the city and district, was attended by a very promising omen of success when more than three hundred people assembled for the opening of the doors at 9 o'clock. During the entire day the store was favoured with exceptional patronage while Manager Norman Leamen and his capable staff rendered smart service in catering to the needs of the large number of first-day visitors to the store. In appointments this new addition to the Main street business section is claimed to be the most modern of its kind in Northern Ontario.

"Norman Leamen, under whose management the store is being operated, is not a newcomer to the city. For a number of years prior to going North a few years ago he was connected with grocery establishments here and in that time convinced the people of North Bay of his capabilities as a grocer. Mr. Leamen stated that it is the intention of the Eaton Groceria to carry a full range of domestic and foreign fruits throughout the year, and a special show window has been placed in the store front for the particular purpose of displaying such edibles."

HOW TO SECURE ASSISTANCE WHEN LOST IN THE WOODS

These days there are many city and town men who go out to the bush. Sometimes, if not oftener, they get lost in the woods. What to do? The answer is given by The Fort William Times—Journal. The story is passed on by The Advance without any responsibility being taken by this paper. If the scheme works the saved man or men may credit The Advance. If the plan is not successful and the lost persons remain lost and never return, they will scarcely be in position to say anything about it. The word of people who get lost in the woods should not be relied upon. However, here is the story as told by The Fort William Times Journal:—The two hunters had been out several hours and one of them had been growing uneasy. Finally panic overtook him.

"We're Lost!" he cried to his companion. "Shoot an extra deer and the game warden will be here in two minutes."

Toronto Mail and Empire:—The "Reds of Toronto who put the women folk in front of them to protect themselves from the police do not include chivalry in their curriculum.
