GRAVEL AND SAND—AND PLACER

A London, England, newspaper asserts that there is now a certainty that whiskers are coming back into fashion. It seems hard to believe. Short skirts for the ladies and long whiskers for the men appears to be like serving haggis at a bridge party. It would be a novelty.

Communist candidates for Toronto seats in the provincial elections received only a few hundred votes, so a newspaper friend of the communists rises on hind legs to remark that this proves that there are less than five hundred communists in the city and so the effort to make the communists observe the laws of decency and the country were unnecessary and evidenced unjustified panic on the part of the authorities. Argument of this kind is so foolish and unfounded that it is a wonder that supposedly intelligent people would insult the thinking powers of others by using this type of alleged reasoning. The communist vote in the elections at Toronto showed that there were nearly five hundred British subjects whose communism was more pronounced than their patriotism, their political affiliations or their common sense. Five hundred men and women, with the privileges of citizenship, and the avowed desire to destroy all religion and to tear down the British flag and all that the flag symbolizes, makes a group of malcontents that might well give cause for panic even in a city as large as Toronto. In addition, it should be noted that the communists who are able to vote are only a small proportion of the body of active communists. While in Toronto the communists who are British subjects by birth or by perjury have been kept to the front, it is well known that the greater part of those active in upholding communism in this country are aliens. Communism does not flourish in British hearts. It is a foreign germ, and while a few weak and wayward Britishers may contract the disease, communism remains a distinctly foreign virus so far as this country is concerned. The vote for the communist candidates in the elections in Toronto seats instead of proving that fears of communist aggression were unfounded, actually give startling evidence to the contrary. The communist theory, as actually worked out in Russia, is based in the idea that a few hundreds agreed and ready can terrorize hundreds of thousands unprepared and disarmed. Five hundred organized Empire smashers and religion despoilers in a city no larger than Toronto constitute a menace of serious proportions. The Toronto authorities did not move too quickly or too harshly in their efforts to combat the evil of those deliberately organized to overthrow religion and government in this country.

At the convention of the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association held in London, Ontario, last July a resolution was passed endorsing the adoption of a Canadian National Flag. The answer of The Advance to the resolution was the question as to whether the intention was to dispose of the Union Jack by handing it over to the communists for use as a dish rag, if any. There does not seem to be any escape from the fact that though the members of the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association were all filled with patriotic good faith in the matter, the people who are most anxious to have Canada adopt a new flag are more concerned with dislike for the present one than any regard for what the new design may be. To the majority of people in this Dominion the British Flag is truly their flag and they feel they need no other. An active minority, however, would like nothing better than to do away with the British flag, irrespective of whatever flag might be adopted. This week The Advance has received a letter urging the adoption of a flag bearing a star and four stripes as Canada's National Flag. The letter objects to the use of the maple leaf as representing temporary existence, and to designs of animals, fishes, plants and so on as unsuitable. Apparently, additions to the British flag are not desired. The chief hope is for a new flag. But the great majority of Canadians will feel that the flag of Britain with its wonderful history and inspiration will still serve best for Canada as in the past. The Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association apparently has weakened its prestige with patriotic people by lending its approval to a suggestion that in its essence throws a slight upon the British flag.

Buy a poppy on Saturday. By so doing you will help two worthy causes. You will aid the disabled soldiers who make and sell the poppies, and you will assist the relief fund of the local Legion that has helped and is helping so many returned men who are in difficulties or whose families need assistance.

TOWNSHIP OF TISDALE

NOTICE

Please take notice that the list of lands for sale for arrears of Taxes, in the Township of Tisdale has been prepared. Copies of said list may be had at my office in South Porcupine. And further take notice that I have caused said list to be published in the Ontario Gazette on the 28th day of September and on the 5th, 12th and 19th of October, 1929, and that in default of payment of taxes in full the lands will be sold for Taxes. CARD OF THANKS

Timmins, Ont., Nov. 5, 1929 To My Supporters in the Electoral District of South Cochrane. I desire to take this opportunity of most sincerely thanking each and everyone of the electors of the riding of South Cochrane who supported me during the present Provincial Campaign. I wish particularly to express my appreciation to my very ardent and enthusiastic followers in the Town of Timmins, South Porcupine and district for the wonderful way in which they threw themselves into this campaign. One cannot help feeling a deep sense of gratitude for the confidence expressed by the vote polled in one's home town. It is freely conceded by our opponents that we made a gallant fight and I am convinced that the element of time was the chief factor in the loss of this riding to the Liberals, together with the fact that hundreds found their names left off the Voters' List. Given a little longer period in which to complete our organization the results would assuredly have been reversed, particularly with reference to the Kirkland Lake district. Another matter which I desire to especially mention is the fact that the campaign was singularly free from personalities and fought in the open. The Ferguson Government have now an overwhelming mandate from the people of this Province and have once more the opportunity afforded them to carry out a more energetic development programme for Northern Ontario, particularly in regard to trunk roads to open up our timber and mineral areas, and better conditions for the settlers on whom the future of this country will depend. J. A. McINNIS, M.D. -45

The dry goods department of the Hollinger Store has a very artistic window this week that has been attracting considerable attention. The new materials artistically displayed are drawing special notice, while a very life-like figure of a man seated evidently near the glowing fire adds interest to the scene. Lost in thought the newspaper (The Advance, of course) has dropped from his hand, and he is no doubt thinking of the wonderful materials on display near him.
