BIG BUNCH OF LAUGHS IN BIG DRAMATIC MUSICAL HIT

Laughter will certainly be rocking the Goldfields theatre this week where Radio Pictures' dramatic musical hit, "Jazz Heaven," is the current offering.

Melville Brown, the director, has made the most of every comedy situation in the story. John Mack Brown and Sally O'Neil carry the romantic leads and Joseph Cawthorn, Albert Corbi, Clyde Cook and Blanche Friederich heading the supporting cast, provide a brand of merriment that has brought acclaim to "Jazz Heaven" wherever it has been seen.

"Jazz Heaven" tells of a young Southern boy who has gone to New York to attempt to sell a song. He has difficulty with almost everything, paying his rent, disturbing boarding-house tenants, getting just the right finish for the melody and a catch last line for his chorus. Then Ruth, a song plunger for a music publisher comes into the breach and tries to help the boy toward success.

Eventually his song hits the peak and "Someone" registers distinctly. "Someone" is the joint effort of Oscar Levant and Sidney Clare, Radio Pictures' notable song-writing team.

"Jazz Heaven" is now playing at the Goldfields theatre, Timmins, the dates being Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, Jan. 9th, 10th and 11th.

THREE MONTHS FOR THEFT AND ESCAPE FROM CUSTODY

Henri Berthier, Who Escaped Twice in Six Months from Police Escort, Sentenced Last Week. Other Police Court Cases.

Henri Berthier, of McIntosh Springs, who some weeks ago was picked up on street by Chief McLaughlin on warrants issued last summer charging him with the theft of a battery and also escaping from custody, and who escaped from the chief after being placed under arrest, who was captured again by Chief McLaughlin after a lively chase, pleaded guilty to the charge of the theft of a battery last summer and also to one charge of escaping from custody. He was sentenced to three months on each charge, the sentences to run concurrently, so that he will have to serve only the three months. Last summer Berthier was picked up at the station with a battery alleged to be stolen in his possession. He made a sudden dash for liberty and succeeded in getting away in the twilight. Warrants were then issued for his arrest on charges of the theft of the battery and for escaping from custody. On Dec. 21st Chief McLaughlin picked Berthier up on the street, but passing a laneway the arrested man made a sudden dash for freedom, but the chief kept after him, and, after chasing him for many blocks and through lanes and yards, succeeded in recapturing him. After being remanded for a week Berthier came up last Friday in police court here for sentence, being given the term of three months.

At the same police court the charge preferred against G. Murray, by Provincial Officer Hartlieb of keeping liquor for sale was dismissed. A charge of having liquor without a permit against Robitaille of the Timmins hotel was remanded to this week. An assault case was settled out of court. A fine of $100.00 was imposed on a charge of having liquor without a permit. Provincial Officer Hartlieb preferring the charge against a West Timmins woman.

E. Randall, Mrs. E. Randall and Mrs. I. Stevens were up for sentence at Friday's court on charge of being in possession of stolen goods. The three had pleaded guilty to the charges. Magistrate Atkinson gave them stern warning in the matter but largely on account of small children in the family allowed them to go on suspended sentence each of the three accused being required to furnish a bond of $300 for future good behaviour.

One odd case at last Friday's court might be said to be equivalent to a horse. It was a result of a collision between an automobile and a horse-

DISTINCTIVE PERSONALITY OF CANADIAN CHARACTER

Discussion of What Makes Canadians "Canadian." At Least There is Good Advice Suggested in This Article.

A recent issue of The Vancouver Sun contains a noteworthy editorial article under the heading, "What Makes Canadians Canadian?" The editorial is well worth consideration alone for the suggestion that Canadians may build up a distinctive personality for themselves by adopting the best in the American and British nations. There will, however, be question among thoughtful people as to The Sun's idea that Old Country people are "slow." A glance at the records for speed, in horses, men, locomotives, motor cars, airships and whatnot, does not leave much ground for the suggestion of British "slowness." There is a double-jointed myth to the effect that the British are "slow" and the Americans are "swift," but the facts give little ground for any fact foundation for such a myth. It might be more according to fact to say that the Older Land does things with less noise and boastfulness than is common in newer lands. It is not necessary, however, to belittle either British or American dispositions to reach the point of confession that a new country may improve on the personality of either these nationalities. It is in this line that the editorial is stimulating. There is a lot of boldness spoken and written in regard to Canada's status as a nation, but Canadian nationhood has no existence except in so far as there may be a distinctive Canadian personality. If Canadians are content to remain no more than child-like imitators of Old Land dignity and quietness or erratic copy-cats of New World bluster and hurry, the talk of Canadian nationhood is no more than idle noise. The ideal of Canadians should be to build up a Canadian character that is distinctive and effective and that commands its own respect. There is a suspicion that such a character would be 75 per cent. Old World honourableness and courage and perhaps 25 per cent. New World aggressiveness. To the Old World element, Britain, France and other nations would contribute.

The Vancouver Sun's editorial should rouse many to thought and consideration. Here is the article in full:—

"Every time an American comes to Canada to live, his secret determination seems to be to try and make this country Yankee. Every time an Englishman comes to Canada to live, he wants to make this country English.

"The resisting of these two opposing impulses is a good thing for this country, because it is what makes Canada Canadian. Canadian personality is welded out of the clash between English influences and American influences.

"Canadians are able to realize that the American is going too fast. His rational, scientific action, his business ambition tend to make a business machine which has created an astounding prosperity in United States.

"But have these things made Americans happier? Have they added to the richness and fullness of American life? Are the American standards of success based on true and lasting premises?

"The Englishman, on the other hand, is going too slow. His industrial philosophy is archaic. Maintaining a vast army of middlemen, he lets the workman do what the machine should be doing. He devotes his time to political philosophy and economic theories rather than to practical action. He is the source of big world talk and big political talk.

"But the Englishman has a cultural setting and an aesthetic background that the American, as a class, lacks.

"Canada cannot afford to adopt either English or American methods in their entirety. She must pick the best and apply them to her own peculiar problems.

"And the sooner Americans and Englishmen in Canada realize this fact, the sooner they realize that this is CANADA, the sooner will they become good Canadians and make the going easier for themselves.

"Meantime, the pressure from both sides is forming and building up a distinctive Canadian personality.

"And that personality is an engaging and a hopeful one. Johnny Canuck is sitting here with 3,729,665 square miles, including some of the most productive soil in the world; sitting here with vast resources, with minerals, including 95 per cent. of the pre-Cambrian shield, containing the great ore deposits of the world; sitting here with a variety of climate unequalled in any other country on earth.

"His vigorous Nordic temperament gives him the energy to develop his possibilities. His historic background gives him cultural appreciations.

"His achievements and his blood gives him a pride and a determination, as he sits here on his fortune, not to be led by the nose this way or that, but to make a distinct and powerful personality for himself and for his country, CANADA."

DOCTOR DISAPPROVED OF PATIENT'S DESTINATION

Patient—"I say doctor, don't you think it would be a good idea if I were to pack up and go to some place where the climate is warm?"

Doctor—"Good heavens! Isn't that just what I've been trying to prevent?"

RECIPE FOR LUNCH CAKE FOR LAST-MINUTE LUNCH

An Ottawa correspondent gives the following recipe:—

A lunch cake, which is very quickly made and is great favourite with those who often have to "hurry up" a last minute lunch, is convenient to keep on hand.

The recipe is: 5 eggs, 1 cup white sugar, 1 lb. seeded raisins, 1/2 pound orange and citron peel, 1 lb. butter, 1 small bottle marshmalo cherries. Cream butter and sugar, add the eggs, one at a time, and beat five minutes after each egg. Add fruit. Bake well in moderate oven.

According to statistics just issued, there were 205 golfers who made "a hole in one" last season. Of this number 23 were made by ladies, 12 of the 23 being in Ontario. Out of the 205 "hole in one" record, Ontario had 93.

Mrs. J. A. Legris was elected to the separate school board at Halleybury in place of her husband who resigned to contest the mayoralty in the town. Mrs. R. McGillivray was also elected to the Halleybury separate school board for this year. Several years ago Timmins had a woman on the public school board here with general satisfaction.

The Advance was in error last week in suggesting that the Imperial Welsh Choir, the famous choral organization which is to visit Timmins in the near future, is coming here under the auspices of the Canadian Legion. The Imperial Welsh Choir will visit Timmins about the middle of February, under the auspices of the Timmins Welsh Choir. The Timmins Welsh Choir deserves all sorts of credit for arranging to bring the Imperial Welsh Choir here, and they should be given the fullest support. On account of some of the leading members of the Timmins Welsh Choir being also prominent in the Timmins Post of the Canadian Legion, The Advance jumped at the conclusion that the Imperial Welsh Choir was visiting here under Legion auspices, while as a matter of fact it is the Timmins Welsh Choir that is giving the people of the town and district the opportunity to hear and enjoy this wonderful choir, the Imperial Welsh Choir.
