WILD SCHEME TO REMEDY WOLF MENACE IN ONTARIO

Plan of Mayor of Thessalon Sounds Rather Sarcastic. No One Can Blame a Northerner for Irony in This Case.

What can not be accomplished by sound sense and reasonable argument can sometimes be achieved by sarcasm or biting irony. Perhaps it is on some such plan that Mayor Alf Shaw, of Thessalon, has given out a new plan for the removal of the wolf menace in this province. The whole story of Mayor's Shaw's proposal is told last week by The Halleyburian in the following article:—

"Up in Algoma, where the wolf menace is perhaps more serious than in any other section of the Dominion, or at least where it gets more publicity, a new scheme for the protection of the deer has been put forward by Mayor Alf Shaw, of Thessalon.

"In Algoma, all sorts of schemes have been tried to kill off the wolves, apparently without much success. They have imported hounds from Kentucky, enlisted the assistance of city dwellers who pride themselves on their marksmanship, devoted columns of space in the Sault Star to discussions of ways and means for the elimination of the marauders, and all to no purpose. Some wolves have been killed, some real sport has been had by the hunters, who have even used aeroplanes on occasion, trappers have been moderate-up successful, but the wolves have gone on increasing in number and boldness and the menace, not only to the deer but to the farmers' stock as well, continues unabated.

"Now, according to Mayor Shaw it has been found that all measures so far taken to eliminate the wolves have been laid along wrong lines. His scheme is not to attempt their destruction, but to feed them so plentifully that their appetites will be so sated with fresh meat in their native haunts, that they will never venture near enough to the farms to be a danger to live stock. Also the food provided under the proposed scheme will be easy for the wolves to obtain that they will abandon all thought of the pursuit of deer, thus eliminating the destruction of the game animals. The scheme is a simple one. It is a plan to bring a sufficient number of jack rabbits from lower Ontario for breeding purposes and thus to populate the bush with these animals so that an abundant supply of food for the wolves will be available at all seasons.

"Mayor Shaw points to the fact that when the Algoma bush was thickly populated with rabbits, the wolves fed on them and let the deer alone. When the rabbits became scarce, the wolves were driven by hunger to seek other means of support and learned to chase and kill the deer. He claims it was the wolves and foxes that eliminated the rabbits and that when they are replaced, those predatory animals will again turn to them for their food and let the deer alone. Perhaps the experiment will be made and the rest of the country will benefit if it proves a success."

FAILS TO COLLECT DAMAGES ON CHARGE OF ALIENATION

Last week at the Halleybury assizes, Jos. Zuk, of Gowganda, sued Chas. Berdoux for damages for the alleged alienation of his wife's affection. Zuk claimed that he found Berdoux and Mrs. Zuk in a compromising situation last August at the Zuk home. Berdoux claimed that he had been guilty of no impropriety and had simply visited the Zuk home to buy liquor. He alleged that on the specific occasion referred to he had gotten a drink of gin and after that had not remembered anything that occurred. Several witnesses were called and testified to buying liquor at the Zuk home. The jury took some two hours or more to come to a decision but eventually decided against giving Zuk any damages. When the jury was polled it was found that ten were in favour of the defendant and two held out for damages for Zuk.

TEMISKAMING FISH AND GAME PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION

At Englehart recently there was formed an organization to be known as the Temiskaming Fish and Game Protective Association. The objects of the association are quite clearly indicated by its title. The association is planned along similar lines to the protective associations in Nipissing. It is the hope of the Englehart people interested to have all the other towns in the district represented. In a report of the recent organization, The Halleyburian says:—"At the present time, according to Dr. R. P. Smith, of the Railway town, about 20 have become members of the Association and provisional officers have been named. With a view of completing the organization and forming a definite conclusion as to its work in the interests of sport, a meeting will be held in Englehart on April 14th, when it is hoped to have representatives present from other points. Any suggestions that may be forthcoming from sportsmen in the surrounding towns and communities will be welcomed and they hope to have the support of the whole district. The Englehart men have compiled and printed the constitution and by-laws of the organization, and these together with membership cards, are now being distributed. The membership fee has been fixed at $1.00, a sum which will enable the association to function satisfactorily and it is felt that a good work can be accomplished in the better enforcement of the game laws and conservation in general."

Toronto Mail and Empire:—The publication of an explanation of his theory of relativity by Professor Einstein makes it very clear that the theory is thoroughly understood by the man who evolved it.

Fergus News-Record:—Nichol Township may just hold a record in the province. At a meeting of Nichol Council in Fergus recently, the members stated that so far as they knew there is not a person living on a rented farm in the township. Perhaps this also accounts for the wonderful success of Alex Moir, tax collector, who has for several years had the reputation for collecting every cent of taxes. This year the roll showed $34,835.78 taxes, all of which he collected except $6.64, which belongs to an estate on lot 18 which has not yet been straightened up. Even this may have been sent to the collector this week, as it was promised. If so, no municipality can equal Nichol Township's reputation of paying every cent of taxes for some years back.
