GRAVEL AND SAND—AND PLACER

The Advance was shown a cheque for three dollars last week, this cheque being alleged to be payment in full for three days' work for a man employed at a local lumber mill.

In a police court case at Halleybury last week a man described himself as a "stomach broker."

Jim Curran of The Sault Ste. Marie Star made himself famous by his wolf stories.

SETTLERS IN MUCH NEED OF GREATER ASSISTANCE

Conditions Very Bad for the Majority of the Settlers in This North Land.

The Advance received the following letter last week but too late for publication in the last issue.

Brower, June 13th, 1930. To the Editor of The Advance, Timmins. Dear Sir:—In reply to the editorial note in your issue of June 5th, in which you advise the settlers to organize to secure their needs and rights I would like to give a thought or two on this question.

parts of the Claybelt if they were organized and asking them would they please write our secretary at Brower and we would all try and work along the same lines for the benefit of all concerned, and try to better the lot of the settlers, but so far have had no reply.

I can assure you that the conditions under which the majority of settlers are suffering are bad indeed.

The petitions that were signed and all sent in to Toronto some time have had no reply as yet.

Perhaps, the Ontario Government is going to do the same as the Quebec Government did—ignore the pleas of the settlers until 20,000 left the country, and then offer to pay their fares back again if they could get them.

FURTHER QUESTIONS THAT INTEREST FOOTBALL FANS

Official Decisions and Other Information in Regard to the Rules Governing the Playing of Football.

Last week The Advance gave the first of a series of questions and answers covering many points in regard to football.

26—Name the offence for which a free kick, from which a goal can be scored direct, can be awarded?

Answer—Offences for which this free kick is awarded:—Against a goal-keeper who handles the ball outside the penalty area (except at a throw-in).

27—Can a player be off-side at a free kick?

Answer—When a goal kick is taken no player can be off-side.

28—What would be the award if the ball struck the referee and went over the touch line?

Answer—Should the ball strike the referee during the course of a game and go into goal or out of play, the award would be given against the player who played the ball last, just as if it had not touched the referee.

More in next issue.

PLANNED TO WRITE HISTORY OF FINDING OF HOLLINGER

The Halleyburian last week says:—"One of the ambitions of the late George T. Smith, which he failed to carry out before his death occurred, was to write a correct story of the discovery of the Hollinger Mine at Timmins.

other until it seems that the cards are stacked against him.

Last week a neighbour of mine made an application for a small loan from the Government to buy a few head of stock.

That he has been in the country nine years. The answer he got was that they could not grant the loan because the Abitibi Power & Paper Co. had been granted the flood rights on his farm.

There was a case where the settler was never considered at all. No compensation at all for nine years work done.

We took the matter up at our last meeting and we found that the settler's lot does not touch the river at all.

It is another case where party government has failed to give equal rights to all and special privileges to none.

H. GOODE.

Acton Free Press:—The question of ten arises as to when a man is intoxicated, and in court cases often proves a stumbling block for witnesses.
