ABOUT THE PASSION PLAY HELD AT OBERAMMERGAU

Rev. Fr. O'Gorman, of Timmings Writes Another Interesting and Informative Letter Relative to His Tour of Europe.

This morning The Advance received the following letter from Rev. Fr. O'Gorman in regard to his tour in Europe Munich, Germany, July 7th Dear Advance—We left Rome June 30th for our trip homewards. Father Martindale is chauffeur. Father Pelchat, of Haileybury, is the third member of our party. We made Assisi in time for a late dinner. Our other stops on our way hither were Florence, Bologna, Trent, Innsbruck and Oberammergau. We saw the picture galleries in Florence, including the original of the altar-piece canvas in my church at home; and the principal sights of the other places. The roads were generally good, though very hilly as far as Bologna. We got over the Alps by the Brenner Pass.

I should like to be able to do justice to the Passion Play. But as all express it who have been here it is above their expectations. Not above mine, of course, for I was here in 1910, and I knew what these simple Bavarian peasants could do. The only difference I found was that the new theatre is not only larger but better equipped than the old one and of course the traditions of the place have kept the Passion Play at the same high level which it won for itself years ago.

The Play began at 8, and lasted until 5.30 with an intermission from 11.30 to 2. The orchestra of 50 pieces, the choruses of 47 singers, the twenty tableaux and the many acts of the play proper, were all perfect. It would be hard to find fault. Of course the singing and speaking was in German, but with English text books in hand we could easily follow. Perhaps, if one could make one observation that is commonly held, the Christus of this year, though magnificent, is not quite up to the standard set by Anton Lang in 1900-1910-1922. For one thing his voice is not so sympathetic.

This morning we paid a visit to the famous castle of Neuschwanstein, built in 1860 by King Ludwig II of Bavaria. For site and architecture and richness of interior decoration, is simply beggars description. After seeing the principal beauties of Munich tomorrow we set out for the well known city of Nuremberg. Thence we plan to go to Wurzburg, Mainz, Cologne, seeing most of Western Germany and the Rhine. A short visit to Holland and Belgium afterwards.

ODDFELLOWS' PICNIC ONCE MORE A GREAT SUCCESS

There was a large attendance at the annual Oddfellows' picnic, held at Bay-side Beach yesterday, and all present had a very happy time. Bayside Beach is an ideal place for a picnic and the Oddfellows have always shown that they know how to arrange delightful picnic events. There were sports games, athletics and a general good time.

PUTTING AMERICAN "PEP" INTO ENGLISH LIQUORS

"Chanticleer" in the Daily Herald I am told that a well-known London-American proposes to open what he calls a genuine "American bar" somewhere in the West End. It will serve authentic synthetic wood alcohol gin and prime methylated spirit labelled "Very Old Scotch" at two dollars a drink, made in Cincinnati. There will be also real 21 per cent. American beer, which will be "shot" by a special spring with just as much pure alcohol as the customer requires. The projector assures me that visiting Americans find our hard liquor much too soft, and pine for their native "shebangs." If he is right, somebody will make some money.

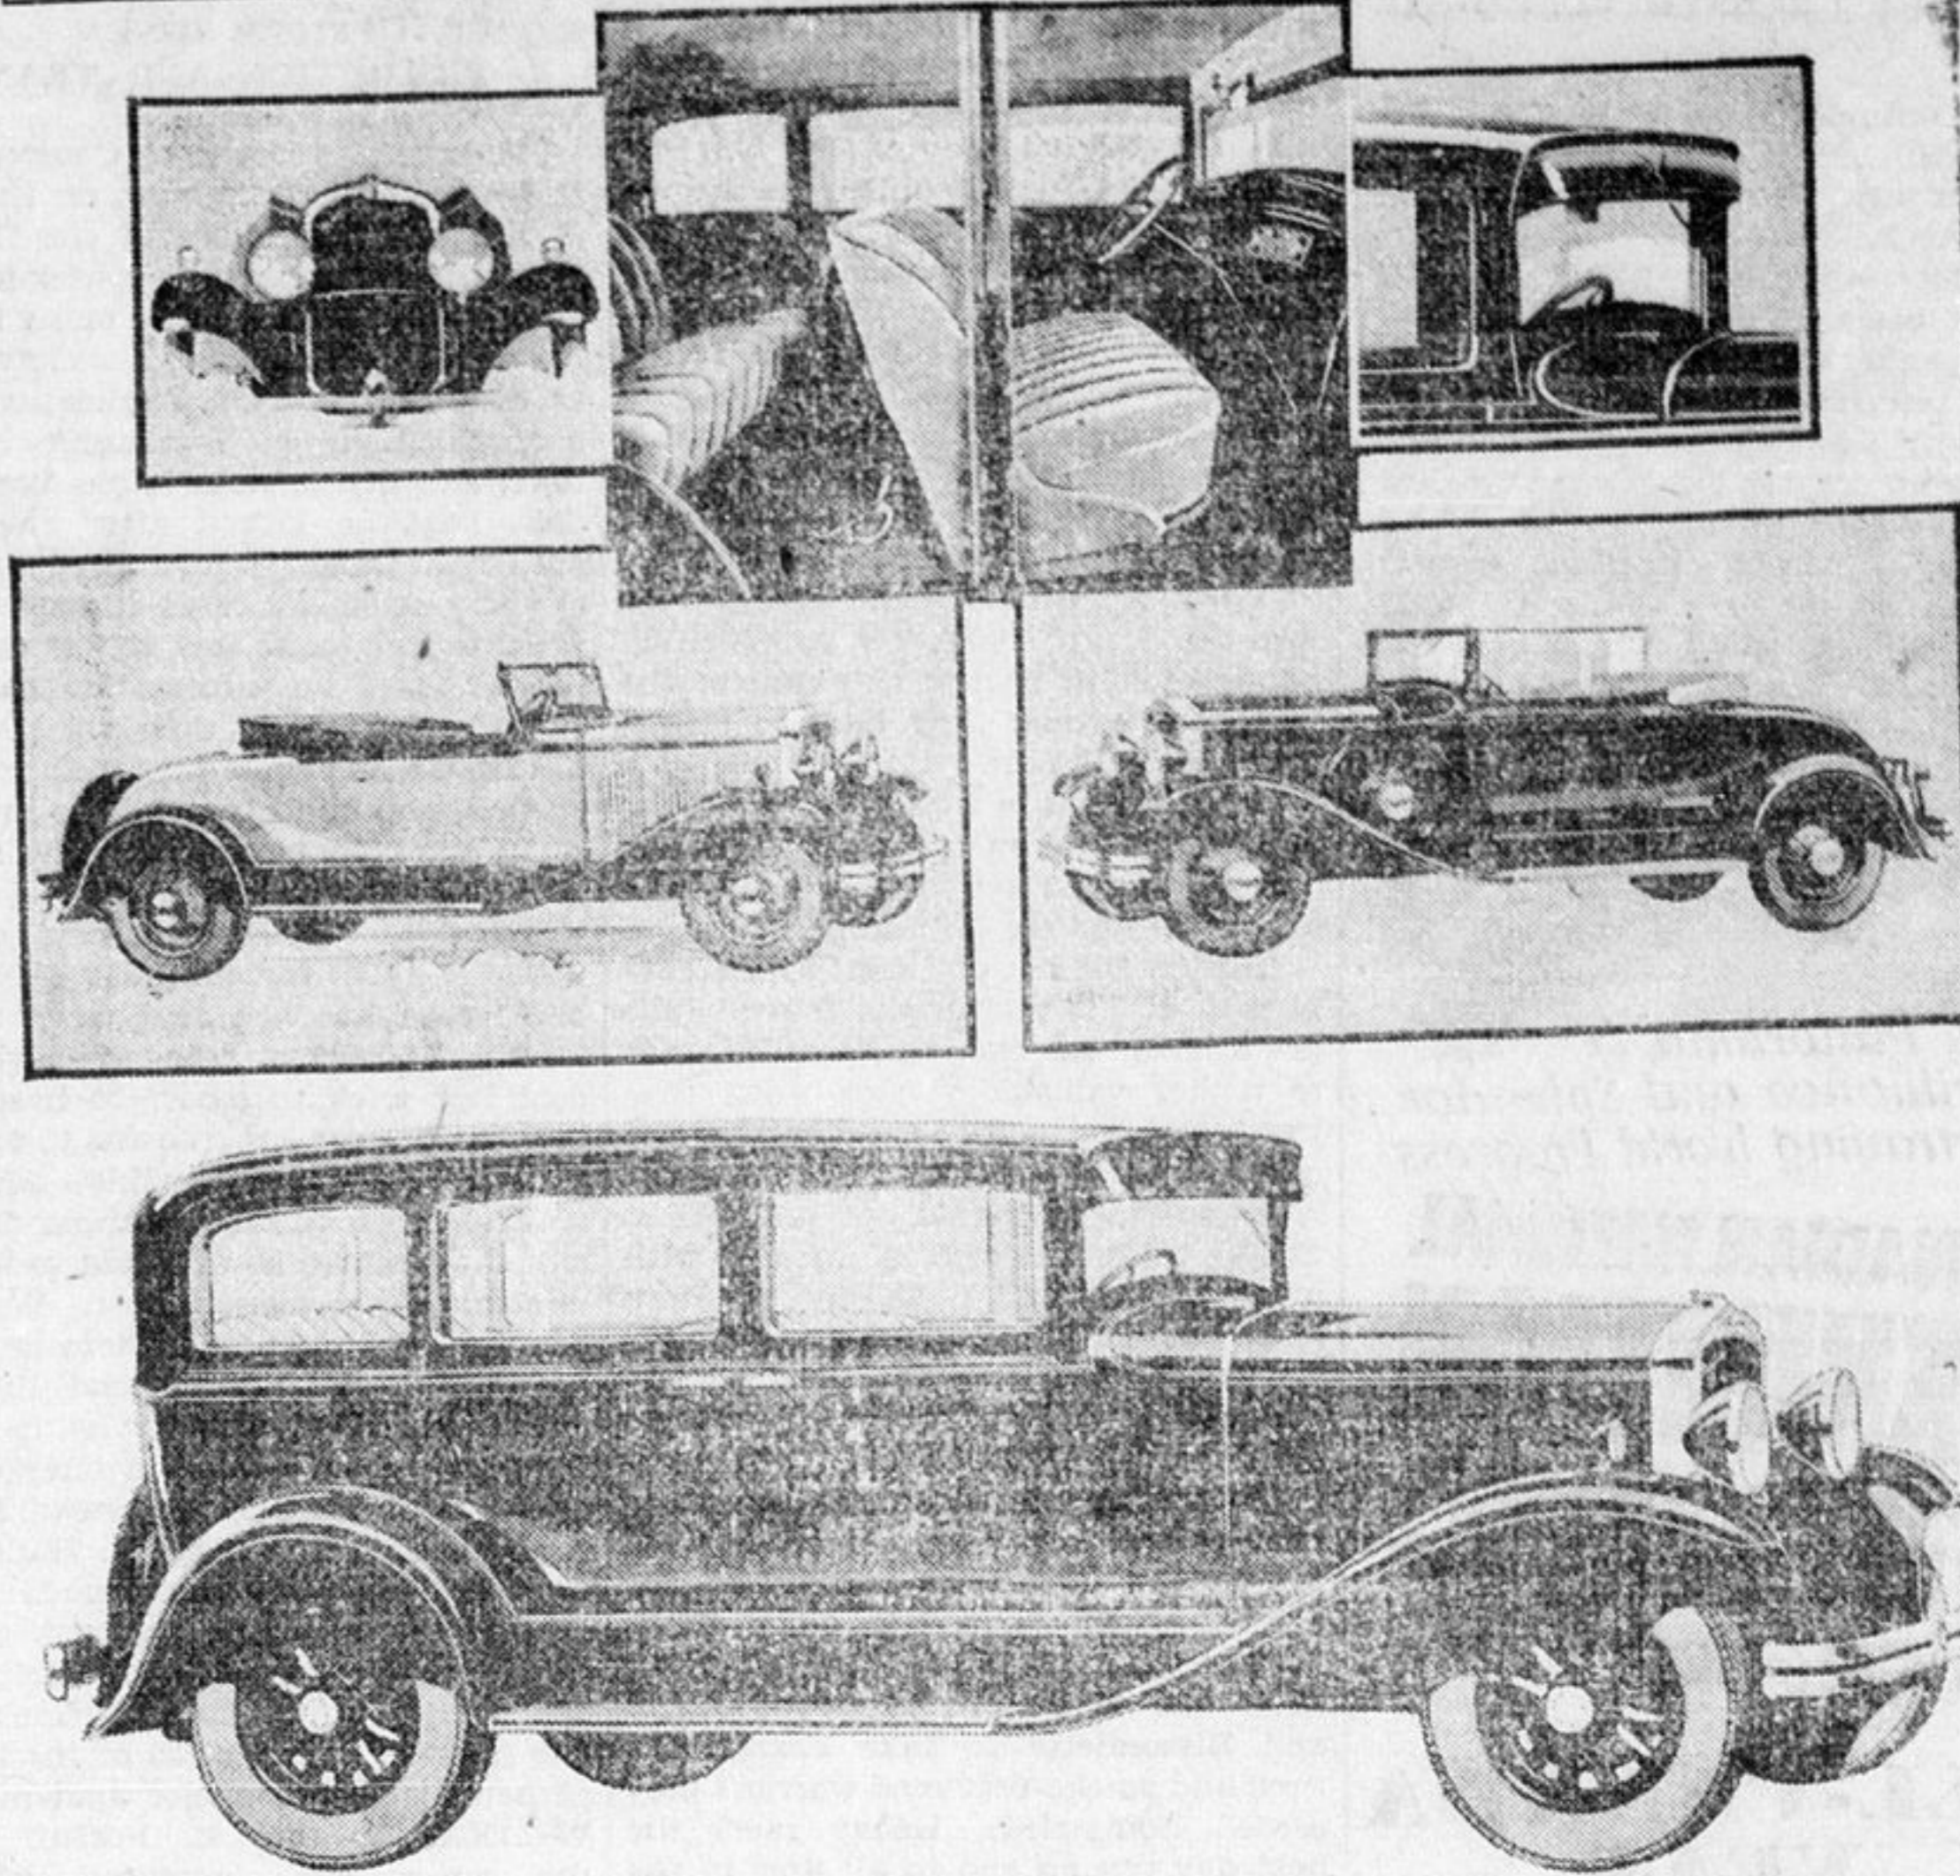

NATIONAL ANTHEM IN CHURCH

(Stratford Beacon-Herald) An old resident of the city was discussing the use of the National Anthem: "I recall when Rev. Malcolm Leitch was at Knox church some thirty-five years ago. The 24th of May came on a Sunday that year, and the minister asked the congregation to rise and sing two verses of 'God Save the Queen.' Just as soon as there was a start made two of the elders picked up their hats and made their way out of the building as quickly as they could. They explained that it was secular music and had no place in the house of God. In the evening the minister had something quite pointed to say about the incident, and to show how he felt about it asked that the National Anthem be repeated, and it was."

PROPER USE OF HOLIDAYS

(Winnipeg Tribune) Where shall we go and what shall we do on our summer vacation? There are still many people who have not yet come to any decision on this important question. For the benefit of those who wish to get the greatest good out of their holidays, we recall a statement made recently by Dr. Charles Mayo, the famous American surgeon respecting the longevity of the English as compared with Americans. Englishmen, according to Dr. Mayo, know better than any other race how to live to a contented old age. "Englishmen," he said, "know how to make proper use of their vacations. They make of their recreation times in the true sense of the word."

TIMMINS LINESMAN INJURED AT HEARST LAST TUESDAY

Mark Guigere Crushed by Telephone Pole While at Work About Four Miles East of Hearst on the Northern Telephone Co's Line.

Word was received in town last week that Mark Guigere, of Timmings, had been rather badly hurt on Tuesday of last week near Hearst while at work as a lineman for the Northern Telephone Company. It appears that he was injured while at his work as lineman, the pole on which he was working falling to the ground and crushing him beneath. It would seem that the pole was not deep enough in the ground or that it had not been fully anchored. In any event it fell and Guigere had his hip crushed as a consequence. He was fortunate perhaps, that his injuries were not more serious. He was taken to the Hearst hospital as soon as possible, and all possible care and attention given him there. From latest accounts he is making good recovery from the injuries sustained and will not suffer any permanent hurt from the accident.

Mark Guigere was employed for some time as a lineman for the Northern Telephone Company at Timmings and while here resided on Elm street. He went to the Hearst section about a month ago and was employed there by the company as a lineman.

Vancouver Province.—On a given day last summer, O. S. Finnie, administrator of the Northwest Territories, was at Aklavik, N.W.T.; Dick Finnie, son of O. S., was with the Canadian Expedition at Ellesmere Island, N.W.T.; Miss Dorothy, the daughter, was at Kingston Ont., and Mrs. Finnie was at Vancouver. All were in Canada and no two were closer together than 2,500 miles. Few have any idea of the vast area of Canada.

Prominent Citizen of New Liskeard Drowned

Word comes from New Liskeard to The Advance this week of the sad drowning accident whereby John Adams, Confederation Life Insurance Co. agent, lost his life. His car went into a slipway in the dock and submerged in about 16 feet of water. He was turning around on the dock at the time and went in backwards. He succeeded in getting free from the car, but drowned before help could be given. The sad accident occurred at noon on Tuesday, and the body was recovered that afternoon.

The late John Adams was a prominent and valued citizen of New Liskeard and his death will be a serious loss to the town. He was secretary of the New Liskeard Board of Trade and of the Kiwanis and an active, useful and highly-regarded citizen. He is survived by his widow and a daughter, to whom the deep sympathy of all will be extended.

SPIKED AN ELEPHANT (Co-operative News)

Reviewing briefly the history of the Press, Dr. (Hamilton) Fyfe said that forty years ago newspaper offices were very much like government offices. He was in the office of the Times. It was like a sacred hierarchy; and they wore top hats. They took life very leisurely—government office sort of way. They sat and waited for news to come in. Sometimes when news came in it did not quite fit their conception of what news was respectable news, and it was kept out. He remembered that on one occasion an elephant has escaped and was roaming the streets of Brixton. The sub-editor thought perhaps a runaway elephant was not quite respectable. He put the news on the "spike," and was known thereafter as "the man who spiked an elephant." The point about this story was thought that the sub-editor may have been right to keep that news out of the Times. But a man who spiked an elephant to-day would be dismissed immediately.

The beauty one sees in life is only a reflection of his own soul. —Exchange.

A good slogan for the ladies is "cry and get it."
