

CANONIZATION OF JESUIT MARTYRS OF 17TH CENTURY

Rev. Fr. J. R. O'Gorman, of the Church of the Nativity, Timmins Writes Another Interesting Letter from the City of Rome.

The Advance is pleased to publish herewith another very interesting letter from Rev. Fr. O'Gorman, who has been overseas on a visit to Rome and other centres of interest:—

Rome, June 29

Dear Advance—Canadians all have no doubt been more or less interested in the cabled news of the canonization of the Jesuit martyrs of the seventeenth century. It will probably be not too late to have a few additional notes on the subject from one who to-day was happy to be present at the historic ceremony in St. Peter's, Rome. Besides the Jesuit martyrs of North America, there were also canonized to-day Saint Robert Cardinal Bellarmine, a famous theologian of the same seventeenth century, and Saint Teofilo da Cortone, a Franciscan, born in Corsica in the 17th century.

It would be tedious to attempt to describe fully the process ordained by Canon Law before one is admitted by the Church to the honours of canonization, that is, officially declared to belong to the canon of the Saints. It will be enough to say that evidence beyond doubt must be adduced of the person's death as a martyr for his faith, or of his heroic practice of the virtues of sanctity. Further it must be shown that miracles beyond question have been wrought after prayer for the intercession of the holy person. Then such a person is beatified or allowed to be called "Blessed." Five years ago the Jesuit Martyrs were beatified. Since that time the examination of several reputed cures, said to be incapable of natural explanation, having led to their acceptance as miraculous by the authorities, has obtained for Brebeuf and his seven companions the honours of canonization.

From an early hour to-day thousands made their way to the Vatican Basilica. Among them were close to five hundred Canadians headed by Cardinal Rouleau, of Quebec, (whose preaching is remembered in Timmins) and several Archbishops and Bishops. St. Peter's always glorious had been splendidly decorated for the occasion, and illuminated by fourteen thousand electric lamps. Another temporary installation was a set of seven microphones and seventy loud-speakers.

At eight o'clock the procession which had been formed in the Vatican began to enter the Basilica. First came representatives of the religious orders of men, each group headed by a banner. Then similar groups of the Roman secular clergy; next the prelates, vested in cape and mitre; Bishops and Archbishops from every part of the world, and numbering a hundred or more. Finally, the Papal Court, surrounding the Pope who was borne under a canopy, and followed by twenty Cardinals.

It took from nine to ten-thirty for the ceremony of canonization. After the chanting of the Litany of the Saints and the "Come Holy Ghost," the Pope formally declared the eight Canadian martyrs and the other two holy men, to be enrolled in the canon of the Saints of the Church. The "Te Deum" brought this part of the ceremony to an end.

The Papal Mass, which followed, took over two hours. It was identical with an ordinary Solemn Pontifical Mass, as sung by any Bishop, with some interesting exceptions, which I shall note. One extraordinary feature was that the Epistle and Gospel were chanted in Greek as well as in Latin. There was a Greek choir for the responses in that language. Of the four chanters only one was a Cardinal who sang the Latin Gospel as Deacon of office.

After the Gospel the Pope made a short Latin address, praising the new Saints. An interesting ceremony followed the chanting of the creed. Several functionaries came up to the Papal Throne and presented the Holy Father with offerings of candles painted with the Papal arms, loaves of bread, tiny barrels of wine, and cages containing doves and birds of various kinds. Into the symbolism of these offerings there is not time to enter.

The Holy Father then continued the Mass at the Altar, facing the people. At the solemn moment of the Consecration, the Papal Guards presented arms, while from the gallery in the vast dome there sounded the musical notes of the silver trumpets.

After the singing of the "Agnus Dei," the Pope returned to his throne. Then the deacons of office carried Holy Communion to him from the altar, the Holy Father partaking of the Chalice by means of a golden reed. The deacons communicated with him.

Shortly afterwards the sacred function terminated with the Holy Father's solemn blessing. Then the procession reformed and returned to the Vatican Palace amid the enthusiastic plaudits of the assemblage.

It was their last glimpse of the Sovereign Pontiff for most of those who had come from Canada for the glorious event.

We may insert here that they had the privilege of a special audience, the previous evening in the Vatican. On this occasion they were paternally greeted by the Holy Father, who spoke to them at some length, in French on the glory of the Canadian Martyrs, and gave them wise counsels and kindly encouragement.

In the evening the Basilica of St. Peter's was again the centre of interest. The streets were thronged with spectators enjoying the magnificent spectacle presented by the illumination of the

Those interested in football are advised to cut out these questions and answers and preserve them as a sort of reliable rule book that will add to the interest of football:—

43. What does the law say regarding the position of players at the taking of a penalty kick?

Answer:—The penalty kick, which shall be taken from the penalty kick mark, under the following conditions: All players, with the exception of the player taking the penalty kick and the opponents' goal-keeper shall be outside the penalty area and at least ten yards from where the kick is being taken. The opponents' goal-keeper shall not advance beyond his goal line. The ball must be kicked forward. The ball shall be in play when the kick is taken, and a goal may be scored from a penalty kick, but the ball shall not be again played by the kicker until it has been played by another player.

44. Would the kick be ordered to be re-taken if the ball was kicked back instead of forward at a penalty kick?

Answer:—Should the player who takes the penalty kick, kick the ball backwards, a free kick shall be awarded against him, from which kick a goal can not be scored direct.

45. Is it necessary for players to stand behind the ball at the taking of a penalty kick?

Answer:—It is not necessary for players to stand behind the ball at the taking of a penalty kick.

46. What distance should the penalty kick mark be from the goal line?

Answer:—The penalty kick mark shall be made opposite the centre of the goal, 12 yards from the goal line.

47. Would a player be allowed to stand in an off-side position at the taking of a penalty kick?

Answer:—No player can be offside at a penalty kick, but offside may be given against a player for direct pass to man in offside position, or when ball rebounds from cross-bar to man in offside position, which makes it a direct pass.

48. What does the law say about a player who raises himself on his toes when taking a throw-in?

Answer:—An improper throw-in would be one delivered over the shoulder, or with one hand giving the impetus and the other merely guiding the ball, or if the thrower had not some part of both feet on the ground at the moment of throwing, or if he merely dropped the ball and did not throw it.

49. Explain how a player once in an offside position can again become on-side?

Answer:—Once a player is offside he cannot put himself on-side. This can only be done for him in three ways:—(a) if he is behind the ball or in line with it when it is next played by one of his own side; (c) if he has two opponents between him and their own goal line when the ball is played by one of his own side farther from his opponent's goal line than himself.

"The Boys From Porcupine"

At a recent meeting of the Timmins Kiwanis Club the following new Porcupine song was sung and greatly enjoyed. The words are by W. H. Wilson, and the application has been made for copyright for the song, the copyright to be vested in the Timmins Kiwanis Club. The song is likely to be adopted for general use by the local Kiwanis. The words and music alike have made a hit with the Kiwanis here.

"The Boys From Porcupine"
(By W. H. Wilson)
Dedicated to the Kiwanis of Timmins, Ontario.
(Tune—"The Stein Song" of Maine State University)
We're the boys from Porcupine,
Men of the North are we,
Home-land of the birch, spruce and pine,
A country that is bold and free,
Land that holds our hearts and homes,
Ever of thee we'll sing,
"Dear old Porcupine, we love you,
Of all the lands you are the king."
To the rocks, to the gold, to the mines
that are dotted all o'er the place,
To the hills, to the lakes, to the forests that cover your dear old face
To the men, to the maids, to the kiddies who brighten our lives up there.

Last of all, to our wives, in our joys and our troubles who share, so
Here's a health to Timmins Town,
Schumacher, South End, Dome,
We rejoice to come back to you,
No matter wheresoe'er we roam,
Hear the boys from Porcupine
Shout till the woods shall ring,
"Dear old Porcupine, we love you,
Of all the lands you are the king."

vast edifice, with a profusion of chemical torches. This display, usual on the days of canonization, was on a greater scale than ever, to mark as well the feast of Saints Peter and Paul and the closing of the Holy Father's sacerdotal jubilee.

A Solemn Pontifical Mass in honour of the Canadian Martyrs will be sung to-morrow by the Archbishop of Ottawa. After which we shall take to our motor for the trip homewards.

Since graduating with the highest honours obtainable at St. Joseph's hospital, Port Arthur, four years ago, the bride has been one of the most efficient nurses in this part of the camp. During the past year she has been dietician at St. Mary's hospital in Timmins. The bride left in a grey ensemble travelling costume, wearing a grey beret, grey shoes and hose and arranged a hand bag to match her costume. ### KILLED WHEN CAR CRASHES AT KIRKLAND LAKE SUNDAY

One man was killed, another was injured and two others were held by the police following an accident caused by the swerving of an automobile from the road at Kirkland Lake near the Lake Shore Mine. The man killed was Morris Whalen, aged about 23 years, of Kirkland Lake. According to the police who investigated the accident, Henry Stolz, owner and driver of the car, swung the car to avoid colliding with an approaching automobile. He had turned out from his own side of the road to pass a steam shovel being used for road improvements when he saw the other car approaching. Fearing that he would collide with it, Stolz swerved and crashed into the sidewalk, which is rather high at that point. Horace Bailey, of Kirkland Lake, who was passing, was knocked down and suffered a fractured leg which required his removal to the Red Cross hospital. Whalen, who was sitting between Stolz and Morris Porcheron, also of Kirkland Lake, was killed instantly, but the others escaped unharmed. Both Stolz and Porcheron were held as material witnesses pending the outcome of an inquest to be held this week. Provincial police said the automobile was badly damaged.

L'Action Catholique (Quebec):—The field is open to interpretations and reasonings. It is now opportune for the advocates of the two great political parties to demonstrate the full measure of their abilities. It is legitimate. Let them endeavour to convince the electors by reasoning which shall be just fair and above personalities. What Canada needs and what the people desire is peace and prosperity. On their side the electors should, before rendering their verdict on the 28th of July next, hear the views of both parties and ponder well on what they hear and read. Let them mistrust those who may make an appeal to their passions rather than to their reason.
