IN MEMORIAM

IN LOVING MEMORY OF CHAS. DALLEY, who died July 30th, 1926. —Ever remembered by his Wife and Son. -31p

IN MEMORIAM

KYLE—In loving memory of our darling son, Ellard Kyle, who passed away July 24th, 1928. What would I give to clasp your hand. Your dear sweet face to see; To hear your voice, to see your smile, That meant so much to me. His little hands are still. His little voice is still. A place is vacant in our hearts. That never can be filled. We wanted so to keep him. For he to us was given. For life is not the same to us Since he was called away. And Jesus called it otherwise. He wanted him in Heaven. —Sadly missed by Mamma, Daddy, Sisters Verna and Lola. -31p

Timmins Junior Ball Team Visits Kirkland

During the last week-end the Timmins Junior Baseball team visited Kirkland Lake and played with varying fortune. In the first game with Hudson pitching the Timmins lads won out with the score of 5 to 4. It was a nice game from the spectators' viewpoint and the Juniors showed up well against their older opponents. In the second game they were not so fortunate, however, the final score being 20 to 10 in favour of the Kirkland Lake team. The reverse was largely due to the fact that half a dozen of the Kirkland Lake players are left-handed batters and these are a hard proposition for the ordinary pitcher. In fact, there are few pitchers who like to see a left-hander at bat. One or two in a team is bad enough but a group of them like Kirkland Lake has is a tough proposition until the pitcher gets accustomed to their stand at bat. In the first couple of innings of the second game at Kirkland Lake the left-handed batters got in ten runs before the pitcher could get on to them. The games during the week-end were generally pleasing and the Kirkland Lake fans speak enthusiastically of the Timmins Juniors.

SISCOE PRODUCED $178,884 IN GOLD DURING SIX MONTHS

Official information given out during the past few days shows that during the period covering the first six months of the current year, the Siscoe Gold Mines, Limited, produced gold of the total value of $178,884.75. The tons mined were 16,836, giving an average recovery of $10.62 per ton. This compares with an average value of $10.53 per ton during the year 1929. The operating profit for the period under review was $53,062.14. During the present year the management have been busily engaged sinking the new shaft. This has now been completed and the cages installed. Stations have been established at the 150, 300, and 450 levels respectively. This stage being passed, an active development programme is now being pursued. This work is being concentrated for the time being on the 600-foot level of the "C" vein. The 600-foot level of the old shaft on the "C" vein is responding very nicely and so far 225 feet of ore has been opened up with the face still in ore. The vein is well defined, is of average width, contains considerable coarse free gold and is similar to the "C" vein on its upper levels.

NEWLY-MARRIED COUPLE TO FLY TO RED LAKE TO RESIDE

The Ottawa Journal on Monday of this week says:—"St. Matthias Church was prettily adorned with gladioli, baby's breath and other summer flowers, with bankings of greenery for the charming wedding ceremony on Saturday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock of Sheelah Marjorie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. T. McGill, to Mr. George Archibald Howes, of Parham, Ontario. Rev. W. A. E. Butler officiated. Mr. Harold Merrill presided at the organ and during the signing of the register, Mrs. T. R. Graham sang sweetly, "For You Alone." Given in marriage by her father, the bride was unattended. She was attractive in a Paquin model of royal blue crepe with an eggshell blouse. Her hat was of blue velvet and she carried a shower bouquet of pink roses and lilies-of-the-valley. Mrs. McGill, mother of the bride, was in flowered silk crepe in blue and tan shades and wore a black felt hat. Mrs. Chatterton Smith, aunt of the bride, wore a dainty figured georgette with hat to match. Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Howes, brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom, the Messrs. Mabel and Henrietta Howes, of Parham, Ont., and Mr. W. J. McGill, R.T.C.S. of Montreal. Mr. and Mrs. Howes left immediately after the ceremony for Montreal and Quebec to take the Saguenay trip. They will later go to Sioux Lookout, Ont., from where they will fly into the Red Lake district to the Howey Mines, where they will take up residence."

THIS SORT OF THING IS CERTAINLY AGGRAVATING

Last week The Simcoe Reformer printed a story that promised to be most interesting and amusing. It was one of those little yarns that fill up a little spot in the paper where there wasn't anything else just the right size to take its place. For a nice little spiky yarn it was just the right size, and it had a very promising start. Hundreds of the readers of The Reformer must have started to read that little yarn with high hopes, but they were sure to be disappointed. The yarn stopped just at the interesting spot. It was like the serials that used to be featured in the moving picture houses. In those serials the hero would be tied to a stump, for instance, and a half a ton of explosives discharged near him. The picture would show the effects of the tremendous explosion, and then the picture would fade away to be succeeded by a title slide saying that the hero escaped in some miraculous manner, but how? Curiosity would be about unbearable, but the promise of a continuation of the story the next week did hold out some hope. In the case of The Reformer's humorous little story there is no hope. The story stops at its most exciting point, but there is no hope. Search all through the rest of the paper gives no clue to what that blooming bolshevik did say. Curiosity in this case almost kills. Here is the little story exactly as it appeared:—

A doctor, an architect and a bolshevik were discussing the priority of their occupations.

The doctor said: "When Adam's side was opened and a rib removed to make woman there was a surgical operation—medicine was the oldest profession."

The architect said: "Yes, but when the earth was made out of chaos, there was the building process, the use of materials according to plan. The architect is therefore the oldest."

The bolshevik smiled and said: "And then the story ceases right there. Now, what in thunder did that blessed bolshevik really say?"

DR. JOHN A. PRITCHARD NOW SUPT. AT BUFFALO HOSPITAL

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Pritchard have just returned from a holiday visit to the South. On the trip they were the guests for some days of Mr. Pritchard's brother, Dr. J. A. Pritchard at Buffalo, N.Y. Speaking of Dr. Pritchard, The Brockville Recorder recently said:—"Dr. John A. Pritchard, a native of the vicinity of Brockville, who has been first assistant physician at the St. Lawrence State Hospital, Ogdensburg, N.Y., since 1921, has now been appointed superintendent of the State Hospital at Buffalo, with effect on July 1. Dr. Pritchard was born near Brockville, Dec. 31, 1879, and received his medical education at Queen's University, Kingston. He entered the New York state service in 1903, when he received an appointment on the staff of Brooklyn State Hospital. He later served at Willard and King's Park state hospitals before coming to St. Lawrence in 1913. He resigned in 1917 to take a position in the Glenmary Sanitarium at Oswego. Subsequently he re-entered the state service, receiving an appointment at Binghamton hospital, where he remained until he returned to St. Lawrence hospital January 21, 1921, as first assistant physician."

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Liard left on Tuesday morning for St. Hyacinthe, Quebec, Mrs. Liard receiving word the previous day of the death of her father there. During their stay in town Mr. and Mrs. Liard made many friends here and there was very sincere sympathy felt here for Mrs. Liard in her sad bereavement. Mr. Liard came to Timmins some weeks ago as campaign manager for D. Chenier in the election here, and both he and Mrs. Liard gave very earnest and effective service to the work here and in addition made hosts of friends by their geniality and enthusiasm.

Kellogg Co. Have Firm Faith in Advertising

A letter received this week from R. C. Smith & Son, Limited, advertising agents, Toronto, in reference to the Kellogg Company at Battle Creek, Mich., says in part:—"The Kellogg Company's business in Canada is steadily increasing, and the present plant in London, Ontario, is being taxed to its capacity this season to supply the demand for their products. This steady increase of their business is very pleasing to the Kellogg Company, and they feel that it justifies their policy of using newspapers as the backbone of their advertising effort."

Last week the following statement was authorized by Mr. W. K. Kellogg, chairman of the board of the Kellogg Company, leading manufacturers of cereal foods:

"Reports to the effect that the Kellogg Company is contemplating alliance with other companies in the food industry are being brought to my attention with increasing frequency. I wish to state with the utmost emphasis possible that all such reports are absolutely without foundation. The Kellogg Company is not now and never has been for sale."

"We have at various times, of course, received flattering offers from both related and unrelated lines of business. We in the Kellogg Company, however, have spent many years in perfecting our line of products and in establishing the reputation these products enjoy. We are not interested either in associating these products with unrelated lines or in submerging any part of the prestige that has been built up by the Kellogg Company."

"Furthermore, we hold strongly to the belief that healthy competition between large and solidly established firms is the best possible means for assuring the public increasing returns in quality and service."

"The soundness of these principles and the wisdom of the greatly expanded manufacturing and merchandizing programmes we launched at the beginning of the year in the face of the general spirit of depression have been confirmed by the volume of business we have done during the first half of 1930."

ASSESSED $31 FOR HAVING UNDER-SIZE SPECKLED TROUT

R. Edleston, game warden for the district, is making very special effort to assist in the conservation of fish and game, and so is paying particular attention to the regulations looking to this end. Fishermen and others would do well to make a note of this. Last week a South Porcupine man was assessed a total of $31.00 for having speckled trout under size and for having more than a day's catch. The fish also were confiscated, being given to South Porcupine hospital.
