STATEMENT MADE IN REGARD TO ASSETS OF BOBJO MINES

In response to enquiries in regard to the standing of the Bobjo Mines in the Red Lake area, the statement was made last week that the assets of Bobjo Mines include 600,000 shares of San Antonio Mines and 4,800 shares of Dome Mines. In addition to this is a plant on the Bobjo property at Clearwater Lake valued at around $25,000.

These assets have a liquid value of about $150,000 at present, and they represent a value of about five cents on each of the 3,000,000 issued shares of Bobjo Mines.

Besides the assets mentioned, is an option on control of San Antonio Mines, plus close association in extensive territory in the lead-zinc field of Great Slave Lake.

SOCCER TO CONQUER WORLD

(London (Eng.) Daily Express)

Some 10,000 people turned up on Saturday to watch the practice game of the Queen's Park Rangers, a plucky fighting club, but one that has still to win promotion from the Third Division (Southern) of the Football League. That shows the hold which "Soccer" has on our people. It is far and away the most popular national game that is played anywhere, and the signs are plentiful that before many years have passed it will have conquered the world.

MINING CAMPS NOW SHOW FLOURISHING CONDITION

Depression Elsewhere Emphasizes the Value to the Country of the Mining Industry. Mining Towns Getting Back to Prosperity

Scores of people going down south this summer for their vacation remarked on their return to Timmins on the fact that business and general conditions were better in Timmins and other Northern towns than down below. "Well, I found that business was very bad down below," was a typical statement by business men and others, who were inclined to add that Timmins was still the best town they knew. Of course, conditions here are not so good as they were; the town has suffered from unemployment, and there is still unemployment to overcome; but conditions here are probably much better than elsewhere. This does not mean on any account that people in other places should think that they should flock to the North. That would be a serious mistake for all concerned. It is likely that measures will have to be adopted to give preference in unemployment to old residents of the camp, and the people have shown already that they are ready to prefer those who have conducted business here for years and given good service to the public. The fact is that the whole country has been facing hard times and Timmins and other northern towns have not escaped. It may be well, however, for all here to realize that they have been better off than lots of other places and that the North Land has more than held its own under the general depression. So far as Timmins is concerned there is not much extra work expected in this immediate district for the coming winter, so there will be considerable planning necessary to care for the employment of all in the camp already. The coming winter will present its own problems for the North Land, but it is hoped that matters will turn out as well in the coming season as they have done in the past year or so in comparison to other places.

In making reference to general conditions throughout Canada and contrasting these conditions with the situation in the mining camps The Northern Miner last week says:—

"During this period, when many of the industrial areas of Canada are slack and unemployment is large, it is stimulating to pay a visit to the mining camps. Especially are the gold mining towns of Northern Ontario flourishing. The population of Kirkland Lake has doubled in two or three years, and is now approaching 8,000 people. A great deal of house building is proceeding. More men are bringing in their families, and the people of the district believe the population will reach 10,000 in the Township of Teck next year.

"Timmins, which was sunk in a slough of despondency following the cutting down of Hollinger tonnage two and a half years ago, has regained all of its buoyancy, and a decidedly optimistic sentiment rules.

"At Sudbury there has been recession in business, due to the completion of International Nickel's construction work, and the marching away of an army of 5,000 men who were employed on that work. As the townspeople knew that the building up process meant a high temporary influx of workers, they did not overbuild themselves, and are now enjoying the full benefit of the largest permanent employment the district has ever seen. Sudbury, recently grown to city status, looks forward to continued expansion as production of its metals increases.

The establishing of new plants connected with metal operations, such as Ontario Refiners and Canadian Industries, have contributed to the size and stability of the city.

"Even Cobalt, which one might expect to see quiet because of the lowest silver price in the camp's history, is as busy as ever. Its work and activity as a distributing point for mining equipment and services has expanded along with the industry.

"Government figures for the first half of 1930 show that employment in Canadian metal mining stood at 147.7, as against 132.4 during the same period in 1929. The enlargement of production by the gold mines is the chief element in this advance of the index number. General mining during the half year ended June, 1930, stood at 116.8, as against 116.3 in the first six months of 1929, and metal mining took up the slack caused by the falling off in coal mining and other non-metals. There has been an increase in employment in Northern Manitoba mining fields, in important parts of British Columbia, as well as in Northern Ontario. And in Quebec, the growth of the town of Noranda this summer has been remarkable. In this Quebec mining centre a large number of new buildings are being erected, most of them of a permanent looking character, and the place is taking on an imposing aspect.

"The prosperous condition of the gold mining industry, with its larger working crews, naturally finds reflection in the business life of the towns, and must greatly stimulate wholesalers of Toronto and other cities at a time when business derived from most communities is on the light side. It should be pointed out and strongly emphasized, however, that these northern mining towns are well equipped with merchants and other business men. Attracted by stories of great mining developments, a large number of business men have tried recently to establish themselves, some successfully, in these communities. It took some time for a large proportion of them to be convinced that the earlier established merchants, through their knowledge of

Highlights on the New Bennett Govt. Budget

Following is a summary of the principal changes brought about by the new Bennett tariff proposals:

One hundred and seventy items repealed; 134 new items enacted. All effective now.

Substantial increases announced in customs duties on iron and steel, textiles, boots and shoes, farm implements and paper.

General tariff on agricultural implements raised from 10 to 25 per cent., to curtail imports from United States and foster Canadian industry.

Duties on textiles, clothing, carpets, rugs and the like substantially increased both against Great Britain and United States. In one instance the general tariff is raised from 37½ to 50 per cent. This is on item 567A, covering clothing, wearing apparel and other articles of which the chief component is artificial silk. Japan, Czechoslovakia and United States especially affected.

New feature of textiles schedules is enactment of specific, in addition to ad valorem, duties on many lines imported from United Kingdom and United States.

Knitted goods of all kinds subjected to higher duties.

Tariff increases on boots, shoes and slippers will hit United States on leather footwear and United Kingdom on felt slippers. General tariff on boots and shoes, pegged or wire fastened, is raised to 35 per cent. and on other boots and shoes, slipper and insoles of any material to 40 per cent., while British duties are increased to 25 per cent. on the former class and are unchanged on the latter.

Paper duties are jacked up, while drawback on paper used in magazines is struck out.

Duty on hops is increased by 300 per cent., from 4, 6 and 7 cents per pound under the British preferential, intermediate and general tariffs, respectively, to 12, 20, and 24 cents per pound.

All dumping duty provisions are brought into conformity with the Ryckman act now before Parliament to stop dumping of goods in Canada at slaughtered prices. This is aimed particularly at American goods which are foisted upon the Canadian market at distress prices.

Customs tariffs are aimed to prohibit importation of goods from any country not a contracting party to the Treaty of Versailles. This is to exclude Russian anthracite, shipments of which have been coming into Canada during the past year.

Countervailing duties against United States imposed by the Dunning Budget are repealed and special duties are imposed against the commodities and animals which are covered by the countervailing. These include horses, living animals such as cattle, sheep and lambs, live hogs, fresh meats, prepared or preserved meats; eggs, butter, peanut butter, hops, oats, oatmeal and rolled oats, rye, wheat flour and semolina, cut flowers, potatoes, soups.

Duty is increased on gasoline, petroleum, etc., from British Empire countries from 1½ to 2 cents per gallon but it remains unchanged from other countries. This is aimed at one British company which has no refinery in Canada. Other companies have undertaken not to increase price to consumers.

Duties on common window glass substantially increased. This affects $1,000,000 annual imports from Belgium.

Provision is made for a duty on tractors to foster Canadian industry.

CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAY TO TAKE UP RADIO

Production of radio sets and parts increased 65 per cent. in Canada during 1929 as compared with the previous years with a total value of $20,966,137. Canada also imported from the United States sets and parts to the value of $10,784,156. The popularity of radio in Canada increases yearly. The largest chain is operated by Canadian National Railways with 16 stations operating on a coast-to-coast hook-up. The same company also operates receiving sets on all its principal trains and was the first railroad in the world to introduce radio reception as a feature of railroad travel. A number of other railroads have since followed its example.

KIRKLAND LAKE MAN FINDS HE TOOK CHICKENS BY ERROR

A Kirkland Lake man made a bad mistake recently in attempting to secure a case of beer to carry on a party. He told in police court when he was charged with the theft of the chickens that he had paid $8.00 to a certain man for some beer and later he picked up what he thought to be the beer, but later turned out to be a crate of chickens. While he was carrying off the box the owner came along and grabbed him, holding him until the police arrived. The accused in his defence said that in the evening he and some friends had been drinking at his home when the supply was exhausted and he went over to the house of a man he knew and arranged for the purchase of a case of beer, the payment for same to be made the next day. He was caught carrying off what he said was his case of beer but which the police found to be a crate of chickens. He was fined $20.00 and costs, the total amount running over $40.00. The magistrate told him that the story was one of the most original the court had heard in some time—which is going some.

Roadster, $1030; Business Coupe, $1055; Coupe (with rumble seat), $1095; Four-Door Sedan, $1110. All prices f.o.b. factory, including standard factory equipment (freight and taxes extra).

DE SOTO STRAIGHT EIGHT

There is no doubt about it—public preference is swinging to Eights, and De Soto is making the luxury of eight-cylinder motoring economical.

The low price of the new De Soto Straight Eight is in itself sensational, but it is the fine quality of the car together with the price that makes it so popular.

Quality fairly gleams in the beauty of the car; reveals its presence by the luxury and nicety of all appointments; is clearly evident in both engineering and careful craftsmanship. And it shows itself even more forcibly in power range, in speed, pickup and smoothness—in a performance thoroughly superior to that of many higher-priced eights.

It is the combination of this quality, this performance and this low price that makes the new De Soto Straight Eight so phenomenal in value. We are eager to give you a demonstration.

VARIED SERVICES AT ONE COBALT CHURCH RECENTLY

Services held in St. James' Anglican church at Cobalt on a recent Sunday were remarkable for the variety they showed. They were unique in that untidely, they encompassed a number of phases of life. Sunday had been set aside as the annual harvest thanksgiving, and appropriate music and addresses had been provided for this occasion, while the building had been beautifully decorated. In the afternoon of that day, a funeral was held from the church, Percy H. Findlay being buried from St. James, and on Monday afternoon, with the arrangements of flowers and fruits still in place, a wedding was solemnized. The principals in this ceremony were Miss Ruth Collins, formerly a Sunday school teacher at the church, and Mr. Roy Bilborough, of Kirkland Lake. In between, on Sunday evening, the women of the Rebekah Assembly attended church in their annual parade to divine service, and in the afternoon of the same day, the children of the congregation had been present at a special service on their own behalf and relating to the harvest festival. The anthem, "Ye shall dwell in the land," by Sir Robert Stainer, was rendered by the choir at the regular services, Miss Helen Coon and George Bullen taking the solo parts and the choir boys rendered a special hymn, solos being rendered by Bert Kennard and Bobby Johnston.

local conditions and requirements, had first call upon customers, and even now, with some semblance of sound commercial conditions beginning to emerge at Timmins and Kirkland Lake, any business man thinking of locating in the north should think twice and investigate carefully before making a definite step. And as for the new towns of Flin Flon and Sherridon, the difficulty has been to keep more storekeepers from flocking in than there are residents."

"Thank you for your wonderful kindness and fair play."

Over a year ago a certain young lady bought a Confederation Life Policy, with Total Disability and Double Indemnity Benefits. A few months later, she became seriously ill. She thought—she could not obtain the Total Disability Benefit before the policy had been in force a year, but the Benefit went into effect the moment the policy was issued. Moreover, while receiving disability benefits, she did not have to pay any premiums and the insurance remained in full force.

Confederation Life Association,
Dear Sirs:
Your letters to hand yesterday and today. The cheque was safely enclosed. I have been going to write and thank you for your wonderful kindness and fair play. I only held my policy such a short time and I was under the impression that I would have to have it a year before I could draw benefits. The Confederation Life is certainly a very wonderful and square Company, and I shall always do all I can to further the Company's interests.
 Hoping that I shall soon be in full health and working, and again thanking you and wishing the Company every success.
Yours very truly,
