Orilla Packet and Times—There is need, apparently for a movement to raise the standard of political morality in this country. Too many the idea seems to be, not how much can be put into public life, but how much can be got out of it.

CANADA'S DESTINY IN HER WATER POWERS

LESS than seventy years ago there was no electricity supply for lighting, power, or other purposes. Practical utilization was confined to land telegraphy... Young united Canada was quick to visualize the possibilities for social and economic revolution in the new force... She confided her hopes of national greatness in hydro power and has accordingly developed electrically in a manner unparalleled.

Seeing that we had an honourable mention, as Col. F. J. Pickering calls it, in The Duck Board last week it is up to us all to have more honourable mentions in the future. The Legion spirit has at last awakened from its long sleep, and we must not let it go to sleep again. Everyone in the Porcupine to-day is watching the Legion, and the Legion is also on the watch in the Porcupine. The Legion keeps faith with the disabled is our motto, and we want comrades to keep faith with the Legion. Keeping faith means getting your dues paid up, getting new members, and setting a good example for others to live up to. Out first teaching in the army was "Example." Let us keep this teaching in our minds through life. Our example to-day has netted us many many new members for the branch. The way we do our business has earned us a good name with the business men in the Porcupine. It is up to us to strive to hold the good name we have earned by good example shown at all times by comrades of the branch.

Having a little leisure now I would like to comment on the fine big increase of membership and the class of men who are coming forward. I noticed amongst the applications one of Comrade Liemen who hails from Norway. Comrade Liemen served nearly four years with the Canadian Forces, doing his bit for his adopted country. We have several more comrades in the branch like Comrade Liemen and I'm sure it's a pleasure to get the application forms of these comrades who will be always sure of a hearty welcome from their comrades in the Timmins Branch, as no matter what a man is he was man enough to give his best for his adopted country, under the good old Union Jack. Looking through others one noticed the modest manner in which some are made out. Many have served since August, 1914, and make no mention of any medals at all. We see that some can wear the M.C., D.C.M., M.M., etc., some demobilized, some discharged through wounds which made them unfit for service. Some have given service in many climes. Some have given many years in the regular forces. In fact one feels proud to be associated with these comrades as we all are comrades whether we served years or days. I might add that men of the stamp of Comrade Liemen certainly show a good example to the many ex-soldiers who have not come forward to join the Legion. It shows they are still ready to assist the old flag in times of peace. By joining the branch they not only assist the old flag, but they count one more, yes many more comrades of this great world-wide League. They are on the inside looking out, instead of on the outside looking in, which many of the ex-soldiers in the Porcupine are content to do to-day. This should be a fitting example for those who are not in the Legion yet, a good lead for them to follow.

I might add that I received a letter from Lt.-Col. Pickering, our 1st Vice-president, congratulating us upon receiving honourable mention in The "Duck-Board" which is a small pamphlet issued monthly by the Ontario Provincial Command. I wrote Col. Pickering wrote back and gave some advice for some Legion news that might interest the readers as one likes to change the tone of the letters sometimes. Col. Pickering wrote back and gave some advice and where to write to get an idea of how to conduct a publicity column. I replied that we had no trouble at all in conducting "The Legion in the Porcupine," but a little news would help at times to change the subject as one does not like to have the same subject each week. Apparently the Editor of The Duck-Board has been watching The Advance as he writes that all branches should write for The Advance as he has never yet seen a better Legion column in a paper, which speaks well of The Advance and the branch here. Considering "The Legion in the Porcupine" is often written in the "wee small hours" we ought to feel proud of honourable mention in The Duck-Board. Sometimes I have to cut down to short letters as I already put from 90 to 100 hours a month in to keep the Branch in good shape and to keep every comrade informed of our doings, but the splendid progress made and the good comrades we have in the branch is well worth sitting up into the wee small hours of the morning.

I had a surprise this week. I had received a letter from a comrade a week or so ago containing an application form for membership. As the letter did not contain any fees or dues, I typed out the duplicate and put them to one side, as I cannot put forms forward that are not accompanied with the fees and the first quarter's dues. I received a letter the other day from this comrade stating that he had enclosed a $2.00 bill in the envelope as he had no time to get a P.O. order. The $2.00 bill may have been enclosed but it was missing when I received the letter as I wondered why the application had been sent in without the $2.00 as this comrade had wrote me for an application form to be sent to him in the first place. Now I want to give the comrades of this branch a little advice. By sending currency in an envelope like this you not only put yourself in wrong with the postal officials, but you place an officer of the Legion in a bad position if the money is lost in transit. I have received considerable money in letters and the receipt is sent by return of post. A P.O. order is the best way to send money as it places us all on the same level. Some of the suspended members last year came and put forward the same story, and of course I had to inform them that we could not take their word, that they had sent in their dues months before I took over the position of secretary-treasurer of the branch. This way of sending in dues is not fair to the man who has these dues to look after. If the dues do not reach the secretary then the secretary comes in for unfavourable comment, which is due to the comrade's own fault in the first place, and so as to place us all on a level footing, dues can be left at the president's office who will issue a proper receipt for money received, or they can be brought personally to 165 Spruce north, or given to a comrade who will deliver them safely. One special feature of this branch is to issue a proper receipt for all moneys received, which is both a check on the secretary-treasurer, and a receipted bill showing that the comrade has paid the account, and the account has been received by the secretary-treasurer. For money that is handed in to the president, the secretary-treasurer gives the president a receipt for what he has turned over to the secretary-treasurer, so there can be no mistake on the part of the officers of the Legion who are responsible for the funds of the branch. These words may appear to be a little too straightforward, but we do not want any comrade to say he has posted currency in a letter and the letter arrived but not the currency. So everyone bear this in mind in the future when sending dues.

Quite a little of the $9,000.00 I handled last year came to me in currency and this is the first complaint that I've had about currency since I took over the duties of secretary-treasurer. We had one complaint last year about a postal order being sent but upon enquires we found that the postal order had never been issued. There is another thing that comrades sometimes do which costs the Legion a little of its funds each year. Outside of Timmins and Schumacher we have to pay 15 cents to cover cashing of the cheques sent from outside these two places. So when sending in cheques on accounts outside of Timmins and Schumacher, kindly add 15 cents extra for exchange, as the branch had to pay this before it can get the money. Just remember that a cheque for $4.00 sent in from an outside place only covers 3 quarters dues and 85 cents of the remaining quarter. This may seem rather "Scotch" but right is right at all times, and dues sent in in this manner stated are not right if the branch has to pay 15 cents to get the money. I trust the comrades will excuse this little talk, but it was forthcoming and it is no use thinking these things; it's far better to out with them. Since starting this letter I have a letter from the comrade who stated the $2.00 bill had been put in an envelope and he states that he has now found that he put the money in another envelope altogether and has apologized for his mistake, which makes the matter look better, but nevertheless I hope to have no more dues come in that manner.

Our dance at Schumacher, though not so well attended as usual, was greatly enjoyed by all the patrons present. The lucky door number (a cash prize of $5.00) was won by Mr. Martin who shared the same with his lady friend, Jimmy McFadden's orchestra was at its best and the snappy music was greatly enjoyed by all present. The Ladies of the Auxiliary provided a splendid repast; the quality and quantity could not be beaten in the country. We will have another of those splendid dances on Halloween Night, Oct. 31st, and Jimmy McFadden will again supply the music. There will be good prizes at this event as well as the lucky door prize. So, everyone bear this in mind and hunt up your best mask and costume for the ball. The same popular prices will be charged and the ladies can be depended on to have the best of cats for the occasion.

Sees Many Advantages In the Ferguson Route

Some of the reasons why the Ferguson highway should form part of the Trans-Canada highway are given here with in a letter from that old-timer, H. A. Preston:—

"On the Ferguson highway and west of Cochrane to Hearst there are hundreds of farms and settlers and this is one reason why the Trans-Canada highway should be by this route," says Mr. Preston. Continuing, his letter says:—"Many of these farmers would have a job with their teams and the money they earned would be spent to build themselves a better home than they log one that they now live in, and this would mean more employment at the lumber mills and other places and at the same time increased freight on the T. & N. O. Will it not be more sensible to help the settlers who live along the highway, than to put the new highway through two rocky, rough parts where there are no settlers? In the latter case the wages would go to travelling workmen who go from town to town or from one job to another. Give the farmers their share, for nothing else in Northern Ontario is of more importance than the farms, and without farms gold mines, paper mills and everything else would be useless. The food we eat to live and the clothing we wear come from the farm. If all farmers wanted to get together they could make things one hundred times worse than unemployment is doing to-day. Thousands of men and women would sooner have a good meal than a dollar each these days. Are we going to spend money on a road that benefits only one thing instead of one that benefits twenty? Why do we have so many special trains with boards of trade and newspapermen, etc., coming up the T. & N. O. and on the C.P.R. to this North? If it is so interesting, then it is the right place for the Trans-Canada highway."

THE RIGHT TO SECEDE

(Brisbane Courier)
There is the question whether the other parts of the Empire would allow any one part to secede. Some foreign nations might be only too willing to recognize full sovereignty in the Dominions for the purpose of disintegrating the Empire.

Our next general meeting will be on Monday, October 20th, and this date will give the comrades who missed last meeting a chance to be on hand.

The lumber is all out of the rink and the handling of this work provided work for some of the comrades out of employment.

The executive committee will meet to-night (Thursday) at 7 p.m. to settle all accounts and business for the last month.

In November we are putting on another Legion social for members and their sweeties only. The last event was so well enjoyed that everyone is looking forward to November for the next of these pleasant socials.

I had a letter from one of our branches (Brockville) asking for a copy of The Advance as they noticed the honourable mention in The Duck-Board. Instead of sending one copy I sent several as I'm sure the copies of The Advance will be interesting to this branch. It looks as if we are setting the lead and others will follow.

The nominal roll is now in Toronto and it covered several pages of closely typed foolscap. I was sorry to put "Owing second, and third quarters" on for the members so honoured, but it had to be done. There were not many but there is no need to have any dues owing at all, except in very exceptional cases. Those owing the second and third quarters will have this month to pay up in, and after the 31st of October we will strike them from the roll of membership if the dues are not forthcoming by that time.

In conclusion I would ask all our members to get after the ex-soldiers who are not members of the Legion. The Legion has come to stay in the Porcupine and can do much good in the camp.

Here is one man who had sure faith in the Legion. He was out of work and could not get employment. He obtained a Legion button from somewhere and proudly displayed it in his coat lapel. Whether this had any effect or not he got a job. So the Legion button counts something. So all comrades watch your Legion button and do not let anyone else use it. It is the property of the Legion and is only issued to a bona-fide member of the Legion. Anyone else using a Legion button in this manner will only discredit the Legion. So every member hang on to his button, and see that no one else has the privilege to use it, as we want to hold our good name in the Porcupine. So in addition to watching your dues and your step, be sure to watch your button. —The Secretary-Treasurer

Al. Jolson in "Mammy" at Goldfields This Week

Al. Jolson's greatest picture, "Mammy," will be at the Goldfields theatre Friday and Saturday of this week, Oct. 10th and 11th.

Jolson made his first great success as a black faced singing comedian and it is in this happy choice of a medium that he is seen first in this new picture—a picture made for laughter—with the star at his uproarious best.

No one enjoyed the return to the old minstrel show background as much as Jolson himself, who at one time was a minstrel. He dug into his old bag of tricks and brought out the gags that used to get him the biggest laughs and the most applause. These he revamped and modernized and used with obvious relish.

"Mammy" is an adaptation of a play by Irving Berlin, and the songs and incidental music are also the product of the Tin Pan Alley genius. Jolson and Berlin have long been close personal friends but this is the first time they have collaborated on a show.

The exceptional cast includes Lowell Sherman, Louise Dresser, Lois Moran, Hobart Bosworth, Tully Marshall, Ray Cooke, Stanley Fields and Mitchell Lewis. Michael Curtiz directed. Many sequences of "Mammy" are in Technicolor.

In his three previous pictures tears predominated but there are few sighs in "Mammy" and many side-splitting laughs and whirlwind songs. Jolson who was himself a minstrel, is particularly happy in the minstrel show story.

There is a new "Mammy" song in this talkie.

CONDENSED MILK HAS MANY VERY SPECIAL ADVANTAGES

Do you ever have difficulty in getting a smoothness of texture in recipes that call for milk and sugar? Good recipes obtain wonderful flavour and consistency through the use of Eagle Brand Sweetened Condensed Milk. The milk and sugar are thoroughly combined (almost pre-cooked you might say) so that results are obtainable that could not be expected if you mixed the sugar and milk yourself. Having the milk and sugar already blended is a great advantage. Aside from saving sugar—and the trouble of mixing—there is the certainty of a finer flavour to the dish. The condensed milk combines quickly and easily with all other ingredients—binds them closer together—and gives the recipe a smoother texture. Another advantage of condensed milk is its conveniences. One can keep several cans on hand as it keeps perfectly, so there is no such thing as running short, but rather a certainty of pure, fresh milk whenever it is required.

Amherstburg Echo:—Without taking into consideration the tariff at all, it does seem strange that Canadians who profess a desire for their country to progress, continue to demand foreign made soups, so that local stores are compelled to keep their shelves loaded up with them; in the face of the fact that better soups are made in Canada; two of them right in Essex county, using Essex country products, grown by Essex farmers and employing Essex men. We know of no other place where the slogan, "Cultivate in your community a consciousness of Canada," is more applicable than right here in Amherstburg.
