

SOUTH PORCUPINE SCHOOL HOLDS FIELD DAY SPORTS

Winners of Events at Recent Field Day Held by the South Porcupine Continuation School. Many Excellent Showings Made in the Events.

South Porcupine, Ont., Oct. 8th, 1930. Special to The Advance. The South Porcupine Fire Department are making their usual preparations to give everybody a big time on Halloween at their masquerade ball. The teachers are all going up to Cochrane for their annual convention Thursday and Friday while the pupils are hoping for a continuance of the fine weather for their plans for their two days at home. Their friends here sympathize sincerely with Principal and Mrs. Clark in their anxiety about their daughter in Vancouver, who is very seriously ill. They went down as far as Swastika on Monday to see their daughter, Miss Dorothy, who was on her way out to her sister in Victoria from the Royal Victoria hospital at Montreal. Word has come to-day that the week-old infant has died but the doctors are holding better hopes for the mother's ultimate recovery. Among those from this vicinity on jury duty in Cochrane this week are: Messrs A. Ewing, J. Radcliffe, T. A. Strain, R. Stark, F. Dowzer, C. Brooks, F. Reynolds, E. Roy. An American-made baby Austin motor car created quite a stir of attention in town to-day, especially among the juveniles. The field day sports for the Continuation School were completed on Friday last when the remaining sports events on the list were eagerly contested. The result of both days are:—

FURTHER WORD HEARD FROM TRANS-CANADA MOTORIST

H. F. Needham on Trip Across Canada by Motor Car Recounts an Adventure With a Big Bear West of Hearst.

H. F. Needham, the Toronto motorist, who is at present on an auto trip across Canada by motor car and who for the past three or four weeks has been battling his way through the unbroken country west of Hearst, has been heard from again this week. The last word from Mr. Needham comes from Ameson which is some fifty miles or so west of Hearst. Needham is understood to have reached Ameson on Tuesday of this week. It seems to have taken him a long time to make the fifty miles from Hearst to Ameson, but it should be remembered that he has had to either cut down the bush or take a chance on getting stuck in the lower lying ground where the trees are not so plentiful. It would appear that the muskox has been chosen as preferable. That, perhaps, is why Needham has been delayed so often and so long by getting mired. Accompanying Needham on the trip is one of the best-known prospectors and explorers of the North Land, Gus McManus, of Hearst, a former mayor of that town and well-known as a pioneer in the North. Mr. McManus is generally credited with being the first prospector into the Red Lake area some years ago before the big rush. He knows the North Land very thoroughly and is an expert in the bush and on the trail. If Needham makes a success of the trip, there is little doubt that a large measure of the credit will be due to Gus McManus and his knowledge and skill. Reference was made in The Advance last week to Needham's car being mired in the muskox two or three times since leaving Hearst. Had he been able to choose his route through the heavily wooded section he would have found the going much easier and more rapid. As it is, however, he is not doing so badly and he believes he will yet make the trip across Canada within the time set. He has unfortunately encountered an unusual amount of rain since leaving Hearst. With four inches of rain in four days, as an example, it has naturally been heavy going, with ever-present dangers of being mired. According to the accounts from Ameson Needham is not at all discouraged. "If it should freeze," he writes in the message brought out by foresters, "we will be in Winnipeg on schedule time or before." Continuing the message says:—"I had my first tussle with a bear the other day. She was in the grub box. I went out to shoot her away. She refused to be shot and made a pass at me. Result—one dead bear, one torn coat and one scared man. "We are going to use the pelt for a radiator cover on cold nights." Other parts of the message from Needham are quoted as follows:—"The Nova Columbia successfully traversed another half mile through treacherous muskox to-day, the first progress since held up several days by rains. At times the car was riding on its crankcase. At any moment you would think the car would sink out of sight in the bog holes. They were laying 40 to 1 up here that the Nova Columbia would not come through, but I am proud to say I think it will. It took more punishment to-day than the average car takes in a lifetime. "It is 9 o'clock and McManus has got the grub ready. The menu tonight is fried duck, fried mushrooms, and cranberries, tea and jam. This is the first real meal we have had since we started. It has been one long dose of oatmeal, bacon and bannock."

THIEVES ROBBING THE GAS CACHES IN THE NORTH LAND

Ontario Air Service Suffering from Aggravating Form of Theft. Plans Being Made to Catch This Type of Thief.

Some time ago The Advance made reference to the trouble encountered by the Ontario Air Force in protecting the caches of gas and oil necessary to establish in various parts of the North for the use of the Forestry Service planes and other purposes. For a time this summer the thieving seemed to be checked but according to word from Toronto this week the practice seems to be started again. There are several individuals in Northern Ontario who are enjoying the use of large quantities of the best grade of gasoline free of charge. If Capt. Roy Maxwell or any of the provincial air service men get their hands on these individuals, they will enjoy the hospitality of the province free of charge for long periods. Gasoline thieves are infesting the lonely spaces of Northern Ontario where provincial air service planes are stationed. At various places large quantities of gasoline are cached for the use of airmen and it is from these depots that unethical dwellers of the north secure their gasoline gratis. Hundreds of gallons of valuable fuel have been stolen and no trace has been found of the thieves. Capt. Maxwell received a report from Quebec Harbour on Michipicoten Island which in his own language was "the last straw." "We built a strong log cabin near Quebec Harbour and placed several barrels of gasoline inside," said Capt. Maxwell. "We secured the door with the strongest lock we could find and decided that nobody was going to take this supply of gasoline." "It's rather funny when you come to think of it," he continued. "When our men visited the cabin the other day they found to their amazement that the roof of the cabin had been lifted off and the gasoline removed. The thieves apparently didn't bother trying to pick the lock on the door. They just went ahead and pried the roof off." Gasoline is a precious commodity in those sections where gasoline pumps are unknown. It is used for motor boats, lighting and heating, and many other purposes. The provincial airmen are not going to let these depredations continue if they can help it and plans have been made to catch the robbers. One of the schemes is to boil sawdust and molasses and mix the concoction with the gasoline and pray that gasoline thieves will make off with the booty and endeavour to use it. "And if this doesn't bring results, they will try something else," declared Capt. Maxwell, grimly.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL ON CHARGE OF THEFT OF CAR

Timmins Young Man Charged with Stealing Auto. South Porcupine Man Sentenced to Ten Days for Being Drunk in Charge of a Car.

At police court this week P. Labrache, who was charged with the theft of a motor car from the Berlin Motor Sales, and who was brought back from Kirkland Lake where he was found with the car, was committed for trial on the charge. He will come up before the judge on the charge. Three common drunks were charged ten dollars and costs each. As the result of a row at a Fourth avenue rooming house after a funeral, one man paid $100.00 and costs for illegally having liquor. Another man concerned in the disorder was charged $10.00 and costs for disorderly conduct. Two fines of $10.00 each were imposed for reckless driving. Nick Dolovic, on the charge of being drunk in charge of a car was sentenced to ten days in jail. On a charge of uttering a forged order for liquor a local taxi driver was discharged, the case being withdrawn. Charges of the theft of gravel and trespass preferred against a local business man by a settler near Timmins were remanded to next week. There were a number of cases in the Juvenile court, two of them being for failure to observe the court's order to report to the C.A.S. superintendent. The boys were warned to report regularly and the cases adjourned. Another lad charged with the theft of some rabbits was paroled for two months.

PRODUCED LARGE QUANTITY OF POTATOES HERE THIS YEAR

This year Chas. Pierce, one of the pioneer business men and lumber operators of this part of the North, tried an experiment which proved a good success in one way. He went into potato raising on shares, with the result that from the Wilson farm just across the river, already there have been some 900 bags of potatoes gathered and graded ready for market, while there may be a hundred or more bags yet gleaned from the season's work. The potatoes are of the Irish Cobbler variety and are unusually fine specimens. For quality it would be difficult to excel them and they have been harvested in the finest condition. On the other hand, Mr. Pierce says that the sale of the crop of potatoes has not been so easy. He points out that some of the local merchants and wholesalers are a little backward in giving local produce a fair show. They are inclined to pay as much for an outside article that is not so good as the local produce. However, Mr. Pierce has disposed of quantities of the fine potatoes grown, and is not worrying any about the balance, as most of them can be used this winter in his own lumber camps to the satisfaction of all "In any case," says Mr. Pierce, "I could not be saddled with the potatoes after having so good a success in the venture, for if I couldn't do anything else I could give them away." To prove that he was ready to give some of the potatoes away, Mr. Pierce had a bag of the Irish Cobblers delivered at the Children's Aid Shelter, Timmins, where they were much appreciated, and where this standard of quality in potatoes will not last very long. J. D. Brady, of the London Life Insurance Co., Timmins, was a delegate to the conventions of representatives of the company held at Bigwin Inn and Toronto recently. Miss Evelyn Anderson, of the Timmins office staff of the London Life Co., was also a delegate to the conventions.

ATTACKS S. A. GOVERNMENT

JAN CHRISTIAN SMUTS
Famous South African statesman and present leader of the official Opposition, is at present conducting a vigorous campaign throughout the Union against what he terms "the Government's lack of leadership during this severe depression."

The doctor, according to police, is alleged to have performed an illegal operation on the girl at the home of Mrs. Doyle, in Sault Ste. Marie, about a week ago. Discovery of the body followed the arrest of the three.
