WELL-KNOWN NORTH LAND COUPLE MARRIED 59 YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boyle, of Cobalt, Observe Unusual Anniversary, Both Bride and Groom Come of Long-Lived Families.

On Thursday of last week Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boyle, of Cobalt, celebrated the 59th anniversary of their marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Boyle were among the pioneers of the North and enjoy the esteem of all who know them. Several of their sons and daughters were residents of the Porcupine, being among the pioneers here. Messrs James and Hugh Boyle resided for many years at South Porcupine and took prominent and helpful part in public affairs. A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boyle, Mrs. M. A. Ellis was among the early residents of Timmins, and will long be remembered for her able and active patriotic work during the great war, the D.Y.B. Club which she organized and sponsored doing an unusual amount of helpful service and setting an example to other organizations as to the amount of useful activity there could be carried on for the helping of the country and the cause at the time. Another daughter, Mrs. W. Armitage, was for many years an esteemed resident of Timmins, only recently moving to Midland with her husband and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Boyle have resided in Cobalt since the spring of 1907. They both are members of Renfrew County families, so many of whom have given such valuable assistance in the upbuilding of the North. They were married by the late Rev. Mr. Nesbitt, rector of Holy Trinity Anglican Church, Pembroke, in that edifice, on November 6, 1871.

Their bridesmaid and groomsmen of 59 years ago, are still living. The former, Mrs. George Davis, a sister of Mr. Boyle, makes her home with a daughter in Hastings County, and the best man, William McAuley, one of four brothers of the bride, lives on the old homestead in Alice Township, six miles from Pembroke. Both Mr. and Mrs. Boyle are enjoying good health.

Before her marriage, Mrs. Boyle was Miss Margaret McAuley, daughter of the late John McAuley and Mary McCaughan, who settled in Alice Township on arriving in Canada from Ulster, of which part of Ireland both were natives. The family is a long-lived one, and today Mrs. Boyle's four brothers and herself, are living. Their total ages reach to 483 years, and their mother attained the age of 98.

Mr. Boyle also comes of Irish stock. His father, Henry Boyle, was born in Bandon, County Cork, and his mother, Catherine Cealy, was a native of County Wexford. Since their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Boyle have lived at different times in Pembroke, Copper Cliff, Warren, Cache Bay, Sault Ste. Marie and Cobalt. Nine of their family are living, three sons, William in Neudorf, Sask., James, of Toronto, but at present with the Howey Mine, in Red Lake, and Hugh, of North Bay; and six daughters Mrs. Alex Lafave and Mrs. James Hood, in Kenaston, Sask.; Mrs. Walter Armitage Midland; Mrs. M. A. Ellis, North Bay, and Mrs. Frank Lendrum and Miss Henrietta, in Cobalt. Mr. Boyle has passed his 80th birthday and his wife is in her 76th year.

Farmer Shoots Youths at Hallowe'en Pranks

The Halleyburian last week says:—Two Moore's Cove youths, who were members of a band of about eight, out celebrating Hallowe'en in the time-honoured way, ran into trouble when they visited the home of A. Busson, a farmer in the neighbourhood. Mr. Busson caught the gang in the act of attempting to set up an outhouse on the farm, and in his rage fired two shots from a shotgun, the pellets reaching two of the jokers, named Greer and Provost. One of the youths had several grains of shot in his leg, while the other received a few in his head. Neither was badly wounded, but the whole gang was badly scared from all accounts. The injured youths reported the shooting to the police, who are investigating. Whether any proceedings will be taken against the farmer had not been decided this week. The damage to property in the neighbourhood on the big night was not much more serious than is usual. Every year a number of the boys and young men get together, as they do in almost all communities, and commit some depredations at the homes of the neighbours, considerable of which consist of innocent fun, but occasionally more serious damages are reported. The two youths who received the leaden pellets will probably be more respectful of other people's property in the future.

Disease Killing Horses Said to be Swamp Fever

References have been made in The Advance on several occasions to the peculiar disease attacking horses in this North Land Settlers have been heavy losers through this mysterious disease. Last week The Advance mentioned the fact that Dr. Schofield, of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, had been sent up to the North to conduct an investigation into the disease. It is a very serious matter for the settlers, the farmers around Brower, for instance, losing as much as a carload of horses a year from this cause. It is estimated that as much as fifteen carloads of horses have been lost a year for two or three years past in this part of the North. The situation was considered a very serious one and there was general commendation for the Ontario Government in sending an expert here to study the situation and to do anything possible to remedy it. Veterinarians in the North were not agreed on the diagnosis of the disease and there was apparently little they were able to do when a horse was attacked. The disease was called alkise fever by many because it was believed to be due to some weed in the alkise. Others thought it was due to some form of parasite attacking the stomach and intestines. Still others believed it to be swamp fever. Dr. Schofield, after a very careful consideration and investigation, has announced his diagnosis of the disease as swamp fever. In giving the information to D. J. Pommerleau, district representative of agriculture for Cochrane district, Dr. Schofield says that he attributes the condition to swamp fever. Blood samples and post mortems led to this finding. Now that the disease has been definitely diagnosed the fighting of its inroads will be much easier. It is understood that the Ontario Department of Agriculture is taking special interest in the matter and will give every possible help to the settlers during the coming year in fighting this disease. In this connection The Advance would like to call attention once more to the good services given the settlers by D. J. Pommerleau, the district representative of agriculture. In this matter of the disease of horses, as in every other question touching the welfare of the farmers and settlers, he has given an interest, effort and ability that should be recognized. In this good work it should also be noted he has received the fullest support from the Dominion Experimental Farm at Kapuskasing.

St. Thomas Times-Journal.—There is a strange urge among some people that whenever they see a rare bird or animal they must take a gun and shoot it. They never dream of sparing the lives of these creatures and so giving them a chance to increase their kind and add to the interest and beauty of our wild life.

THE TOBACCO WITH A HEART

In the country whose heart is gold

The men who make the mines of Canada produce—hardy, outdoor men they are!—prefer the smokes that to Canadians are as necessary as the soil that bears the gold.

Mostly, they smoke a pipe, or roll their own—with MACDONALD'S BRIER and MACDONALD'S Fine Cut Tobaccos.

These shrewd men know well what they want—as they have known it since mining and MACDONALD'S both began.
