

While a broadcaster was telling people a week or so ago over the radio that the new theatre at Sudbury was being equipped with a special place for patrons to park their dog teams and snowshoes while they attended the show, one Sudbury lady plucked white lilacs blossoming in her garden and another noted strawberry plants in blossom in the surrounding country.

TEMPERATURE IN NORTH NOT LOW ENOUGH TO TEST OIL

Representatives of a lubricating oil firm in New York arrived in Cochrane last week to test out their new form of oil under "extremely low temperature." Not finding any low temperature (to say nothing of extremes in this regard) and on the contrary, encountering beautiful mild autumn days, the oil expert left the North Land in disgust. It is hard to know just what to do to please southern visitors in the matter of weather in the North and other things. Perhaps, President Wright of the Associated Boards might be able to arrange a conference about it.

INTERESTING CARPET BALL GAME AT THE I.O.O.F. HALL

The regular weekly meeting of the Oddfellows was held in the Oddfellows' hall, Spruce street, on Friday evening, Nov. 21st. After the regular business was dealt with, there was a very interesting game of carpet ball between the "Spots" and the "Stripes," the latter winning by two points. The rest of the brothers enjoyed a very nice evening at cards.

North Bay Nugget:—There is a move on foot to establish a chain of moderate-priced hotels to take care of the tourists. Quebec is leading the way in this movement, which sounds decidedly sensible.

Mrs. O'Leary and small child left Monday to sail for Scotland, where she will spend the winter.

The taking out of the rock on Fourth avenue, under the direction of Mr. George Henderson, is going to be an improvement. The need of a through street has long been felt by the residents on that part of the hill.

Miss M. Olton, R.N., of St. Catherine's, is visiting her parents and sister in town, Mr. and Mrs. Olton, and Mrs. Cripps.

Born—November 20th, to Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Hanuiah, 66 First avenue—a daughter (Mildred Genevieve).

Master Stirling Hayward entertained a number of his playmates on Wednesday November 19th, from six till eight on the occasion of his eighth birthday.

Games and contests were enjoyed until supper was served, which delighted all the little guests. The cake with its eight candles, and eight guests, made a real eight-year-old party, and as each child left for home they received a favour of a novelty box of crackers.

Mrs. T. Langley, second avenue, underwent a successful operation on her eyes last week in St. Mary's hospital, Timmins.

Mrs. N. Robertson, of Brownrigg, was a visitor at the home of Mrs. P. Cameron, First avenue.

Born—November 24th, to Mr. and Mrs. Allen Napier, Railroad street—a daughter.

Nominations last Friday at South Porcupine for reeve and council resulted in Mr. Chas. Gallagher being re-elected reeve by acclamation. The councillors nominated and qualified from Schumacher were Mr. J. A. Hawkins, station agent; Mr. D. Kerr, postmaster; Mr. J. E. Williams, real estate, on the present council. The new candidates in the field are:—Mr. W. R. Sullivan, merchant; Mr. S. O'Hara, foreman, and Mr. F. Dwyer, foreman, of Schumacher while South Porcupine also has a new candidate (Mr. Fairhurst) in the field, as well as the present councillors, F. Laforest, South End. The election is on Monday, Dec. 1st.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the United Church are holding a tea and sale of home cooking from 3 to 6 on November 29th in the basement of the church. In connection with it there will be a sale of the goods left from the bazaar. Those who are interested in church affairs should come and help make this a success.

BROKE INTO SCHUMACHER STORE, GIVEN TWO MONTHS

A young fellow named William Turner, seventeen years of age, was sentenced to two months in jail at police court last week for breaking into a hardware store at Schumacher and stealing goods therefrom. The good work of the police traced the authors of the robbery of the store, and resulted in the apprehension of Turner and a boy of about 12 years of age. The two broke into the store on Sunday evening, Nov. 18th, and stole shells, flashlights, and other small articles. They secured nothing of any particular value. When the police first traced the offenders it was thought that it might be a case for the Juvenile Court and A. G. Carson, of the District Children's Aid, was notified. It developed, however, that Turner was seventeen, and so over the age for the Juvenile Court. The smaller lad was in Juvenile Court and is now on probation. The youth of the chief offender was no doubt responsible for the lightness of the sentence for so serious a crime, and it is likely that with this warning further offences of the same kind will be dealt with more severely. Parents and others concerned should take warning from the incident and make particular effort to see that their boys and young men are not drifting into wrong ways. Constable Fulton's comment in one case where reference was made to the regret felt that a boy of twelve should be mixed up in such a case is illuminating. "If the curfew bell law were watched by parents like it should be, the youngsters would be home safe and in no trouble at the hours affairs like this happen," was his suggestion. All parents would do well to take the suggestion to heart. They will be doing a favour to their own youngsters, as well as to the community by keeping account always of where the boys may be at nights.

It doesn't look as if the Cobalt camp was anything like through yet, does it? An Eaton grocereria is being opened at Cobalt in the store formerly occupied by McDermott & Sullivan's ladies' wear store.
