WHY SUFFER FROM YOUR LIVER?

Why be handicapped with unsightly blotches on the face, eyes with yellow tinge and that tired and languid feeling? This indicates a torpid liver. Headache, Dizziness and Biliousness surely follow. You must stimulate your lazy liver, start the bile flowing with Carter's Little Liver Pills. They also act as a mild laxative, purely vegetable, free from calomel and poisonous drugs, small, easy to swallow, and not habit forming. They are not a purgative that cramps or pains, unpleasant after effect following, on the contrary a good tonic. All Druggists 25c and 75c red pkgs.

WEATHER DOES NOT STOP KIRKLAND LAKE MARKET

When the question of continuing the market in Timmins all the year round was before the town council last week reference was made to the success of the Kirkland Lake market. On this account there will be special interest here in the following paragraph from the last issue of The Northern News:—"The Kirkland Lake market has not diminished much as yet with every stall filled on Friday last and numerous other stands in the centre of the large arena. It has not been definitely decided where the winter market will be once the rink management decide the time is ready to make ice and it is possible there may be none owing to the lack of a suitable building."

Third Annual Report on Co-operative Associations

There had just been published by the Department of Labour the third annual report on Co-operative Associations in Canada, a volume in which, it is understood, the department has included every known co-operative society in the Dominion, the total number being 1,095, with a combined membership of 690,685. Appearing first in the report is the name of the Co-operative Union of Canada, whose aim is to federate co-operative societies for mutual advantage and to propagate a knowledge of co-operative principles. The remaining associations are grouped provincially according to the phase of co-operative endeavour with which they are identified, as follows: (1) Productive, with 73 associations and a combined membership of 57,502; (2) Marketing, 345 associations and 506,922 members; (3) Productive and Marketing, 35 associations and 42,463 members; (4) Miscellaneous, 260 associations and 23,577 members. In the productive group the largest association is the Saskatchewan Co-operative Creameries, which has a membership of 37,000. First in the marketing group is the Canadian Co-operative Wheat Producers, with a membership of 140,000, comprised in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and Ontario Wheat Pools, and is the largest wheat marketing organization in the world. The Central Alberta Dairy Producers' Association is the largest in the productive and marketing group, having 1,800 members, and in the distributive group the British Canadian Co-operative Society, a Nova Scotia body, with 3,494 members, stands first. Of the associations in the marketing and distributive section the United Farmers' Co-operative Company, an Ontario organization, has the largest following, reporting 20,000 members. In the Credit and Savings group the Co-operative People's Banks of the Province of Quebec show a membership of 41,000 comprised in 215 local co-operative banks. The bulk of the associations included in the miscellaneous group are operating in the Province of Saskatchewan, where there are 183 societies which cannot be definitely classified, the remaining 77 associations being divided between seven other provinces. In a summary of business transactions which reported, showing (1) paid up capital, (2) assets, (3) sales for the year 1929, (4) general liabilities, (5) profit or surplus, (6) loss, (7) reserve, and (8) profits.

Under the heading of co-operative associations in the report the Workers' Co-operative of Northern Ontario, is listed under the sub-heading, Productive, Marketing, Distributive, the head office being given as Timmins, and the officers as M. Sivula, Timmins, president, and M. D. Thachuk, Timmins, secretary.

Under the heading, "Marketing," is listed the Matheson Co-operative Dairy Company, Limited, organized 1924; number of members, 148; President, Thos. Waldren, Matheson; secretary, Robt. Rasterp, Matheson.

ONCE MORE AGAIN, A-S-O, AND MOREOVER AS WELL

Again it appears necessary to call attention to the fact that the rules in any well regulated newspaper office make it absolutely essential that all communications be signed, not necessarily for publication but as an evidence of good faith. Last week The Advance received a couple of news items that seemed all right but could have been used had the writers signed their names. As this was neglected the items had to go without due notice. Some people seem to feel that this rule is a stupid or unnecessary one or they would not persist in sending in unsigned items the way they do despite the number of times attention has been called to the matter. Newspapers know to their sorrow and cost how essential it is that even the most innocent item be sponsored by some reliable name. A couple of samples may prove this, and any newspaper could recall a hundred more. An item was received on one occasion telling of the birth of twins to an estimable lady of the town. The article was unsigned and so reached no farther than the waste paper basket. There was not even a half truth about the story, and had the item been published the newspaper would have had a lot of explaining to do with little excuse likely to be considered. The law provides penalty for the supplying of false information to a newspaper and as handwriting is comparatively easy to trace the signed items seldom cause difficulty. Another item received by a local newspaper told of a man visiting a neighbouring town. The item was not signed, and though it did appear absolutely innocent, as a matter of fact it was later discovered by accident to contain a libel that would have caused very serious trouble if published. The rule saved difficulty in this case, and experience has proved the rule to be essential. No newspaper can afford to disregard the rule that the origin of articles must be known. It is in reality more in the interests of the public than for the advantage of the press. It is difficult to understand why some people seem to be determined to neglect this rule, when there is no earthly reason why they should. It is a simple matter to sign your name; the newspaper thanks you for it; and no one else knows anything about it. But in any case it is as well to remember that unsigned items have no standing in any newspaper office, and, no matter how unnecessary it may seem, the newspapers will refuse to put the items whose origin is not known any place but in the waste paper basket.

Wood-Pile Proves Good Way for "Sorting 'em Out"

Some weeks ago The Advance had reference to a proposal to have a quantity of wood on the town property behind the municipal building so that occupation could be given to transients asking for meals and bed here. The Advance maintained that deserving fellows in hard luck for the moment would be delighted at the opportunity to earn their way by honest work. The other kind would deserve little consideration. There is no reason why the town of Timmins should be expected to supply beds or meals to transients, except the ordinary promptings of humanitarian feelings. These feelings should not be prompted for the advantage of those who are too lazy to do a little for themselves. The Advance believes the municipal wood-pile would be well worth while simply for the way it would show up the undeserving and prove the ones that are worthy of attention. The men who are good fellows will be delighted at the idea of doing something to earn their way, while the other kind will avoid the wood-pile and make tracks for elsewhere, which will be all to the good.

In last week's issue of The War Cry, Major Thompson, of the Montreal Salvation Army, gives an idea of the work being carried on in Montreal, and what he writes indicates the truth of the argument along this line advanced in recent weeks by The Advance.

"Montreal's Industrial Centre," he writes "is at the present time working at high pressure trying to advise and assist the hundreds of people seeking employment. The winter season approaching draws large crowds of single men seeking warm clothes. Our wood saws are kept going in the back yard with men sawing wood to escape being pauperized, in exchange for which work they receive meals or clothing. The Montreal Tramways Company has graciously given us permission to utilize some thousands of old telegraph poles, of which we hope to make good use during the coming winter, providing wood for the unemployed to saw."

"We get many types of men, some who do not mind work, others who will not work. Two men came to us last week, apparently hungry and in need of clothing. Both were sent to a job and after looking at the saw and the pile of wood, the man who put up the finest 'hard-luck' story, escaped through the back gate. One look was enough. The other fellow buckled in and saved wood enough to satisfy our foreman that he was sincere, and was given the necessary meal and overcoat. Before leaving, this man made himself known to us as a medical doctor who had fallen on hard times."

DEATH OF ELIJAH BAGSBY FORMERLY OF TIMMINS

Many in this district who knew Elijah Babsby, or "Lige" as he was known to his intimates, will regret to learn of his death at Kirkland Lake on Sunday of last week. In referring to his death The Northern News last week says:—
After being seriously ill for only a few days, Elijah Babsby was found dead in his small shack near the corner of Goodfish road and McCamus avenue, about ten o'clock Sunday morning. After an investigation Coroner Armstrong decided an inquest was unnecessary. The remains were interred in Kirkland Lake cemetery on Tuesday morning, following a short funeral service conducted by Rev. A. Gillies at the morgue. A number of floral tributes from local friends covered the bier. Deceased was a well-known character in town and throughout Northern Ontario where he had many friends. Though failing in health for the past year with liver and kidney trouble, he worked until the preceding Wednesday at his job of street cleaner. In all his employment for the municipality, he was a conscientious worker and never gave cause for complaint. In his last illness he was kindly looked after by neighbors, one of whom, Jack Manion, was in Saturday evening and found him feeling fairly well. In the morning when J. Gignac visited the shack, the lifeless body was found in a chair. "Lige" was born over 64 years ago in Independence, Kansas, spending his youth there and in Hannibal, Mo. After a colourful career in the western states, he came to Northern Ontario in 1904 and worked on the bridge gang on the T. & N. O. railway. He has been employed at various times in Timmins and Cobalt before coming to Kirkland Lake some years ago. He had no relatives living as far as is known.

Huntingdon Gleaner:—All sorts of things happened after Ardys Crawford got a henna rinse at Los Angeles. Her hair turned gray, changed to purple became white and finally dropped out, the movie actress charged in a $29,685 damage suit filed in Superior Court against Morris Poland and Barnett Rosenthal, proprietors of a Hollywood beauty shop.

Timmins Young Man Has Further Term Imposed

Despatches from Halleybury last week say that a sequel to the recent theft of an automobile from a Timmins dealer was heard in court at Halleybury when Percy Labrash, the 19-year-old Timmins youth already serving a jail term of one year for stealing the car, was given 15 months in the Ontario Reformatory, the sentence to date from November 26, when he pleaded guilty before Judge Hartman to a charge of breaking and entering a house in Benoit township, near Bourkes.

M. G. Hunt, appearing for accused, pleaded for suspended sentence for his client in view of the sentence already passed on him at Cochrane, but Crown Attorney F. J. Smiley, K.C., contended the charge here represented the more serious offence, and his Honour thought an additional three or four months in prison was necessary. The judge pointed out that Labrash faced a serious charge.

No evidence was given in the case, but the story was outlined partly by Mr. Hunt and Mr. Smiley, and partly by Constable V. McLelland, of the provincial force. The lawyer said that Labrash, accompanied a girl two or three his junior, had left Timmins in the stolen car, headed for Kirkland Lake. On the journey they had stopped at a padlocked shack along the roadside, which they had entered by breaking the screen over one of the windows and prying open the window. Inside, they had something to eat and, before leaving, Labrash had possessed himself of a large revolver he had found in the building. Proceeding south, the couple had reached Kirkland Lake, where they ran out of gas and were picked up by Constable McLelland, who found the gun, unloaded, in a pocket in the car. The date was September 16 last, and a month ago Labrash, after getting preliminary hearing on both charges, appeared before Judge Caron, at Cochrane, and was given one year for theft of the car. The other charge, having been laid in Temiskaming, was disposed at Halleybury.

RARE BRIDGE HANDS DEALT IN KIRKLAND LAKE GAMES

Those who are interested in bridge, and from the number of bridge parties there must be quite a number—will be interested to read the following paragraph from The Northern News last week. The Kirkland Lake paper says:—"Never-to-be-forgotten bridge hands were dealt out to two men in one evening at the N. A. Club on Monday when a complete suite was given to each. Dr. Smith was the first lucky one when he received a hand of thirteen clubs and won his bid of five. An hour or so later, thirteen diamonds were dealt to Jack Brynes, who bid five, was doubled and redoubling, he won out with a total of 946 points. The frequency which one of these hands occurs is said to be once in a "blue moon."
